EXPLANATION.

1. The prices quoted in this List are retail prices. Introduction and exchange prices will be given on application.

2. Any book in this List intended for class use will be sent for examination with a view to introduction, postpaid, on receipt of the retail price. However, the amount paid for this copy will be returned on receipt of a subsequent order for any reasonable number of books of like character. Books not intended for class use cannot be sent with the examination privilege.

3. Teachers applying for specimen copies for examination should give the names of their schools, subjects taught by them, and the number of pupils in the class.

4. In ordering—

(1) Give full and exact title of books as furnished in this List.

(2) Give your full address, including postoffice, county and State; also, official school position, if any.

(3) Be sure to indicate whether the books are to be sent by mail, express, or freight. If you live at a distance from a railroad give your postoffice and the name of your railway or express station.

(4) Remit by Draft, Postoffice Money Order, Express Money Order, or Registered Letter.

(5) Don't put off your order until the last moment. We endeavor to fill all orders the day in which they are received, but when the schools are opening the pressure of business is so great that it is not always possible to follow this rule.

5. Dealers who desire to open an account should apply for terms and give references.

GRADED CLASSICS

By F. T. Norvell
and M. W. Haliburton

THE remarkable popularity of this series (nearly half a million copies were sold last season in the State of Texas alone), seems to be due to the fact that it teaches the child to read in a way that develops in him a love for reading. Everything is made to bend to this end. It is for this reason that the First Reader has been made the easiest of all the readers that have been made. In its 143 pages of reading one will find but 493 different words. In no other book, we believe, will be found so few words doing service over so great a space. Moreover, all this space is filled with genuine reading matter. There is no padding.

The book was built in full view of the school-room. Every sentence was tested in the light of experience. All the features of the "word" and so-called "sentence" methods that have been retained have been retained because they have proved themselves worthy to live. It is a survival of the fittest. These features are supplemented by careful phonic drills. Notice these drills: you will see no diacritics. Notice them again: they are not the words which the pupil has already learned; they are words which he will soon have use for in his reading.

The action sentences and their arrangement are especially pleasing. These sentences wonderfully quicken the child's interest in reading, and wonderfully aid him in grasping the thought of what he is reading.

All the selections are within easy grasp of the child-mind. This does not mean simply that the words are within the child's range, but that the ideas are within his range also. The authors have remembered what so many makers of readers have forgotten, that a story may be written in words of one syllable and yet be utterly incomprehensible to a child.

The book is rapidly progressive. At first glance one will be apt to say that it moves too rapidly. A well-known educator, on picking up the book for the first time, turned at once to the pages in the back of the book, and after a moment said: "This will not do. A child is not ready to read such stories at the end of a First Reader." Then he turned back to the beginning and went through it page by page. "It's wonderful!" he exclaimed at the end. "It shall go into my schools." And it went. He found that the grading is so perfect that when the child gets to the stories he is ready for them: he already knows the words that are used in them.

All through the book everything that is placed before the child is of the sort that arouses interest. He gets pleasure out of every word. There is nowhere a meaningless sentence. If there are repetitions there are no vain repetitions. Yet, while every sentence means something, there are no informational lessons. There is no nature work, for instance. It is better to talk to a child about nature than to have him read about it, especially in the first grade; besides, the child should learn to read, not read to learn.

The pictures—of which there are many beautiful ones in colors as well as in black and white—admirably serve the two-fold purpose of illuminating the text and awakening an interest in art. The teacher will be particularly pleased with the plan of illustrating the text very freely in Part I, and less freely in Part II. This plan not only gives more room for reading matter in the latter part of the book, but it throws the child more and more on his own resources as he goes along. It is refreshing to see that the illustrations are not allowed to break up the text to the confusion of the child. The editor rather than the printer has had his way, and clearness is not sacrificed to the mysteries of mechanical make-up.

The Second Reader is composed entirely of classics. There is no made-to-order nature talk, but what is far better, there are opportunities along the way for talks about nature from the teacher himself. It is not a book of botany or zoology; it is a book of literature; and nature talks, such as disfigure many readers, are not literature.

The grading in this reader is as accurate as in the first book. No lesson contains more than eight new words. The 493 words used in the First Reader are placed in the beginning of the Second, thus giving the teacher an opportunity to review the First before entering upon the Second.

It delights the eye all the way through this book to see nothing but literature. That thread-bare bore, "Use these words in sentences," does not show his face at every turn. One will notice a gradual change in the character of the stories as one turns the pages. At the beginning they are imaginative; farther on they grow more probable and true. There is, too, a happy grouping of related subjects. It is a pleasure when you have read "The Bow That Bridges Heaven" to find "The Rainbow" and "The Story of Iris, the Rainbow Queen," immediately following. The child's interest reaches its height in the thirty-five or forty pages at the end which tell of child-life among the different races. There is a description of the child-life of a race and then one or two favorite stories of the children of that race.

One closes the book thinking of the remarkable richness and variety of the feast it spreads. There are selections from the French, German, Norse, Japanese, Hiawaiian, Old English, Norwegian, Indian, and one knows not how many more.

The Third Reader has 695 new words and fifteen prose and fifteen poetical selections. The accurate grading of the first two books is continued in this Reader. No lesson contains more than ten new words, the average being eight.

The subject matter has been chosen with unusual care. Every selection is classical, and every selection is of absorbing interest to the children. Child-life is the prevailing keynote. While nature-study lessons as such have been excluded, it will be found that a great deal of the subject matter opens up a tempting path to nature work.

The child who studies this Reader will hardly realize that it is a textbook. Seat work, such exercises as "Use these words in sentences," quotations incomprehensible to the child-mind, definitions, and all such useless padding, have been omitted; and even the lists of new words have been relegated to the back of the book.

In the choice of illustrations the authors have shown an intimate knowledge of child-nature. Every picture in the book appeals to the child's sense of art and quickens his interest. Especially valuable are the marginal illustrations which happily take the place of the bewildering definitions which usually accompany the unfamiliar words of the text.

As for the Fourth and Fifth Readers—well, we do not believe that there is anything—in Readers—more thoroughly satisfying than these golden sheaves of complete, exquisitely illustrated stories gathered from the whole field of classical literature. For the convenience of graded schools the Fifth Reader is also issued in parts, all of which are beautifully illustrated.

Miss MARY MOORE WELTON, for a number of years Principal of the Primary Department of the Ethical Culture Schools of New York, and one of the ablest Primary Teachers in America, in a letter to Miss M. W. Haliburton, one of the authors of "Graded Classics," says: "It is altogether the most satisfactory set of Readers I know. In my opinion you have the right conception of Phonics, both as to the method of teaching it and as to its proper subordination to the thought side of the work. While I differ from you in a few details, I consider that you have met the most serious requirements of a set of Readers—that of giving the children 'literature' from the beginning. You have also succeeded in giving them much fresh material, which adds to the attractiveness of the books. I most heartily commend the whole series."

Dr. J. H. ORCUTT, Principal Central Oregon State Normal School: "The First Reader is a natural method for teaching or learning to read. This is the first text I have seen that puts into execution the action—the natural law of child-life. It is well graded, carefully selected matter being used, and appeals to child-life from start to finish. The phonic element in reading is rightly and gradually introduced. The Second Reader is a continuance of the First, growing stronger as the pupil advances in strength. The review of the words found in its predecessor is an admirable feature. The Third Reader is the Second Reader grown older, larger, and correspondingly stronger. The selections are such as to appeal to the interest of the pupil, leading him unconsciously 'to read to learn,' as well as 'to learn to read.' The Fourth Reader is a peer among school readers—a book without a superior, so far as I am acquainted. The mechanical execution is an illustration of art in book-making."

President E. C. BRANSON, State Normal School, Athens, Ga.: "I congratulate you heartily upon your Graded Classics; these books, it seems to me, are bound to make their way into the schools."

ROSE LEES HARDY, Practice Teacher, Washington Normal School, Washington, D. C.: "I am delighted with Graded Classics. The second book is full of stories children love. The vocabulary of the First Reader consists of simple words that come naturally in a child's vocabulary, and I am surprised at the amount of good reading with so few words. It seems to me the result of practical work in the school-room."

Miss MAY ANDREWS, Principal Model Training School, State Normal College, Florence, Ala.: "Since giving Graded Classics a thorough trial in the Model School classes, I wish to say that they have proved satisfactory in every respect. The selections are from the best literature for children, the illustrations are both attractive and helpful, and the grading is accurate. The children, without exception, prefer Graded Classics to any readers they have used, and my only objection to them is that the children do not seem satisfied with any other readers after having Graded Classics."

Dr. C. ALPHONSO SMITH, Chair of English, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill: "The First Reader, 'Graded Classics,' seems to me admirably adapted to its purpose. It is beautifully made up and the contents are chosen with rare taste and with tactful understanding of what will delight and stimulate the child."

LORETTA SMITH, Principal Model School, Monmouth, Oregon: "I am delighted with them. The class of literature; the one-line sentence; the size of print; the gradations of the lessons, and the coloring of the pictures, are all very commendable features. In fact, the best I have seen. Also, the lists of words, or the attained vocabulary, is a very excellent feature in the arrangement of the books."

JOURNAL OF EDUCATION, Boston: "These 'Graded Classics' are so admirably written and so beautifully made as to challenge comparison with any books made in the North. There is no reason why such books as these should not be used in Boston or Chicago as well as in Charleston and New Orleans. Classics are classics, wherever and whenever reproduced, but there is a choice in the selection and grading of them, and in these particulars these books are as good as any in the market. There is also a difference—a wide difference—in the illustration of classics, and in this regard these books are admirable. The pictures, large and small, in black and in color, are ideally adapted to the classics themselves."

Cloth, Fully Illustrated in Colors and Black. Graded Classics No. 1, 30c.; Graded Classics No. 2, 35c.; Graded Classics No. 3, 40c.; Graded Classics No. 4, 45c.; Graded Classics No. 5, 50c.

For the convenience of Graded Schools the Fifth Reader is also issued in parts, as follows:

Fifth Grade—King of the Golden River, Ruskin (paper), ready, 10c.; Dog of Flanders, De la Ramee (paper), ready, 10c.; William Wallace and Robert Bruce, Scott (paper), in preparation, 10c.; Discovery of America, Irving (paper), in preparation, 10c.

Sixth Grade—Gold Bug, Poe (paper), in preparation, 10c.; Rip Van Winkle and Legend of Sleepy Hollow, Irving (paper), in preparation, 10c.

Others to be announced.

THE JOHNSON READERS

Revised by E. C. Branson

THE question to ask of a series of Readers is not whether it is graded in the best manner, but whether it contains the best literature graded in the best manner.

The Johnson Readers contain the best literature. There isn't a trashy lesson in these Readers. There isn't a line to awaken a vile appetite. There isn't a hint of the impure and vicious. There is no belittling of anything that is noble. There is nothing sacrilegious or untruthful in them. There is no pretty writing of doubtful tendencies. There is nothing but the best in them.

The Johnson Readers are well graded. There are no ditches to jump. There are no lessons "too hard," followed by lessons "too easy." Lessons of the same grade are not piled one on the other to call a halt. From start to finish the way is smooth and easy.

JOHN S. DERRICK, Lexington, S. C.: "As County Superintendent of Education, Lexington county, S. C., I have visited about fifty schools in the county since the Johnson Readers have been adopted by the State Board of Education. It affords me pleasure to say that those seen are unanimous in their praise."

OSWALD GARRETT, Superintendent Schools, East Bernard, Tex.: "I have been making some comparative studies. The Johnson Readers give me some things that I have long needed, but have been unable to get in other books. Especially do I like the word list, definitions, the seat work, the script and character of the selections."

Cloth, fully illustrated. First Reader, 102 pages; price, Boards, 16c.; Cloth, 20c. Second Reader, 150 pages; price, Boards, 25c.; Cloth, 30c. Third Reader, 192 pages; Cloth, price, 35c. Fourth Reader, 317 pages; Cloth, price, 45c.; Fifth Reader, 387 pages; Cloth, price, 60c.

MOSES' PRIMER

By Edward P. Moses

THE remarkable results obtained in teaching children to read by what is known as the "Moses method" have created a demand for a primer by the author of this method—Superintendent E. P. Moses, of the Raleigh (N. C.) schools. The purpose of this primer is to afford an introduction to the forms of about three hundred words with whose meaning children of the primer age are already familiar. As the author says in his preface: "The main work of the teacher of the primary school, during the first school year at least, should be to teach the symbols for what the children have been acquiring during the four years preceding their entrance into the school."

Boards, Price 15 cents.

JOHNSON'S PRIMER

By Mrs. H. H. Richardson

A BOOK of easy steps to Johnson's First Reader. Printed in colors. Makes easy the transition from print to script. Contains a progressive series of elementary drawing lessons. Each lesson ends with a writing exercise in which both vertical and slant forms are used. Each lesson contains a memory gem especially adapted to children of the primer age.

Paper, 10c. Boards, 15c.

CARNEFIX PRIMER

By Frances D. Carnefix

THE Carnefix Primer begins at the beginning. The first lesson introduces a and no other word. A dozen a's and a dozen objects.

It is perfectly graded to the end. At the end of one lesson the child is ready for the next.

It is objective. Instead of a WORD, a PICTURE. A picture that suggests the word it represents, and no other.

It introduces only ninety words. The ninety words a child needs to know before he enters his First Reader.

There is a Phonic Chart at the end.

May be used either with or without the Carnefix Practical Sight-Word Reading Chart and Phonic Exercise.

Price, paper, 5 cents.

PRACTICAL SIGHT-WORD READING CHART AND PHONIC EXERCISE

By Frances D. Carnefix

THE Carnefix is a handsomely printed set of more than a hundred charts, substantially bound on a heavy roller. The lessons are printed in large, clear type, on soft, tinted paper chosen to relieve the eyes of any unpleasant strain. It contains ninety words for sight reading. The sentences and phrases are profusely illustrated with beautifully colored pictures, which instantly attract and delight the children The author has been especially happy in the arrangement of pictures in sentences and in the grading. It is simple, attractive, and thoroughly adapted to the needs of beginners. Two pages are devoted to phonic drills.

Price, $7.50; Edges securely bound with cloth, $12.50. Easel for the Chart, $1.25.

SUPPLEMENTARY READING.

STORIES OF BIRD LIFE

By T. Gilbert Pearson

"MY children," writes Dr. Egbert W. Smith, "are captivated with Mr. Pearson's book. I am not surprised. A more wholesome and fascinating volume for young and old I have rarely seen. It is as interesting as a novel and as instructive as a text-book. My only regret is that this book was not in my hands when I was a boy. It would have given fresh zest and profit to all my field and forest roamings. It would have deepened and made far more intelligent my love of nature in her varied forms. It would have immensely quickened my powers of observation. An ardent love of nature, that draws one from the haunts and lures of the city to the outdoor life of the woods and fields and streams, is not only a means of health and mental stimulant; it is a powerful moral safeguard. Such books as Mr. Pearson's constitute the very best kind of secular reading for the young. Parents can find few better Christmas gift books for their children. The style of the book is admirable. Clear and limpid as a mountain brook, it is brightened throughout with gleams of quiet humor that seem a reflection of nature's own sunshine. There are twenty chapters, all beautifully illustrated. It is hard to tell which is the best, all are so full of entertainment and instruction. The one on 'A Bobwhite Family' is certainly among the best. Weary wives ought to present the book to their husbands, with the corner of page 137 turned down and the following sentence underlined: 'Her mate fed her and at times even sat in the nest while the tired one went away to exercise.'

"My children were greatly struck with the chapter on 'A Pair of Eagles.' The famous chariot race in Ben Hur was a slow affair compared with the one in this chapter between the osprey and the great American eagle; for the eagle, Mr. Pearson tells us, can easily cover a distance of one hundred miles an hour.

"This statement of an eagle's speed of wing is a specimen of the many remarkable facts brought to light in this volume. The chapter on 'Robin Red Breast' has a most amusing account of the performances of a drunken robin intoxicated by eating china berries. Did you know, Mr. Editor, that in dry seasons, when robins cannot find readymade mud to daub their nests with, they have been known to carry water in their beaks to a road and there mix the mud for themselves? Did you know that into the pouch beneath the lower part of a brown pelican's bill the author once poured fifteen quarts of water, and it held them all? So surprising are some of the facts brought out in this book that if we did not know the writer to be like Brutus, an honorable man, and a professor in a great State institution, and an unquestioned authority on birds, we should suspect him of perpetrating a sly pun in the first word of the book's title.

"The work is handsomely bound in cloth with a richly decorated front cover. There are 236 pages with not a dry one among them."

J. M. GREENWOOD, Superintendent Schools, Kansas City, Mo.: "I read with delight 'Stories of Bird Life.' It is next in interest to Thompson-Seton's 'Wild Animals I Have Known.' It is better because not involving the element of the improbable. As a supplementary reader I would place it very high on the list."

ROBERT C. METCALF, Supervisor of Boston Public Schools: "We have placed it on our list of supplementary readers for the Boston Public Schools."

For the Fifth and Sixth Grades. Fully illustrated. Colored Frontispiece. Price, Cloth, 60c.; in five parts, Paper Covers, 10c. each.

SOME BIRDS AND THEIR WAYS

GRIMM'S FAIRY STORIES

Edited by M. W. Haliburton and P. P. Claxton

For the First Grade. Illustrated—Cloth, 144 pages; price, 25c.

FROM THE LAND OF STORIES

By P. P. Claxton

A delightful little volume of fairy tales translated and adapted from the German.

For the First and Second Grades. Boards, price, 15c.

STORY OF THE AGES

By Ida Brown

The Geological Formation of the World, Its Growth, etc.

For the Grammar Grades. Illustrated—Cloth, 108 pages; price, 35c.

NORTH CAROLINA HISTORY STORIES

By W. C. Allen

A SERIES of delightful sketches in simple language suitable for the Fourth and Fifth Reader grades. The stories begin with the landing of the first English people, and present the salient features of North Carolina's history from this point down through the Revolution. These sketches have a local flavor and coloring not to be found in a primary history. The inner life of the people is interwoven with their struggles for liberty.

There are forty-five stories in five books—nine to a book.

Cloth, price, 50c.; in five parts, Paper Covers, 10c. each.

TENNESSEE HISTORY STORIES

By T. C. Karns

IN the preparation of this book the aim has been to give to the children of Tennessee such an insight into the history of their State as will awaken in them a desire for more, and cultivate in them a taste for historical reading and research. As the author well says, no State has a history of more absorbing interest than Tennessee. "Her people were among the first pioneer settlers west of the Alleghanies. Her sons struck a decisive blow for American liberty at King's Mountain. She was one of the first three States added to the Union. Her early situation west of the mountains gave her a unique relation to the rest of the country. Moreover, she has always played a prominent part in the affairs of the nation, and her soldiers and statesmen have been among its leaders."

Designed for supplementary reading in the third and fourth grades.

Cloth. Illustrated. Price, 60c.

TEXAS HISTORY STORIES

By E. G. Littlejohn

WITHOUT attempting to present a connected narrative of events, the author has depicted the lives of the leading characters of the Lone Star State in a manner at once graphic and beautiful.

The salient features of the era of exploration are grouped about the adventurer, Cabeza de Vaca.

The incidents of the short day in which the "lilies of France" waved over the colony are made to live in the life of the chivalrous and courteous La Salle.

The Alamo, San Jacinto, and Goliad, and the heroic deeds which resulted in the establishment of the Republic, become part and parcel of the lives of Houston, Austin, and David Crockett; while the glorious part which Texas played under the "Stars and Bars" is immortalized with the name Dick Dowling.

J. E. BLAIR, Superintendent City Schools, Denison, Tex.: "My own boy, nine years of age, has devoured all of them with avidity. This is conclusive evidence to me that they are adapted to the work they are designed to do."

OSCAR H. COOPER, President Baylor University, Waco, Tex.: "I am charmed with their simplicity, clearness, and beauty of style. I congratulate you on the success of your effort to bring Texas history within reach of Texas children."

J. H. JENKINS, Principal Collin-Street School, Corsicana, Tex.: "We are using Texas History Stories in the Sixth grade, and find them to be excellent supplementary reading."

For the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth grades. Illustrated. Price—Cloth, 50c.; in five parts, Paper Covers, 10c. each.

SOLDIER LIFE IN THE ARMY OF NORTHERN VIRGINIA

By Carlton McCarthy

HISTORIANS deal with public men and public events. Carlton McCarthy deals with the private soldier in his everyday life. He tells what the historian has left untold, and it is the most interesting part of the story. There's nothing like it—nothing save the fireside talks with which our soldier boys once charmed our nights. And this is really what this book is—the fireside talks of one of the most charming of talkers. Few men can tell a war story so well.

None can better describe the minute details of a soldier's everyday life, for he was one of them, a boy private in that ragged band of heroes who followed Lee.

For the Fifth Grade. Illustrated. 225 pages; price, 50c.

LIFE OF GENERAL ROBERT E. LEE

By Mrs. M. L. Williamson

THE story of a beautiful life beautifully told. As Mrs. Williamson asks in her preface, "While teaching pupils to read, why not fix in their minds the names and deeds of our great men, thereby laying the foundation of historical knowledge and instilling true patriotism into their youthful souls?" And as she adds, "In looking over the lives of our American heroes we find not one which presents such a picture of moral grandeur as that of Lee. Place this picture before the little ones, and you cannot fail to make them look upward to noble ideals."

ART EDUCATION, New York: * * * "The life of no hero of arms in all the history of the world, perhaps, contains so many lessons of the purest, truest, noblest manhood as does the life history of General R. E. Lee, and every child, North or South, will become a better man or woman by studying Lee's character. * * Mrs. Williamson's little book is intensely interesting, and would be an excellent thing in the hands of a teacher from which to draw illustrations for teaching the nobility of the highest type of Christian character."

For the Third grade. Fully illustrated, 182 pages. Price, Boards, 25c.; Cloth, 35c.

LIFE OF GENERAL THOMAS J JACKSON

By Mrs. M. L. Williamson

IN words which little children will quickly comprehend, Mrs. Williamson presents a most striking portrait of perhaps the most striking figure in the military annals of modern times. She is especially happy in her effort to portray "amid the blaze of his matchless military genius, the unchanging rectitude of his conduct, the stern will-power by which he conquered all difficulties, his firm belief in an over-ruling Providence, and his entire submission to the Divine will. These traits of character were the corner-stone upon which he reared the edifice of his greatness, and upon which the young people of our day will do well to build."

S. H. STOUT, A. M., M. D., LL.D., Dallas, Tex.: "I have carefully and critically read Mrs. Mary L. Williamson's Life of Robert E. Lee and Life of T. J. Jackson for the young. I am delighted with them. They ought to be universally adopted as supplementary reading matter for the use of pupils in the third and fourth grades of our public schools. The author is forcible and truthful in her statements of facts, and her style is fascinating to youthful minds."

For the Fourth and Fifth grades. Fully illustrated. 248 pages. Price, Boards, 30c.; Cloth, 40c.

SPELLING.

COMMON SCHOOL SPELLER

By E. C. Branson

THE First Book is made to be used side by side with First and Second Readers as a direct and distinct help to the child in learning to read.

It is the only Speller that is primary in grade thoroughout. Indeed, in all other spellers so little space is devoted to primary work that it is useless to attempt to use them in connection with reading in the primary grades.

The Second Book meets the needs of the pupils in the Third, Fourth and Fifth Reader classes.

The vocabulary includes, first, the vocabulary of the common school text-books; second, the common words in daily use outside of the school-room, especially such as are frequently misspelled or mispronounced. Mere catchwords, difficult to spell and infrequently used, are excluded.

The exercises for dictation, copying, sentence spelling and the like have an ethical value far beyond that of other spellers, as a casual glance will show. In no other speller will one find so many selections replete with ennobling sentiments.

The systematic reviews of words frequently mispronounced or misspelled will almost inevitably make the faithful pupil a good speller of every-day English.

The author was for three years a country school teacher; for two years a grade teacher in a city school system; for two years a city school principal; for six years a city school superintendent; for six years teacher of psychology and pedagogy in the Georgia State Normal School; for three years teacher of psychology and logic in the University of Georgia; and for three years President of the State Normal School of Georgia.

SOUTHERN SCHOOL AND HOME, Tallahassee, Fla.: "The chief purpose of a speller is really to take the place of a teacher, for every book the child has should be a spelling book, and the reviews should be arranged by the teacher from the words coming within the experience of the child. But such an ideal spelling course will not be attained except where there is an ideal teacher and with only a pupil or two to train. Branson's Speller is the nearest possible approximation to this condition. The words are those every pupil meets with. The arrangement of the lessons affords the advantage of form and sound analogies, and trains the hand and eye, and the tongue and ear in the practical use of English."

J. S. STEWART, President North Georgia Agricultural College, Dahlonega, Ga.: "Your speller is as decided an improvement over other spellers in use in Georgia as was Webster's over those of his day. Your dictation exercises are a delight and an inspiration."

WM. TANKERSLEY, Benton, Ala.: "I have been using Branson's Spellers during the past scholastic year, and find them unexcelled. They are the most satisfactory spellers that I have ever used. The grading exercises in the primary speller are sufficient to justify their use in all our schools."

WORD STUDIES

By Edwin S. Sheppe

AS the author states in his preface, the purpose of this series of Spellers is (1) to enable the beginner to recognize readily and to pronounce accurately the various word-forms found in his reader; (2) to teach the spelling, meaning and use of words necessary for a sound education; and (3) to bridge the gap between the spelling book and the dictionary.

The phonic drill lists in Section I. are intended primarily to teach the beginner how to pronounce words at sight, by giving to each letter or combination of letters in a word its proper sound-value. A drill of fifteen or twenty minutes a day on these lists will put into his possession, during the first four or five months of his school life, the key that will enable him to pronounce with rapidity and ease, and by his unaided efforts, nearly every word found in his reading books.

A knowledge of the sound-value of each letter, acquired from the phonic drills, will serve to give the child the power to spell without previous study the large class of words that are written as they are sounded. As a further aid to the mastery of the strange and devious ways of English orthography, the important law of the association of like with like is utilized by grouping words, as far as possible. according to both regularity and similarity of spelling. The more prolific and typical classes of words in common use are taken up first, then the smaller groups, and finally the phonic outlaws, which are comparatively few in number. In all this work the well established principle of learning to know by doing is constantly exemplified. The numerous exercises in searching for hidden words, in rhyming, in word transformation, in phrase and sentence spelling, in careful pronunciation, in word making, find unity in the common purpose of training the child to examine words letter by letter, to study them in connection with their meaning and use, to observe articulate sounds, and to master inductively the rules governing the spelling of the great class of words that are formed according to fixed principles. The dreary and barren monotony of memorizing mere word-forms is impossible where the turning of every page renews the interest of the pupil by requiring the exercise of his reason and the use of his intelligence.

The gap between the ordinary spelling book and the dictionary is an almost insurmountable obstacle to the pupil, even with the help of a good teacher. Most pupils never learn to use a dictionary intelligently; in consulting it, they seldom get either the correct pronunciation of a word or the meaning suited to its use. The numerous and varied exercises in syllabication and accent, in dictionary practice, in marking letters diacritically, in the use of index-words and phonic key-words, in making definitions, in discriminating between synonyms, in the study of prefixes, suffixes, and roots, make the pupil understand the use and advantage of a dictionary. The habit of word study thus acquired will grow upon him as he grows older and will solve the spelling problem in the only way in which it can ever be solved.

PENMANSHIP.

SMITHDEAL'S SLANT WRITING BOOKS

By G. M. Smithdeal

BOOK I contains the small and capital letters and the figures. The main features of this book are word building, the placing of small letters and their corresponding capitals in juxtaposition, and the introduction of the simplest punctuation marks.

In Book 2 short sentences are used with the simplest punctuation marks. The four arithmetical signs appear in this book.

The copies in Book 3 are interesting historical statements and simple business sentences. There are additional punctuation marks.

Book 4 contains a collection of choice one and two-line quotations from standard authors.

Book 5 contains "Dictation Exercises," treating of interesting persons and events, and a series of social forms, including letters, formal and informal notes, etc.

Book 6 contains business forms in general use, including notes, drafts, checks, telegrams, advertisements, etc., etc.

Great care has been exercised in selecting styles of letters. For example, in most copybooks the standard capitals A and H require lifting the pen from the paper and starting again, twice in the construction of each letter. In the Smithdeal Copybooks these forms are made without lifting the pen at all.

The slant of writing in these books has been reduced from 52 to 45 degrees.

GRAMMAR.

OUR LANGUAGE

LANGUAGE LESSONS. By Lida B. McMurry.

In preparation.

GRAMMAR. By C. Alphonso Smith. This book has been prepared, not for the linguist, to whom grammar is a science, but for the child, to whom it should be simply the means of teaching him how to express his thoughts clearly and correctly.

The plan of the book is in accordance with the most approved methods of presenting English Grammar. There are two general divisions, (I) The Sentence and (II) The Parts of Speech.

The text opens with a brief treatment of the paragraph as a unit of thought. The sentence is then taken up and treated at length. Following this comes a discussion of clauses, phrases and words, in the order named.

The proof-sheets have passed under the critical eye of many well-known educators.

The book is intended for the upper grades of the grammar school.

Dr. EDWIN A. ALDERMAN, President University of Virginia: "It gives me very sincere pleasure to bear hearty testimony to the efficiency and teachableness and attractiveness of this book as a text-book for the rational study of the English language. I have seen nothing better in the twenty years that I have given thought to school and college text-books. I believe that the return to the rational study of the English language is a good thing, just as I believe the revolt against the study of grammar was a good thing twenty years ago. That revolt has made possible such a splendid book as Professor Smith's. I wish for it great success."

Dr. J. HOOPS, Heidelberg, Germany: "It makes a very good impression and seems extremely practical and useful. What makes it most interesting and attractive are the many quotations from well-known poets and prose-writers."

SIDNEY LEE, London, Eng., Editor Dictionary National Biography: "It seems a very clearly arranged and expressed treatise, and should be very serviceable to students."

Dr. THOS. P. HARRISON, Chair of English, Davidson College, Davidson, N. C.: "I find on every page convincing evidence—1, that the author understands not only present-day conditions in the English language, but also the historical development of the language which has resulted in those conditions; and 2, that he has succeeded in presenting a difficult subject in a very original and interesting way, making it, at the same time, thoroughly practical and teachable. These two considerations raise the book, in my opinion, above all others in its field as a text-book of formal English grammar for the schools."

ARITHMETIC.

SCHOOL ARITHMETIC

By John M. Colaw and J. K. Ellwood

THE Primary Book connects Arithmetic with the child's life and makes it real to him. The child is made to see the sense in what he is called upon to do. He is taught to count by counting actual things. He is taught to measure by measuring with a definite end in view. He grasps the true idea of number. All through the Primary Book there is ample provision for hand work, sense work, sense training, imaging and expression. You find at every turn an abundance of concrete work and graphic illustrations.

The Primary Book leads up to the Advanced. It actually leads up to it—there is no gap between. On the other hand, the Advanced Book is not merely the Primary spread out. It is another book. It has a different frame-work, but it is so graded that there is no lost motion in passing into it from the Primary.

The inductive method of the Primary is contained in the advanced Book. The pupil is not told anything that he may be led to discover for himself. You do not see a formal statement brought abruptly forward. Questions and suggestions go before as heralds to prepare the way.

One is gratified to note the ample material for mental discipline provided in the oral exercises, which, by the way, put the strain on the reasoning faculty where it ought to be, and not on the memory where it ought not to be.

Equally noticeable are the variety and excellence of the problems found in this book. Many of these problems have the rare virtue of everyday utility. The facts and figures are from authoritative sources, and there is much information of practical value.

One of the most valuable features of the Advanced Book is the chapter on equations, which forms the basis of the treatment of percentage, profit and loss, and allied subjects. As every one knows, in the treatment of these subjects authors have usually assumed the truth of certain things from algebra and geometry in order to secure a basis for their treatment. In this book the basis is the equation in which letters are used to represent any concrete number. One notes with pleasure that the Advanced Book is in accord with the report of the Committee of Fifteen, though some subjects which the committee thought should be omitted from arithmetic are placed in the appendix, where they are as carefully treated as if they were an integral part of the book.

The Advanced Book is an adequate substitute for three books—a grammar school arithmetic, a high school arithmetic, and an elementary algebra. Advanced classes are provided for in the body of the book as well as in the appendix. The introduction to algebra at the end will readily take the place of an elementary algebra. The fundamental algebraic processes are clearly treated in accordance with the most approved methods. A feature of this treatment is the use at the beginning of a prefix sign to show whether the value of the algebraic quantity is positive or negative, and another to show the operation to be performed when connected with other algebraic expressions.

Logical minds will note with pleasure the orderly arrangement of subjects. For instance, common fractions are treated after decimal fractions because the former are more difficult, while the treatment of United States money precedes that of decimal fractions because it serves as an easy introduction to that subject.

Then, too, the treatment of Banking is strictly practical and in accordance with modern business methods. This chapter was prepared with extraordinary care after several years of correspondence with leading bankers throughout the country, and has been subjected to the closest scrutiny by an able mathematician connected with a well-known banking house.

Taken altogether it comes wonderfully near one's idea of an ideal arithmetic.

SAMUEL ANDREWS, Superintendent City Schools, Pittsburg, Pa.: "No school board in this twentieth century can make a mistake by adopting these arithmetics. Our children are entitled to the very best to be had, and we fail in our duty to them if we neglect to provide it. This series merits an extensive use, and I most heartily recommend it to teachers and directors. It is, in my estimation, the best on the market, and this opinion is held by many eminent educators."

JOURNAL OF EDUCATION, Boston: "The book [Primary] is adaptive, building on what the child already has; progressive, causing the child to master the idea of number unwittingly, as it were; and attractive, avoiding all rigorous methods so distasteful to the child."

S. D. BAGLEY, Principal Beaufort High School, Beaufort, N. C.: "We have been using Colaw and Ellwoods Arithmetics for four months. They give full and entire satisfaction I am especially pleased with the introduction of Elementary Algebra in the Advanced book."

W. H. KEISTER, Lexington, Va.: "I have never heard such universal praise as of the Colaw and Ellwood Arithmetics; everybody seems to be well pleased."

F. A. CHAPA, San Antonia, Tex.: "I have never seen anything better adapted for our schools."

W. H. COOKE, City High School, Charlottesville, Va.: "After an experience of fifteen years in teaching arithmetic, I do not hesitate to say that Colaw and Ellwood's Advanced Arithmetic is far the best I have even seen. It is so much superior to the one for which we substituted it here that I scarcely know how to make a comparison. My pupils give it high praise."

THOMAS W. PALMER, Professor of Mathematics, University of Alabama, University, Ala.: "Colaw and Ellwood's Advanced Arithmetic is one of the best text-books that I have examined. I specially recommend it for its clear presentation of principles and omission of many useless rules; for the early introduction of the use of letters causing the pupil to think in general terms; for the splendid selection of practical problems that are found in actual experience, and for the chapter on Equations, which should be in every arithmetic. The arrangement of topics is logical, leading systematically from one step to another."

J. M. PAGE, M. A., Ph. D., Professor of Mathematics, University of Virginia, Va.: "While no arithmetic would be perfectly satisfactory to a progressive teacher, these arithmetics appear to me to be most excellent; and I have already recommended their use as school text-books."

Major PARHAM, Principal School, Little Rock, Ark.: "The finest arithmetic that I have ever seen. I except none."

Miss C. S. PARRISH, State Normal School, Athens, Ga.: "I think that the perfect text-book in arithmetic is yet to be made, but that of Colaw and Ellwood is, in my opinion, the best now published. There are two great features of particular excellence. One is the introduction of algebraic symbols and methods at an early stage in the book. The other is the use of form and magnitude and of the idea of ratio without undue sacrifice of the number idea. The book is in harmony with the accepted psychology of number, but avoids extremes and fads. I wish it could be introduced into all the schools of the country."

Z. X. SNYDER, Ph. D., President State Normal School, Greeley, Col.: "I consider them first-class. They are modern; they are accurate; they are pedagogical and mathematically neat."

TEACHER'S MANUAL OF SCHOOL ARITHMETIC

By John M. Colaw and J. K. Ellwood

IN addition to solutions of difficult problems, this Manual contains some suggestions as to the proper methods of teaching arithmetic, especially in the primary grades, and some explanations of the plan of work in the Primary Book. It also contains some valuable supplementary problems with their solutions. The aim has been to make the Manual valuable to teachers generally, and invaluable to teachers using the Colaw and Ellwood Series.

SCHOOL ALGEBRA

By John M. Colaw and J. K. Ellwood

IN this book will be found many of the excellent features which have made the Colaw and Ellwood Arithmetic so popular with progressive teachers. The method used in presenting subjects is inductive. By this means the pupil is led by easy stages to a comprehensive knowledge of the difficulties of algebra.

The examples and problems are abundant and of the most satisfactory type. They are divided into two groups, the second book being designed for advanced pupils.

In the presentation of principles and the solution of problems the strictest attention has been given to mathematical form and accuracy. The several topics are treated more clearly and fully than in most texts, but in no case is the treatment verbose.

In accordance with the latest report of the Mathematical Association of Great Britain the authors have seen fit to make several departures from the stereotyped presentation of algebra. For example, the treatment of Graphs has been placed in the body of the book—under Simple Equations and also under Intermediate Equations.

The teacher will note with pleasure that after a problem has been solved the pupil is required to check the result obtained.

JOURNAL OF EDUCATION, Boston: "No one has better solved the problem of transition from arithmetic to algebra than have Messrs. Colaw and Ellwood, and this is a necessity now that algebra is brought down to the eighth grade. They recognize the necessity of having children become familiar with the simple algebraic conditions before they get away from the arithmetic and of continuing arithmetical activities after they are initiated in their algebra. An unusual and successful attempt has been made to have the algebraic problems made from the field of science and from every-day life. The problems are admirably graded, and the catchy puzzles are eloquent by their absence. The early subjects are given a broader and fuller treatment than usual.

The treatment of factoring, and its application to the solution of equations, is especially thorough. In the solution of problems one meets with many valuable observations on the details and timely cautions against the errors into which beginners are liable to fall. The illustrative solutions are models of neatness and order. The frequent use of 'checks' leads to accuracy and tends to make the student independent of both text and teacher."

HISTORY.

HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

By Susan Pendleton Lee

LEE'S Histories of the United States not only give the facts, but they give them with painstaking accuracy. They are practicable. They can be taught. It is easy to teach them. It is a pleasure to teach them.

They are written to be taught. They were written by a teacher who knows how to teach and who knows the needs of teachers as well as of pupils. They have been revised not only with a view to securing accuracy, but to make them of the highest possible value in the schoolroom. They have been ground and polished until they fit into the work of the schoolroom as an ivory ball fits in its socket.

Note the questions in geography introducing the history of a particular section.

Note, too, the happy device in the Primary Book to help beginners in memorizing dates. Then there are the blackboard forms of analyses in both books—another valuable pedagogical device. And who will not be glad to see that all the hard names are phoneticized?

One cannot but admire the noble spirit which the author displays throughout these books. You do not see prejudice sticking out at every turn. There isn't an unfair word in them. There isn't a scornful fling in them. There isn't a bit of poison in them. There's nothing but the truth in them.

While the warp is the same in both books, the woof is different. Points briefly treated in one book are expanded in the other. For instance, in the Primary Book the War Between the States is very briefly given, while in the New School History it receives comprehensive treatment.

Lee's New School History is arranged to meet the needs of the grammar grades of our public schools. In the revised edition the history has been brought down to date.

There is an abundant supply of maps and helpful illustrations.

ROBERT S. BALLON, Centreville, Tenn.: "As a teacher of twenty-four years' experience, and as one who has served as County Superintendent over one-half of that time, I am ready to say that I do not wish to exchange Lee's New School History for any I have examined."

H. C. GILBERT, Superintendent of Public Schools, Florence, Ala.: "We have been using Lee's New School History of the United States in the seventh grade of our schools during the past session, and both the teacher and the pupils were delighted with it. It is an admirable work, beautifully illustrated, and strongly and attractively bound. We like the clear, bright and charming way the author has of 'talking' about great men and great events. We are pleased with the topical arrangement of the book, with the analyses, search questions and frequent maps, thereby linking, very properly, geography and history."

J. STONE RIVES, President of Aulden Rives College, Smithville, Tenn.: "I have used Lee's History of the United States for four years, and can say that it is the best I have ever used. For conciseness, breadth, and impartial treatment of the subject matter it has no equal."

H. A. MCKINNON, Principal High School, Calera, Ala.: "This book is just what I want. The subject matter and arrangement approximate my ideal text in United States history."

J. C. FLANIGAN, President Perry-Rainey College, Auburn, Ga.: "I never fail to utter words in its praise when the opportunity offers."

S. T. CARTER, Clerk State Board of Examiners, Columbia, S. C.: "I was pleased to note that while the book does justice to the South, it does equal justice to other sections."

NEWS AND COURIER, Charleston, S. C.: "Mrs. Lee's New School History of the United States has established itself in popular estimation as a fair and impartial work."

BOOK NEWS, Philadelphia, Pa.: "Simply, clearly, candidly, and forcibly stated, with a constant fidelity to the past noble and conservative exemplifications of the Southern people."

CHAUTAUQUAN, PA.: "The bright, pellucid style is well adapted to arouse and retain the interest of school children."

A Civil Government

By F. W. Chatfield and S. M. Sewell

THIS volume has been prepared to meet the demand for a textbook which shall treat not only of the general government, and of State government in general, but also of the State government of Texas in particular. The order of treatment is from the local to the national—beginning with the school district. The style is simple and clear, and the language will be readily understood by pupils of the seventh and eighth grades, for whom the book is intended.

MANUAL TRAINING.

EDUCATIONAL MANUAL TRAINING

By Wm. C. A. Hammel

THE purpose of this series is to present an outline of a course beginning in the third grade with Paper Folding, followed by Cardboard Construction in the fourth grade, Elementary Knife Work in the fifth grade; Advanced Knife Work in the sixth grade, and Wood Sloyd (bench work in wood) in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades.

The exercises in Paper Folding, Cardboard Construction, and Knife Work lead systematically to Wood Sloyd. Presuming that some hand work has already been done in the kindergarten and in the first and second grades, it seems best to begin with Paper Folding in the third grade. Accuracy and neatness are cultivated through easy exercises in measuring, drawing, cutting, etc., and the pupil is better fitted to work in a more difficult material. In the fourth grade the construction of type solids in cardboard, together with useful models based upon these types, gives the pupil new exercises, and he is prepared for the following year's work in Elementary Knife Work, which is done in the softest woods, and deals with two dimensions only, length and breadth. The Advanced Knife Work course is taken up in the sixth grade, and deals with the three dimensions of solids, thus giving the pupil practice in the use of more complex working drawings; various woods of increasing difficulty to work in are used in order to familiarize the pupil with the nature of the different kinds of woods.

BALTIMORE SUN, Baltimore, Md.: "A number of educators have pronounced these the most practical and simplest books yet issued on the subject."

KINDERGARTEN REVIEW, Springfield, Mass.: "If the books that are to follow equal this one, No. I., in clearness and diction, natural development in design, and simplicity and beauty of objects made, the series will merit great success."

PRIMARY EDUCATION, Boston, Mass.: "The drawings, type, and makeup of the books are most excellent. Nothing to confuse, but everything to make the way plain. Such exactness in dictation is the very best training for boys and girls of this age to prevent careless, slipshod ways. The series will be worth the examination of every teacher and the test of actual use by the children will prove its merit."

First Book: Paper Folding. Second Book: Cardboard Construction. Third Book: Elementary Knife Work. Fourth Book: Advanced Knife Work. Fully illustrated with Working Designs and Photographs of complete models. Price, 20c. each.

THE EDUCATION OF TEACHERS

By W. H. Payne

DR. PAYNE is a man with a message—the sort of message that compels attention. One must hear him through, though one may not agree with him all the way through. He goes to the very core of the matter, and, having found it, talks with us about it face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend. There are eight wonderfully stimulating chapters, every one of which one will want to read over and over again.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL TIMES, Philadelphia, Pa.: "It is a challenge that has stimulus in its breadth."

KINDERGARTEN REVIEW, Springfield, Mass.: "Many writers have discussed the subjects treated here, but not many have presented them with equal readableness and force or kept so persistently on a lofty plane."

THE WORKS OF
I. BURNEY YEO, M. D., F. R. C. P.

Covering the Field of Practical Therapeutics.

I.—The Therapeutics of Mineral Springs and Climates.

Revised edition, 1 volume, 12mo., 760 pages. JUST READY. Cloth, - - Net $3.50

"This is a book which is of especial interest to that part of the readers of this journal who are interested in the features of climatology and crounotherapy, whose recognition we have so long insisted upon, and it is a work which should be of much wider interest to the intelligent and educated general practitioner than it now is. The work is purely European. The resorts described are European resorts and the climates considered are European climates, and yet the work is none the less valuable on that account to the American practitioner. The literature of American mineral waters is, so far, meager and unsatisfactory, and the therapeutic value of American climates has just begun to be appreciated by Americans. So clearly has Yeo described the European waters and climates, so fully has he shown their therapy that those of us who have the slightest knowledge of American waters and climates may gain a great deal by applying this information to analogous springs and regions of our own country. The intelligent reading of this book, with comparatively complete digestion of its teachings, will do much to make exhaustive clinical study at our American resorts unnecessary, and will permit us to utilize the knowledge accumulated during decades by our European friends. The physician who reads this book, with its therapeutic claims substantiated by the best medical talent Europe has produced, can not but be amazed at the continued apathy of the American profession on these very important subjects."—The Chicago Clinic and Pure Water Journal, May, 1904.

II.—A Manual of Medical Treatment or Clinical Therapeutics.

Twelfth edition. Nineteenth thousand. Revised and enlarged, 2 volumes, 12mo., 1500 pages. Cloth, - - - Net $5.00

It is a book from which the most skillful therapeutist has something to learn; a book which the ordinary physician, no matter how frequent he appeals to it, will surely find a true guide, philosopher and friend. One thought at the time that improvement on the first edition would be next to impossible. Success, however, is a wonderful stimulant to an author, hence we have a thoroughly revised, extended, modernized edition of the Manual of Medical Therapeutics, which is likely to remain for some time to come the standard work on the subject in the English language. We feel at liberty to give the book unqualified praise, and almost constrained not only to recommend it, but also to urge it upon all who do not possess it."—Medical Press and Circular.

"In the 1500 pages of the two volumes there is scarcely a medical subject of interest which is not enriched by many rational therapeutic suggestions."—Medical News.

"The text is written in an interesting manner, and the subject matter has been surprisingly well brought up to date, when it is borne in mind that this is a tenth edition. The two volumes present the status of medical treatment of to-day."—Boston Medical and Surgical Journal, Nov. 13, 1903.

III.—Food in Health and Disease.

Revised edition, 1 volume, 12 mo., 592 pages. Cloth, - - Net $2.50

"We doubt whether any book on dietetics has been of greater or more widespread usefulness than this much-consulted work of Dr. Yeo's. The value of the work is not to be overestimated."—New York Medical Journal.

"To the readers of current medical literature of the past quarter of a century it is unnecessary to offer any introduction to the name or fame of Professor Yeo. For years he has been a classic authority on the subject of dietetics. Probably he is more quoted than any other one authority on this subject. This eighth edition of his work on 'Food in Health and Disease' covers nearly 600 closely but clearly printed pages, and contains very little that the intelligent reader will care to skip. Not that all readers will agree with every one of his theories or adopt without modification all his suggestions. This would be impossible in case of any book that possesses as strong an individuality as does this one. Without attempting to describe the good qualities with which the book teems from cover to cover, our opinion of it may be condensed into a nutshell of space by saying that no physician's library is well balanced in dietetics unless it contains Yeo on 'Food in Health and Disease.' "—The Dietetic and Hygienic Gazette, August, 1904.

A STORY OF CROSS AND SWORD

The Son of the Swordmaker

BY OPIE READ

From "The Son of the Swordmaker." Copyright, 1905, by Wm. H. Lee

A STRIKING story of the life of a Roman soldier and his stirring adventures among the Gauls, the early Britains, the Franks, and in Palestine, including a vivid picture of life among the Druids, a princess of this race, named Vloden, being the heroine. The cold, hopeless philosophy of the Romans and the revivifying faith of the gentle Nazarene permeate the narrative, holding the reader's attention with a peculiar fascination. As the exciting course of events is followed, the blood is made to stir and the heart to beat with a strange quickening, subsiding only to the peaceful influence of the rejected "King of the Jews," so skillfully and delicately depicted by the author. Several historical characters are brought on the scene—Herod, Pilate, Nicodemus, Barabbas, Joseph of Arimathea, and the centurion who placed the crown of thorns on the Saviour's brow.

The secret thoughts and ambitions, the unbiased observations and reflections of a common soldier of Ceasar's legions, stated with the blunt honesty of a disinterested witness, throws a new light upon the sacred story of the Cross, depicting from the standpoint of a soldier of Rome,

A Great Sensation in Modern Literature

Purple Peaks Remote

A ROMANCE OF ITALY AND AMERICA

BY

JOHN MERRITTE DRIVER

From "Purple Peaks Remote," Copyright, 1905, by Wm. H. Lee

LOVE, PATHOS AND TRAGEDY

MOST marvelous adventures and exciting vicissitudes following the hero from Naples to America and back to Rome.

An exciting capture by Italian banditti, a series of startling incidents, tempered and softened by a charming tale of love and devotion, realistically and graphically portrayed. Permeated by the delicate breath of Romance. Surcharged with the stirring elements of adventure and manly courage.

The heartless struggle for fame, wealth and honor; the grind and grime of the city's streets; the strenuous struggle for an existence, drawn with all the detail and faithfulness of a Dickens.

In the Land of the Turquoise Skies

Among the olive groves and in the great Eternal City, are enacted the series of startling incidents that provide the principal motif of this great masterpiece. With all the local coloring of a Crawford, the story of Percival Howard and his sweetheart Giovanni, the hero and heroine, will appeal to all who have struggled and fought and loved in the great universal maelstrom of the world's passions.

PRESS COMMENTS

An appeal to the conscience, a clarion call to duty. Based on morality, inspired by virtue, destined to be crowned with success. Should win the approbation of all right-minded men. Will take a leading position in the foremost ranks of American novels.—St. Louis Star.

More than a romance for it contains a lesson drawn with unflinching fidelity.—Boston Journal.

NATURAL REALISTIC HUMOROUS

"Turkey Egg" Griffin, sturdy, freckled-faced Turk, bewitching Nan with devilish, dancing eyes, a host of quaint personages, noble-hearted men and women, go to make up the list of characters. The smell of lime from penitentiary walls, the breath of the deadly southern feud and the rumbling of social discontent stimulate the reader's interest and awaken deep sympathy.

A POWERFUL ENDORSEMENT

For many years I have received from leading publishing houses many new books with the request to examine and pronounce on their merits. Recently I have received from Laird & Lee of Chicago, a copy of Webster's New Standard Dictionary which at once interested me as it was in a field to which I have given much careful attention.

The examination of this book has been to me a genuine pleasure and a perpetual surprise to find an accumulation of such excellencies. Its superiority to any Common or High School Dictionary that I am familiar with, is too apparent to be discussed. It might not be amiss, however, to call special attention to a few such features as the following:

1st.—The extensive etymology of words. 2nd.—The use of capital initials in words invariably requiring the Capitals. 3d.—The principal parts of Verbs, the degrees of Adjectives. and the plural of Nouns in the cases of irregulars. 4th.—The full and judicious use of Synonyms. 5th.—The unusual extension and elaborate illustrations, embracing many full-page plates of such objects of art and nature as illustrations especially help one to understand. 6th.—The Encyclopedic features of this voulme deserve special consideration, the very full lists of Musical, Biographical and Geographical terms and names are excellent and just such as a Common School Dictionary should contain.

Altogether it seems to be beyond question the very best School Dictionary that has ever come to my notice.

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed) P. H. EAGER, Professor of English.

EACH OF THESE VOLUMES HAS A NEW AND ARTISTIC COVER-DESIGN IN COLORS

DRIFTWOOD

BY MELANIE ALICE WEIL

A DELIGHTFUL series of prose and verse selections including "The House Next Door," a bright, sparkling comedy in two acts, adapted for amateur or local theatrical performances. A case of mistaken identity in which both principals mistake each other for escaped lunatics. Full of life and humor, tears and laughter — a great hit.

The stories are clever and the poems show unusual depth of thought, appealing to the youngest and the eldest — poems of childhood, youth and age, the dawn and midnight of life, selections that will instruct, inspire and amuse.

Well Adapted for Recitation and School Recitals

"THE SANCTUM SANCTORUM" will touch a tender spot in the heart of all college graduates. The old Heidelberg student's farewell to his den is more than clever — true to life. Then there are numerous other selections of especial interest and value to all pupils; poems not only dealing with classical subjects, but touching upon the friendships and tender experiences of every student.

Bound in beautiful maroon silk cloth, gold stamping, special pen and ink frontispiece, title page in two colors. 100 pages, 75 cts.

LAIRD & LEE'S VEST-POCKET

Practical Spanish Instructor

(ONE SOUND FOR EACH LETTER)

BY F. M. DE RIVAS

A Graduate of the University of Seville (Spain) and St. Edmund's College, London (England).

A unique system by which, after learning the alphabet, the student can pronounce correctly every word in the Spanish language.

A book that positively teaches how to speak Spanish without the aid of a tutor.

It is not a Dictionary, but a common sense system of learning Spanish.

SIZE, 2⅝ x 5⅜ INCHES

A necessity to everybody wishing to take advantage of the development of our modern history.

Invaluable to the business man, the tourist, salesman, merchant, sailor, soldier, and to all interested in the Spanish language.

It spells, pronounces and teaches words and sentences correctly without going into grammatical details.

It contains about 250 pages of instruction in the practical pronunciation and use of the Spanish language, arranged systematically, compactly, and within the understanding of every person, without those irksome or confusing rules of grammar that make the study of any language tedious. Also over 5,000 phrases needed in ordinary conversation on such necessary subjects as EATING, DRINKING, the WEATHER, HEALTH, etc., and answerable with "YES" or "NO," and a list of over 2,000 names of Spanish officials, ships, cities, etc., made prominent by the Spanish-American war, with their correct pronunciations.

A Companion Book for the Salva-Webster Spanish-English English-Spanish Dictionary.

MARRYAT'S MASTERPIECES

OF

Naval Life and Adventures

THE author has never been surpassed as a writer of tales of NAUTICAL ADVENTURES. His books have been translated into all civilized languages, and are the favorites of German, French, Spanish, Russian, Italian Dutch and Swedish boys as well as of English and American.

Marryat entered the British navy 1806, and resigned 1830, witnessing and taking active part in more than fifty naval engagements, more or less brilliant, during the first three years of his service. It would be hard to find an officer who had a wider and riper experience in naval warfare than he. Honorable mention was frequently accorded him for behavior in action. He invented a code of signals, and among his fellow-officers he was famous as a caricaturist.

CARTRIE (COUNT DE).  THE MEMOIRS OF: Being a Record of the Extraordinary Events in the life of Ambroise Toussaint de Cartrie, Count of Villenière, as written by Himself. With an Introduction by Frédéric Masson, and Illustrations.

The Count de Cartrie's Memoirs throw some bright side lights upon the war of La Vendée. The circumstances attending his escape through France, after the Revolutionary triumph, are little short of miraculous. At the same time we obtain a glimpse of the cruel policy adopted by the government of the period, and by which many noble families were reduced to a state of abject poverty. The Count fled to Southampton, where he became a gardener, eventually returning to France in 1800, thanks to Bonaparte. (For price, date of publication, etc., see later catalogue.)

These are the familiar letters of a well-preferred divine exactly covering the reign of George II. and are now for the first time brought to light. The writer, a Whig of the deepest dye, was so situated in the world of politics and literature that the news he transmitted with such regularity to his friend, cast away upon the sandy dunes of Dersingham, is remarkable, both from its interest and accuracy, as well as for the racy language in which it is conveyed.

THE SACRED TREASURY

Edited by Frederic Chapman.

Bound in Cloth, 75 cents net.

Bound in Leather, $1.00 net.

Size 6 x 3¾ inches.

Vol. I. THE POEMS OF JOHN HENRY NEWMAN (afterwards Cardinal). With Portrait.

Known the world over by his exquisitely beautiful "Lead Kindly Light," Newman's standing as a poet is not generally recognized, yet his verse had as much to do with the success of the Oxford movement as had "The Christian Year," of his friend Keble. He first collected it in 1868, and this edition, to which a few additions were subsequently made, has ever since been the only one obtainable. The present volume contains besides a number of early poems, now first collected, of the utmost interest as throwing light on Newman's family life and early influences, a long poem in two cantos, entitled "St. Bartholomew's Eve," written during his first years at Oxford.

*SACRED TREASURY, THE.—Continued.

Vol. II. DIVINE CONSIDERATIONS. By John Valdesso. The English Translation of Nicholas Ferrar. With George Herbert's Prefatory Epistle and a Portrait.

Juan de Valdes, the author of the "Hundred and Ten Divine Considerations," was one of the most notable of the Spanish Reformers of the sixteenth century. The correspondent of Erasmus, the twin brother of the secretary of the Emperor Charles V., and for a time the chamberlain of a pope, his exalted connections alone probably saved him from persecution on account of his opinions. He had to leave his native land to ensure his safety. His writings were condemned, and the greater part of them so effectually suppressed that some of them remain to this day introuvable, while others have only come to light during the past fifty years.

Vol. III. THE HUNDRED BEST POEMS OF JOHN AND CHARLES WESLEY. With Portraits.

If John and Charles Wesley had not been the sons of a poet and poets themselves, it is hardly too much to say that the spread of Wesleyan Methodism could never have been as world wide as it is. Their hymns were even more influential than their sermons, and in them the dead evangelists yet speak wherever the English language prevails.

Vol. IV. THE SPIRIT OF LOVE. By William Law, author of the "Serious Call." With Portrait.

William Law had the misfortune, by the extraordinary popularity attained by one of his works, the famous "Serious Call to a Devout and Holy Life," to find all his other writings thrown into almost complete obscurity. Yet from time to time there have been editors to call attention to one or other of his beautiful religious treatises. The temper of his mind, which trended towards mysticism, was probably further urged in that direction from the circumstance of conscience forcing him into the ranks of the non-jurors. He was for long a kind of private chaplain to the aunts of Gibbon, the historian, who in some sort was probably indebted to him himself. The treatise here reprinted is amongst the most interesting and beneficent of his writings. filled with a piety that does not pall, and free from rancour, as its title "The Spirit of Love" befits.

The pilgrim concerned is of the true faith: he has been nevertheless daringly successful in his unorthodox capacity of secret correspondent to Mr. Sparroy in reporting the incidents and colouring of the pilgrimage, and even in taking photographs of the scenes—a proceding which would have cost him his life had he been discovered.

*THE VALE PRESS

Being the list of Vale Editions sold in America by John Lane, at the sign of the Bodley Head, LXVII Fifth Avenue, New York. The following books are printed in the Vale Type, which has been speciallly designed to accompany the Decorations and Illustrations, designed and cut on the wood by Charles Ricketts, the builder of the page, and other original engravers. The paper used for the Vale books is Arnold's Unbleached Hand-made with the Vale water-mark. The number printed for America of each of these books in no case exceeded one hundred copies. None of the Vale Press Publications will ever be reprinted, and the Press will cease to exist with the publication of the last volume of the Plays of Shakespeare. The following is a list of the few copies that remain, offered by John Lane at the prices indicated.

N.B.—All the books in this list are net.

ADLINGTON (W.). THE MOST PLEASANT AND DELECTABLE TALE OF THE MARRIAGE OF CUPIDE AND PSYCHES. In the Original Spelling. With Six Roundel Woodcuts designed and engraved on the wood by Charles Ricketts. Edition of 1566. Bound in white Buckram. Demy 8vo. $17.50 net.

APULEIUS. DE CUPIDINIS ET PSYCHES AMORIBUS FABULA ANILIS. 12 x 8 inches. $10.00 net.

ARNOLD (MATTHEW). EMPEDOCLES ON ETNA. Printed in Red and Black. With Laurel Border designed and cut on the wood by Charles Ricketts. 12mo. $15.00 net.

BIBLIOGRAPHY OF THE VALE PRESS: Being the Books published by Hacon & Ricketts. Printed in Red and Black, with a Frontispiece engraved by C. Ricketts after the signboard painted by C. H. Shannon on the old Vale premises. Vine Border. 8vo. $10.00 net.

BLAKE (WILLIAM). POETICAL SKETCHES BY WILLIAM BLAKE. With Frontispiece, Border and Initials by Charles Ricketts. 12mo. $25.00 net.

BROWNE (SIR THOMAS). RELIGIO MEDICI, URN BURIAL, CHRISTIAN MORALS, AND OTHER ESSAYS. Edited by C. J. Holmes. Decorated by Charles Ricketts, under whose Supervision the Book has been printed. 1 Vol. Imp. 8vo. $12.00 net.

BROWNING (ROBERT). DRAMATIC ROMANCES AND LYRICS. With Border and Initials designed and cut on the wood by Charles Ricketts. Demy 8vo. $15.00 net.

CAMPION (THOMAS). FIFTY SONGS OF THOMAS CAMPION. Demy 8vo. $15.00 net.

CELLINI (BENVENUTO). THE LIFE OF BENVENUTO CELLINI. Translated by John Addington Symonds. 2 Vols. Imp. 8vo. $50.00 net.

CHATTERTON (THOMAS). THE ROWLEY POEMS OF THOMAS CHATTERTON. 2 Vols. In the original spelling. With Border of Wild Briony designed and cut on the wood by Charles Ricketts. Demy 8vo. $45.00 net.

Modern readers may, perhaps, appreciate a complete text of the Rowley Poems wherein each word stands as its author gave it to the world. The claim of these works is based fully as much on the pictorial value of the forms of words used, as on the extraordinary literary promise the Poems exhibit, or on the influence they exerted on the founders of the modern romantic school. No complete edition of these Poems as written by Chatterton has hitherto appeared.

COLERIDGE (SAMUEL TAYLOR). THE RIME OF THE ANCIENT MARINER. 12mo. $17.50 net.

CONSTABLE (HENRY). THE POEMS OF HENRY CONSTABLE. Edited by John Gray. In the original spelling. With Border of Wild Hop designed and cut on the wood by Charles Ricketts. Demy 8vo. $15.00 net.

The only complete Edition of Constable's Works, containing the Poem which was the source of Shakespeare's "Venus and Adonis." The volume is a companion to the Vale Press Edition of Sidney's Sonnets.

THE LIFE OF LOUIS CLAUDE DE SAINT-MARTIN, the Unknown Philosopher. 8vo. $1.50 net.

AZOTH, OR, THE STAR IN THE EAST. Cheaper Edition. 12mo. $1.75 net.

The conclusions reached in this work are the result of considerable research into the significance of the Hermetic and Mystical Symbolisms contained in alchemical literature, and, as regards fundamental doctrine, they offer a reasonable harmony between the transcendental teachings of Eastern and Western Theosophy.

THE GOLDEN STAIRS. Tales from Wonder-World. 12mo. $1.00 net.

The lessons these stories are intended to convey are unmistakable, but not so obtrusive as to weary even those of tender years, and so charming is the language in which the stories are told, so picturesque the scenes presented, that many children will turn to these pages again and again with delight.

MYSTERIES OF MAGIC. 8vo. $3.50 net.

TURBA PHILOSOPHORUM; OR, ASSEMBLY OF THE SAGES. 12mo. $2.50 net.

Published by JOHN LANE COMPANY

THE BODLEY HEAD

67 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK

50 cents per month. Annual Subscription, $5.00

Three months' Trial Subscription, $1.50

One specimen back number of the magazine will be sent to any address in the United States on receipt of Twenty-five Cents.

IT is the aim of "The International Studio" to treat of every Art and Craft—Architecture, Sculpture, Painting, Ceramics, Metal, Glass, Furniture, Decoration, Design, Bookbinding, Illustrating, Photography, Lithography, Enamel, Jewelry, Needlework, Gardening, etc. The principal writers on art are contributors to its pages. Many original illustrations, reproduced in every variety of black and white process, half-tone, line, photogravure, etc., are to be found in each number. Color plates of real value are to be found in every issue.

Everyone interested in art, professionally or otherwise, should read it; for the magazine keeps its readers au fait with everything of value in the world of art, both literary and technical; also all events of importance in the leading museums, schools and galleries.

PROGRESSIVE MEDICINE FOR 1905.

A Quarterly Digest of New Methods, Discoveries and Improvements in the Medical and Surgical Sciences.

PROGRESSIVE MEDICINE presents in an original, narrative form a clear statement of the advances made in the practical departments of medicine and surgery during the year, each specialty being dealt with by a single authority whose reputation gives ample assurance of accuracy and completeness. The personal impress of the contributor is placed upon each subject; his narrative presents its data in due and instructive connection, enhancing the interest, economizing time, yet giving ample and detailed consideration to all matters which will prove of material value in actual practice. Thus the chaff is winnowed from the grain and the practical application of the year's advance in improvements, discoveries and methods becomes a portion of the mental equipment of the reader, ready for instant use as emergencies arise.

To secure completeness of material and harmony of statement, each narrative receives the careful supervision of the General Editor, DR. HOBART AMORY HARE, whose reputation will everywhere be acknowledged as ensuring practical utility in a high degree.

Four volumes are issued each year, in March, June, September and December. Each contains from 300 to 400 octavo pages, abundantly illustrated.

Per annum (4 volumes) in heavy paper covers, $6.00; in cloth binding, $9.00, delivered.

Sets of the issues for 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902, 1903 and 1904 can be procured by those who desire a complete file of this most helpful digest. Special price on application.

THE MEDICAL NEWS.

Lippincott's New Gazetteer

THE dictionary of universal geography that is now offered to the public is the successor of Lippincott's Pronouncing Gazetteer, which in its various editions has been before the English-speaking world for half a century. It is a new publication, printed from new type from title-page to cover. Only the framework or skeleton of its predecessor has been retained, together with the system of pronunciation introduced by that great master, Dr. Joseph Thomas.

The present publication will be found to present an accurate picture of the globe in its minutest details as it exists in the twentieth century. Each one of its 100,000 notices, varying in length from a single line to thousands of words, speaks for itself.

An important adjunct to the geographic treatment of places is the historic reference, which has been subjected to the same rigid scrutiny as the more purely geographical data, and the student in history will find in this publication a most valuable and reliable guide in the prosecution of his own particular work. The Gazetteer presents, further, the most complete and accurate guide in the pronunciation of place names that has yet appeared in the English language —in this respect holding a distinctive position of its own. Particular attention has been bestowed upon the proper rendering of East European and Oriental names,—Russian, Hungarian, Asiatic, etc. A most valuable feature of the work is the mention of classical names.

As an evidence of its comprehensiveness, it need only be remarked that the present work contains upward of 27,000 titles that do not appear in its predecessor.

Lothrop List of

New Books and New Editions

Fiction by HARRY LEON WILSON

The Boss of Little Arcady

Full-page and text illustrations by Rose Cecil O'Neill
12mo Cloth $1.50

IN this book Mr. Wilson shows the power and charm which made "The Spenders" not only one of the conspicuous successes of its season, but a permanent favorite beyond any other American novel of its year, in even greater measure than in that striking book. No better subject could be found than the country editor of a former generation living in stirring times and in a region where one becomes a leader only by superior natural qualities. There are two heroes in this story of village life in the mid-west; one the editor of the weekly paper, the other his staunch friend, though his rival in love. The story is told by the friend, who left the village at the call of the Civil War, in which he became a Major.

The Spenders

Illustrated by Rose Cecil O'Neill 12mo
Cloth $1.50

IT is a story of tremendous power and originality, contrasting in a striking manner the rugged strength and nascent vigor of the West with the decadency and sophistication pertaining to certain phases of Eastern life.

Nashville American says: "To describe this novel correctly, one would have to use all the adjectives denoting praise which the English language contains. Nothing too good can be said about it."

The Lions of the Lord

A Story of the Old Salt Lake Trail

12mo Cloth Six illustrations by Rose Cecil O'Neill $1.50

A HISTORICAL romance in which the early conditions in Utah are vividly depicted, and the pathos, tragedy, humor and charm of the settlement of the Salt Lake region by the Mormons are set forth by a writer of genuine power, dealing with a theme hitherto unhandled.

Miss Billy

By EDITH KEELEY STOKELY and MARIAN KENT HURD Illustrated by CHAS. COPELAND 12mo Cloth $1.50

THOSE who only want a good story, full of rich humor and character study, will find it here, and those who like to see what energy and tact can do in the way of improving streets and homes in those sections most in need of it will be charmed with the story of what one irrepressible young woman accomplished in a neighborhood almost as unpromising as the celebrated "cabbage patch."

The Human Touch

A Tale of the Great Southwest

By EDITH M. NICHOLL Illustrated by CHAS. COPELAND 12mo Cloth $1.50

WE offer here a novel of uncommon power and strength, as well as heart interest. The scene shifts at an early period from New York to the ranch of the cattle king hero in the wilds of New Mexico. The story is one of affinity of the "human touch" that draws man and woman together wherever it appears in its might, regardless of any obstacles. The social problem involved in the story is handled no less boldly than the rugged scenes of life in a new country into which the delicately reared heroine is plunged, and in which she acquits herself so nobly as to deserve the happiness which a strong man is at last able to win for her.

Italy

Her People and Their Story

By AUGUSTA HALE GIFFORD Emblematic cover Fully illustrated 760 pages 8vo Cloth $1.40 net Postpaid, $1.55

THIS book, uniform in size and style with Mrs. Gifford's "Germany," also stands alone as a concise story of a most interesting people and country, graphically carried from ancient times to the present day, and prepared especially for the needs of the general public, who have neither the time nor the taste to wade through tedious historical works to find things that all would be glad to know.

Germany

Her People and Their Story

By AUGUSTA HALE GIFFORD Emblematic cover Fully illustrated 593 pages 8vo Cloth $1.75

THE first popular story of Germany, especially prepared for American readers and studied from an American standpoint. In this light the book is unique. It stands alone as the latest and most complete, while yet brief and condensed, story of the German Empire, from its beginnings to its present proud position among the world-leaders.

The Little Green Door

By MARY E. STONE BASSETT Eight illustrations by Louise Clarke and twenty-five decorative half-title pages by Ethel Pearce Clements 12mo Cloth $1.50

A CHARMING romance of the time of Louis XIII. The door admits to a beautiful retired garden belonging to the Monarch. In it walks a fair maiden, not knowing he is near. He wins her love, she believing him to be a cousin to the King, and her awakening to the truth is depicted with much poetry and power.

Judith's Garden

By MARY E. STONE BASSETT With illustrations in color by George Wright Text printed in two colors throughout, with special ornamentation 8vo Cloth, rough edges, gilt top $1.50

AN exquisite, delicious, charming book, as fresh as new-mown hay, as fragrant as the odor from the garden of the gods. It is the story of a garden, a woman, and a man.

The Loves of Edwy

By ROSE CECIL O'NEILL With over sixty illustrations by the author 12mo Cloth $1.50

THE two "Loves of Edwy", are his bosom friend and his sweetheart, and the fortunes of all three are woven into a romance of surpassing interest. There is not a dull page in the book, and it may be confidently asserted that nothing so original has been produced in this country in many years. The sixty-four pictures by the author (who is well known as an illustrator) add very greatly to the book's value.

A Parish of Two

By HENRY GOELET MCVICKAR and PERCY COLLINS 12mo Cloth $1.50

"A PARISH OF TWO" is an unusually clever piece of work in collaboration of two authors, Henry Goelet McVickar and Percy Collins, the latter a pen name. This story is told by an interchange of letters between an invalid clergyman and his man-of-the-world friend, each author writing the letters of one of the characters.

Richard Gordon

By ALEXANDER BLACK Six illustrations by Ernest Fuhr 12mo Cloth $1.50

THIS is one of the strongest novels of the day. The plot is firm and finely conceived. Its development is superbly sustained to the very end.

BY GEORGE CARY EGGLESTON

A Daughter of the South

A War's End Romance

Illustrated by E. POLLAK Decorated cover $1.50

THIS is a romance having a peculiarly interesting setting. It is a love story as sweet and pleasing as the author's popular "Dorothy South."

The action of this story lies in the region of the lower Mississippi river, and the period near the end of the Civil War. Mr. Eggleston has written no story that exceeds this one in all-compelling human interest.

Evelyn Byrd

Four illustrations by Charles Copeland 12mo Cloth $1.50

IN this, the third of Mr. Eggleston's romances of the Civil War, the story is told of a high-minded and courageous Southerner, Kilgariff, who joins the army of Lee. "Dorothy South" and other characters endeared to the readers of Mr. Eggleston's previous novels appear again as the friends and advisers of Kilgariff, who is, himself, the embodiment of Southern daring and chivalry.

THE FAMOUS PEPPER BOOKS

By MARGARET SIDNEY

Pepper
Trade mark registered Jan. 26, 1904

Ben Pepper

Tenth volume of the famous Pepper Books
Six illustrations by EUGENIE M. WIREMAN
12mo Cloth $1.50

IT was quite impossible that the detailed record presented through the later Pepper Books of the doings and sayings of the "Little Brown House" family should omit Ben. He, the eldest-born of Mother Pepper's brood, and her mainstay after the father died; "the quiet, steady-as-a-rock boy," as the Badgertown people all said, with lots of fun in him, too, for how could he help it, being a Pepper? Surely he was worthy of a book to himself. So all the hosts of readers of the Pepper series thought, and they accordingly besought the author to give Ben a chance to be better known. He was so ready always to efface himself that it was Margaret Sidney's responsibility, after all, to do this for all those who had loved his life in the earlier records.

So Margaret Sidney, despite Ben's wishes, has written this latest volume. To accomplish it Polly and Joel and David and Phronsie have told her most lovingly the facts with which it is strewn. Most of all, Mother Pepper-Fisher contributed to the new book out of a heart full of love and gratitude for her Ben.

Five Little Peppers and How They Grew

A new edition with eight full-page half-tone illustrations by HERMANN HEYER 12mo Cloth $1.50

"CHICAGO INTERIOR" says: "A book of home life and love. It tells the story of a poor family, obliged to pinch and plan and scrimp from day to day, but the members of which are so imbued with the home spirit as to make the little brown house in which they live a genuine paradise."

Sally, Mrs. Tubbs

An amusing sketch of village life and rustic character 12mo Decorative cover $1.00

SALLY is a laundress, a typical New England old maid, set upon getting married. The way she managed it, and her wedded experience with her meek husband, Mr. Tubbs, are told with charming humor and with touches of pathos. The sketch is true to life, and full of kindly human sentiment; it exhibits Margaret Sidney at her best.

The Judge's Cave

A Romance of the New Haven Colony in the Days of the Regicides

Illustrated by C. M. Relyea 12mo Cloth $1.50

THERE are few more fascinating phases of colonial history than that which tells the wanderings and adventures of the two fugitive judges of Charles the First, who were hunted out of England into hiding in New England, and their celebrated cave in the New Haven Colony. Margaret Sidney has, in this book, woven about them a romance of rare power and great beauty.

A Little Maid of Concord Town

W. O. STODDARD'S BOOKS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

Dan Monroe

A Story of Bunker Hill

First volume of Revolutionary series Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.25

MR. STODDARD'S name stands for excellence in acquainting young people with very good history, cased in story form, and always with substantial historical basis. In this first volume of a well planned series, the hero is one whose name is found in several trustworthy records as the drummer boy of the Lexington militia, his closest friend, Nat Harrington, being the fifer. The Concord fight, the Battle of Bunker Hill, and the arrival of Washington are introduced as parts of a carefully preserved historical outline.

Long Bridge Boys

Illustrated by I. B. Hazelton 12mo Cloth $1.25

IT tells the story of an actual attempt made by the Confederates of Virginia, just prior to the outbreak of the Civil War, to seize the city of Washington by force of arms, and make prisoners of President Lincoln and other high government officials.

Ahead of the Army

When Grandmamma was Fourteen

By MARION HARLAND Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.25

THOSE who recall this noted author's delightful story "When Grandmamma was New," will be glad to hear that in this book are the adventures of the heroine at a later period. Through the eyes of fourteen year old Molly Burwell, the reader sees much that is quaint, amusing and pathetic in antebellum Richmond, and the story has all the charm of manner and rich humanity which are characteristic of Marion Harland. All healthy-hearted children will delight in the story, and so will their parents.

When Grandmamma was New

The Story of a Virginia Girlhood in the "Forties"

By MARION HARLAND Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.25

A DELIGHTFUL autobiographical story of a little Virginian long "before the war." This book has a perpetual charm for old and young, North as well as South.

The "Delineator" says: "This book is a collection of stories which Marion Harland has been telling her grandchildren in that twilight hour when the little ones are restless and will only be quieted by 'more stories.'"

BY H. H. CLARK

The Admiral's Aid

A Story of Life in the New Navy

Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.25

IN this favorite author's two earlier books, we learned somewhat of the old navy. In this story it is the new navy with all of its progress and development which engages our attention.

Boy Life in the United States Navy

Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.25

THIS book is a true picture of a healthy, attractive life that is little known to the general public, and full enough of adventures to please all boy readers.

Joe Bently, Naval Cadet

Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.25

JOE BENTLY meets with many new and intensely interesting adventures, while the clear explanation of the little understood details of naval life are continued in with marked success.

THE "PANSY" BOOKS

By MRS. G. R. ALDEN ("PANSY")

PANSY

Trade mark registered June 4, 1895

For complete alphabetical list of all "Pansy" Books see pages 6 and 7

David Ransom's Watch

Illustrated by ERNEST FOSBERRY 12mo Cloth $1.50

PANSY'S recent writings have been for youth and adults. They are novels of everyday life, and the latest volume deals with human character and human nature in a way to deeply interest the reader. It is a story of love and purity, where the better affections are set toward the richer things of life, and will be enjoyed by all the author's youthful admirers, as well as those who have not altogether put their youth behind them.

Doris Farrand's Vocation

Illustrated by ERNEST FOSBERRY 12mo Cloth $1.50

"DORIS" is a college girl who tries to be of use to others, and with this aim in view introduces into her family, as student help, a poor young man who is working his way to a higher education. Despite external crudities, he proves himself worthier than Doris's accepted lover. In the end Doris's protégé helps her to make the right decision in a great moral crisis, and she finds that he, and not her worldly minded fiancé, is her true affinity.

Mara

Four illustrations 12mo Cloth $1.50

MARA, in the ever welcome series by Mrs. Alden, is the narrative of four girls, schoolmates at an old-fashioned boarding-school, and also deals with their later life experiences in various parts of the country and especially of their fortunes in love.

Pauline

Illustrated by ELIZABETH SHIPPEN GREEN 12mo Cloth $1.50

A ROMANCE of to-day; full of strong situations, complications, and deep thought. It is absorbing, often dramatic, and yet imbued with those religious and moral elements that underlie all of Mrs. Alden's work.

Mag and Margaret

Illustrated by C. CHASE EMERSON 12mo Cloth $1.50

A BOOK for girls written in Pansy's inimitable manner when telling a strong and helpful story for children. Mag is a lovable character; and Margaret becomes so in time, but only through stern experience.

Unto the End

Illustrated by C. CHASE EMERSON 12mo Cloth $1.50

THIS book of Mrs. Alden's is not really a "Pansy Book," if by that is meant one of juvenile character. The present volume is a novel for adult readers, and is characterized by this favorite writer's natural gift of story-telling in its most interesting style.

Looking For Alice

By WALTER BURGESS SMITH With over forty illustrations by C. Howard 4to Cloth $1.25

A LITTLE girl named Harriet descends through an old well into the land of dreams, to look for Alice of Wonderland, and meets with adventures no less astonishing than those of Alice herself. The story abounds in playful fancies and droll humor, and is entirely original in its treatment. Children who have never read the famous "Adventures" will like this tale on its own merits.

Animals in Action

Compiled by Elbridge S. Brooks from the German of Brahm and others Illustrated with 100 full-page, half-tone illustrations by Specht Cloth 4to $1.50

THIS entertaining and instructive volume is compiled from the German of one of the most well-versed and thoroughly reliable students of natural history. It is devoted especially to wild animals, and the illustrations by the noted animal artist, Specht, show the subjects in action, and the fierce struggle for life, rather than in the listlessness of captivity.

The Boys of Clovernook

The Story of Five Boys on a Farm

By MARY BARNES BEAL Illustrated by Etheldred B. Barry 4to Cloth $1.50

A CHARMING home story of five little boys who came, by one odd way or another, to the care of Aunt Rachel and Uncle John at Clovernook. Their doings and experiences, funny, serious, pathetic, and exciting, make up the story, which is as fresh and breezy as it is strong and sympathetic. It is a book that young readers will return to with pleasure, again and again.

Ethel in Fairyland

By EDITH R. BOLSTER Small 4to Six illustrations by Hermann Heyer Cloth $1.00

"ETHEL IN FAIRYLAND" is a delightful little allegory. A child falls asleep and dreams that she has a number of adventures in a wood, where she meets various people personifying the moral qualities, like bad temper, unkindness, and envy, and learns a good lesson from them to tell her mother when she awakes the next morning. The book is written in a way to please both mothers and children.

Three Little Maids

By MARY BATHURST DEANE Illustrated by F. O. Small 4to Cloth $1.25

A STORY of English girl life and character, unique in its development and delightful in its atmosphere. A book of three English children whom all American children will like.

KINDERGARTEN BOOKS BY EMILIE POULSSON

Editor of "The Kindergarten Review"

THESE books are too well known to need description. Many thousands have been sold to teachers in primary and kindergarten grades, and they are also well established in the homes where there are young children. In the element of child interest they are unexcelled.

The Runaway Donkey And other Rhymes for Children

Profusely illustrated by L. J. BRIDGMAN 4to Cloth $1.50

THIS new book of illustrated rhymes tells more about the tricksey donkey, Barney Gray, and narrates also the doings of various birds and beasts in a way to please the fancy and arouse the sympathy of children, while gratifying the love of animals which is so strong in childish hearts. It is an ideal book for both home and kindergarten, containing such poems as "The Pigeons," and "Who Gives us our Thanksgiving Dinner?" already prime favorites with kindergartners. The large and plentiful illustrations bring into special prominence the element of fun which is strong in this book and will help to make it a favorite.

Finger Plays With Music

Illustrated 4to Cloth $1.25

THE standard "supplementary" book in every kindergarten. Thousands of copies in use in nurseries and infant schools.

THE SUCCESS BOOKS BY DR. ORISON SWETT MARDEN

Editor "Success"

The Making of a Man

Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.25

VERY few secular books have accomplished as much as the remarkable "Self Help," by Samuel Smiles, and if any man at the present time is qualified to continue the subject, that man is certainly Dr. Marden, who is so well identified with the magazine "Success," of which the title and record are synonymous. This book is a succession of talks to boys on such subjects as "Self Honor," "The Price of Success," "Ruskin's Motto," "I Must, therefore I Can," "Courage at the Sticking Point," "Courtesy, Tidiness and Heart Sunshine," and many others,—twenty-one helpful sections of a book that it will please any youth to own and prize. This will make a splendid gift for any boy or young man.

Stepping Stones

Essays for Everyday Living

Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.25

UNDOUBTEDLY one of the most stimulating and healthful books which could be put into the hands of youthful readers, containing not merely abstract theorizing and exhortation, but practical advice and suggestion.

How they Succeeded

Life Stories of Successful Men Told by Themselves

Eight illustrations from photographs 12mo Cloth $1.50

THIS book of life stories is composed of personal interviews with the successful Americans whose fame is world wide,—Carnegie, Wanamaker, Helen Gould, Edison, Vreeland, Lew Wallace, and others.

Winning Out

A Book about Success

Illustrated with portraits 12mo Cloth $1.00

AN inspiring book for young people. The present volume is distinctively for young persons, who will find its many true anecdotes entertaining, and its lessons in self-control, diligence, punctuality and manners worth modelling their deportment upon."

The Ready Rangers

By KIRK MUNROE Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.25

A STORY of land and sea,—bicycling, canoeing, and all healthy athletic sports.

Shine Terrill

The Story of a Sea Island Ranger

By KIRK MUNROE Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.25

THE story of a Southern boy who leaves home under enforced conditions, but who, though often in danger, proves himself bright, handy, apt and healthful.

Black Beauty

His Grooms and Companions

By ANNA SEWELL 12 full-page illustrations 12mo Cloth $1.00 Same, 16mo edition 12 illustrations Cloth 50c.

THIS is the original and only authorized edition of this delightful and famous classic of humanity. It should be in the hand of every lover of the horse. Its influence upon young people in giving them distinct ideas of humanity and kindness in their treatment of animals has proved invaluable.

LADY GAY SERIES

Illustrated Square 16mo Cloth Each Volume, $ .50

A delightful series for little girls

Lady Gay

By MRS. GEORGE ARCHIBALD

THE story of a dear little girl who was "Wednesday's child," and therefore had "far to go." A charming story, delightfully told and plentifully illustrated.

A Dozen Good Times

By MRS. GEORGE ARCHIBALD

A SEQUEL to "Lady Gay," and just as charmingly told and illustrated.

Me and My Dolls

By LAURA T. MEADE

JUST the "cutest" doll story ever written; to which are added the amusing and surprising adventures of Mopsy and Hans.

Laura's Holidays

By HENRIETTA R. ELIOT

A DELIGHTFUL story about little Laura, and what she and her friends did to enjoy the twelve best holidays of the year.

Laura in the Mountains

By HENRIETTA R. ELIOT

MRS. ELIOT in this story gives her readers a sprightly account of a camping out experience in the Oregon Woods; of Laura, an attractive little girl, whom they already know in this author's "Laura's Holidays."

When I was a Boy in China

By YAN PHOU LEE 16mo Cloth $ .60

RECOMMENDED by the State Boards of Wisconsin and other States for their public school libraries.

"New York Independent" says: "Yan Phou Lee was one of the young men sent to this country to be educated here, and finally matriculated at Yale, where he graduated with honor. 'When I was a Boy in China' embodies his recollections of his native country. The peculiar merit of the book is that it is the only publication of the kind in which the work is done by a native hand."

The Mutineers

By EUSTACE L. WILLIAMS Four illustrations by I. B. Hazelton 12mo Cloth $1.25

THE MUTINEERS is a boys' story by Mr. Eustace L. Williams of the "Louisville Courier Journal." It gives a picture of life in a large boarding school, where a certain set of boys control the athletics, and shows how their unjust power was broken by the hero of the tale, who forms a rival baseball nine and manages to defeat his opponents, thus bringing a better state of things in the school socially and as to sports.

Defending the Bank

By EDWARD S. VAN ZILE Four illustrations by I. B. Hazelton 12mo Cloth $1.25

THIS book is a most amusing and interesting detective story for boys and girls, in which a couple of bright boys and girls appoint themselves amateur detectives and are able to run down a couple of bank robbers who are planning to rob the bank of which the father of one of the boys is president.

Camp and Trail

By ISABEL HORNIBROOK A story of the Maine Woods Illustrated by George Foster Barnes 12mo Cloth $1.50

A STORY for boys and girls who delight in adventure. But it is a peculiar book of adventure. Two English boys with their friend, an American collegian, go into the woods of Maine to hunt deer and moose. But they never kill wantonly or for mere sport,—only for food or in self-defence. They study the ways of the great game of the woods, and breathe in health, inspiration and noble thoughts with the odor of the pines and the air of lake and mountain.

KATE TANNATT WOODS'S BOOKS

A Little New England Maid

Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.00

A GOOD story every way,—not a girl's story only, but for boys and girls.

Mopsy

A girl's story Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.25

A DELIGHTFUL story of a brave-hearted little city girl who took upon herself the care of her invalid mother.

Six Little Rebels

Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.50

Doctor Dick

Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.50

A Partnership in Magic

By CHARLES B. LOOMIS Four illustrations 12mo Cloth $1.25

THIS book by a widely known humorist, is an extremely original and clever juvenile, Mr. Loomis's first piece of long fiction. It has a fairy-tale motive in an entirely realistic setting. A country boy who has a marvellous power of plucking fruit from the bare branches of any tree, goes to New York, and with a friend starts in the fruit business, and makes a large sum of money in a couple of weeks of their partnership.

The Little Citizen

By M. WALLER Illustrated by H. Burgess 12mo Cloth $1.25

THIS is a right royal good juvenile story. It has the gripping power to hold and keep holding. It is the narrative of the development of a waif of New York streets in the simple and wholesome life of a Vermont farmer neighborhood.

Through Thick and Thin

By MOLLY ELLIOT SEAWELL Comprising a soldier story, "Through Thick and Thin," and a sailor story, "The Midshipmen's Mess" Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.50

NO more delightful delineator of life in the camp and of life afloat than Miss Seawell writes to-day for young people. Her stories are strong, breezy, helpful, and inspiring. Both are equally good and equally attractive.

The Treasure of Shag Rock

By ROBERT LLOYD Illustrated by Frank Downey 12mo Cloth $1.25

"BUFFALO EXPRESS" says: "'The Treasure of Shag Rock,' by Robert Lloyd, is a striking story for boys. It combines the modern story of athletics with the old-fashioned story of treasure-hunting. The story is fresh and breezy."

A Japanese Garland

By FLORENCE PELTIER Four illustrations by Genjiro Yeto Small 4to Cloth $1.00

"A JAPANESE GARLAND" tells of a Japanese lad who has a number of American boys and girls as friends, to whom he tells a series of folk-lore tales associated with the flowers of Japan.

BY EDWARD EVERETT HALE

THE FAMILY FLIGHT SERIES

By E. E. HALE and SUSAN HALE The travels of a personally conducted party of boys and girls, at home and abroad Illustrated 8vo Cloth Each, $1.50

THESE five books are recommended by the State Boards of several States for their public school libraries.

The Family Flight Series of books which here follow were written by Edward Everett Hale and his sister, Miss Susan Hale, in collaboration.

A Family Flight Around Home

THIS "Flight" around home takes in the principal towns and localities in Northern New York and in the Eastern States, to which belong historical reminiscences of the Revolutionary War.

A Family Flight Over Egypt and Syria

THE family make their flight from New York, landing at Bordeaux, and pushing on to Marseilles, which they reach just in time to catch the steamer for Alexandria. At Alexandria two days, and on to Cairo. From there they extend their travels to other historical localities of the Holy Land.

A Family Flight Through France, Germany, Norway, and Switzerland

A MONTH is spent in Paris, affording opportunity not only for general sight-seeing, but for study of the French language and the famous works of art. A winter in the cities of Germany gives a like opportunity for studying Germany, and for enjoying a German Christmas. In Norway, "the land of the midnight sun," they meet with much that is novel and quaint, and in Switzerland they roam over the mountains associated with the name of William Tell.

A Family Flight Through Mexico

THIS time the scene chosen for the flight is Mexico, where they visit the principal cities, see the noteworthy features, and learn some of the history of that Republic.

A Family Flight Through Spain

IN no respect inferior in interest or attractiveness to its predecessors.

The Story of Massachusetts Illustrated 8vo Cloth $1.50

DR. HALE'S "story" is a unique and comprehensive association of nineteen historical epochs in the history of Massachusetts, presented in the terse, picturesque, practical, and absorbing manner that has made him a master among American history writers. (See "Story of the States" Series.)

Boys' Heroes Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.00

A POPULAR, gossipy account of Hector, Horatius, Alexander the Great, Hannibal King Arthur, Richard the Lion-Hearted, Bayard, Robinson Crusoe, Israel Putnam, General Lafayette, Napoleon, and Ralph Allestree.

BY MARY E. WILKINS

Once Upon a Time

and Other Child Verses

Illustrated by Etheldred B. Barry 12mo Cloth $1.00

A VOLUME of poetry for children by one of the foremost American story-tellers. Here are fairy stories, ballads, nursery rhymes, jingles, everything, in fact, that a verse-loving child will enjoy. They are delicious in fancy, musical in rhythm, perfect in literary skill, deftly and charmingly illustrated by one in sympathy with the singer. A beautiful book, beautifully executed.

The Pot of Gold

Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.50

SIXTEEN delightful stories by this famous and favorite author, written for young people, but interesting to older readers. "The Bound Girl" and "Deacon Thomas Wales's Will" tell of early New England life; the others are full of delicious fun and quaint imaginings.

In Colonial Times

Artistic covers Illustrated by Garrett 12mo Cloth $ .50

Bible Boys and Girls

How They Looked, Where They Lived, What They Did

By CALVIN DILL WILSON and JAMES KNAPP REEVE Illustrated 8vo Cloth $1.00

THIS unique and original study of the boys and girls who occupy leading positions in the Bible story has been prepared by its writers after years of research. The young people whom it describes are studied from modern standpoints and in the light of modern information.

BY SOPHIE SWETT

Bilberry Boys and Girls

Their Adventures and Misadventures, Their Trials and Triumphs

Illustrated by Etheldred B. Barry 12mo Cloth $1.25

A BOOK of exceptional interest and charm, by a masterly delineator of New England village and rural life.

The Ponkaty Branch Road

Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.00

NO story-teller of the present day is more popular with boys and girls than Sophie Swett. This book is a great favorite.

Tom Pickering of 'Scutiny

His Experiences and Perplexities

Illustrated by H. D. Young 12mo Cloth $1.25

THE story of a boy and his mates—boys and girls alike—in a country village and by the seashore, and his sister Luella, his partner in the printing enterprise.

BY CHARLES STUART PRATT

Buz-Buz His Twelve Adventures

Illustrated by L. J. Bridgman 12mo Cloth $ .75

THIS is the story of and by a house-fly—"a buzzy fly, a very lively fly, too, in spite of my great age," he says. A capital story for little ones.

Stick-and-Pea Plays

Pastimes for the Children's Year

Seventy-five working designs and other illustrations 12mo Cloth $ .75

A BOOK for the home and the school, designed as a handy help to mothers and teachers in amusing and instructing the little ones, and a still handier help to children in amusing themselves.

BY ANNIE H. RYDER

Go Right on, Girls

12mo Cloth $1.00

TWELVE bright, cheery, much-needed talks to girls about the development of their bodies, minds, and characters.

Hold up Your Heads, Girls

12mo Cloth $1.00

THE author has, in the treatment of a very important subject, invested it with an interest and brightness which will make it pleasant and even fascinating reading for the class of young people to whom it is addressed.

Margaret Regis and Some Other Girls

Illustrated Cloth 12mo $1.25

THE college life of young women is described in this book in a very entertaining way. Margaret Regis is a splendid creation of the author's fancy, just such a young woman as all of us like to read about.

BY AMANDA B. HARRIS

American Authors for Young Folks

Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.00

SHE tells us about the earlier group of American writers,—Irving, Cooper, Prescott, Emerson, and Hawthorne,—all of whom are gone, and also of some of those who came later, among them the Cary sisters, Thoreau, Lowell, Helen Hunt, Donald G. Mitchell, and others.

Door-yard Folks

Illustrated by E. H. Garrett 12mo Cloth $1.00

"DOOR-YARD FOLKS" are animals: moles to begin with, toads, then humming-birds, fishes, foxes, squirrels: zoölogy.

Pleasant Authors for Young Folks

Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.00

A VOLUME of short biographies for young people—Scott, Miss Mitford, Charles Lamb, Leigh Hunt, Kingsley, Macdonald, Ruskin, Charlotte Brontë, and others are described.

BY MARY E. BAMFORD

The Look-about Club

Illustrated 4to Cloth $1.25

THE LOOK-ABOUT CLUB is a party of children who know very little about natural history. They form a little natural history club with the aim of finding out new facts about animals, insects, and other living creatures.

Recommended by the State Board of Minnesota and other States for their public school libraries.

The Second Year of The Look-about Club

Illustrated 4to Cloth $1.25

THE LOOK-ABOUT CLUB, grown wiser and more observing by the first year's experience in the study of natural history.

My Land and Water Friends

Nearly 200 illustrations by L. J. Bridgman 4to Cloth $1.25

RECOMMENDED by the State Board of Minnesota and other States for their public school libraries.

Talks by Queer Folks

Illustrated by H. P. Barnes 4to Cloth $1.25

A FURTHER description of certain land and water friends, dealing with some very queer, but very interesting creatures.

BY LAURA D. NICHOLS

Lotus Bay Illustrated 4to Cloth $1.25

FAMILY life at the seashore, with hints of geology, life-saving service, lighthouses, etc.

Nelly Marlow in Washington Illustrated 4to Cloth $1.25

Overhead Illustrated 4to Cloth $1.25

A TRIP to the moon, Saturn, the sun, and various other stations, with a bit of easy astronomy sprinkled in.

Underfoot Illustrated 4to Cloth $1.25

PEEPS into the earth we live on, especially at its caves, volcanoes, fossils, and petrifactions.

Up Hill and Down Dale

A story of nature. Illustrated 4to Cloth $1.25

Eyes Right By ADAM STWIN Illustrated 4to Cloth $1.25

A LITTLE fellow with an eager, exploring soul back of his eyes, to make them see, is the author's delight; and he loves, after a real good romp with the children, to have a good, quiet talk with them when the frolic is over.

My Wonder Story

By ANNE K. BENEDICT Illustrated 4to Cloth $1.25

"CHICAGO INTERIOR" says: "If a child happens to ask a question about his own bones, or about muscles and nerves, etc., the father and mother are wise indeed if they are able to give him exact information. But this book will do it, and that, too, without the use of many technical or scientific terms."

BY SARAH K. BOLTON

How Success is Won

A fine portrait accompanies each biography 12mo Cloth $1.00

"BOSTON TRAVELER" says: "Short sketches of the lives of Peter Cooper, John Hopkins, the poet Whittier, William Hunt, Thomas Edison, Gough, John Wanamaker, and a few others. No better book could be put into the hands of young people."

Some Successful Women

Illustrated with portraits 12mo Cloth $1.00

TWELVE brief biographies of American women. Among them are Marion Harland (Mrs. Terhune); Mrs. G. R. Alden (Pansy); Clara Barton, the philanthropist; Alice Freeman, ex-president of Wellesley College; Rachel Bodley, dean of the Woman's Medical College, Philadelphia; Frances E. Willard, the temperance reformer.

Recommended by the State Board of Wisconsin for the public school libraries.

Social Studies in England

Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.00

"CHICAGO DIAL" says: "Packed with interesting matter concerning the efforts in progress in that country for the education of women and the dispensation of charity. Mrs. Bolton spent two years in England investigating the subjects of which she treats, and had access to all sources of information relating to them."

The Aërial Runaway

By WILLIAM P. and CHARLES P. CHIPMAN
Illustrated by W. A. McCullough 12mo
Cloth $1.50

A GOOD story for boys, founded on an involuntary voyage in a runaway balloon managed by a professional aëronaut. The adventurers' journey through space takes them across land and sea, and drops them finally on a sacred South American mesa, where they discover the lost city of the Incas, and have adventures, dangers, and escapes of breathless interest, and yet entirely practical.

A Boy's Workshop

By a boy and his friends. With an introduction by Henry Randall Waite 12mo Illustrated Cloth $1.00

"CHICAGO ADVANCE" says: "Written by 'a boy and his friends,' it tells you how to make and to use a work-bench; how to use tools and to care for them; lets you into the secret of book-rests, tables, cabinets, etc.; shows you how to build wooden tents, make a fernery, bind magazines, take photographs, tie knots, and do a great many other things. It is a book that every boy ought to have."

Little Books by Big Authors

By CHARLOTTE M. YONGE, author of "Heir of Redclyffe," etc. Twenty-three full-page illustrations, new edition

HOW little Lucy travelled all about her Uncle Joe's big globe in her dreams and made acquaintance with all the people of the world.

Allan the Hunter

A Tale of Three Lions

By H. RIDER HAGGARD, author of "King Solomon's Mines"

AN exciting tale of adventure as told through the mouth of the famous hunter, "Allan Quartermain," by that prince of story-tellers, H. Rider Haggard.

Cruise of the Albatross

A Tale of the South Pacific

By GRANT ALLEN

A THRILLING boy's story of hardship and adventure and fortunate deliverance among the islands of the Southern Pacific Ocean.

A District Messenger Boy and A Necktie Party

By JAMES OTIS

TWO characteristic stories by the best delineator of life among the newsboys.

Pansy Billings and Popsy

By HELEN HUNT JACKSON ("H. H.")

TWO delightful stories of girl life by the author of "Ramona."

Bony and Ban The Story of a Printing Venture

By MARY HARTWELL CATHERWOOD

A MOST entertaining story of boy and girl life, by the author of "Romance of Dollard" and other popular books.

Labor of Love A Story for Boys

By JULIA MAGRUDER

A FRESH, strong, interesting, and helpful story of a boy's experiences, temptations, deliverance, and success, by one of the most entertaining of American story-tellers.

Sinbad the Sailor The Story of the Fisherman

Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves Aladdin, or The Wonderful Lamp

The Child Amy

By JULIA MAGRUDER Illustrated 4to Cloth $1.25

THIS book is charmingly written, being a story of a little child picked up in mid-ocean by a boy who took upon himself her adoption and education. It shows how the child by her winsome ways made friends with the boy's uncle who had cast him off, thereby effecting a reconciliation between them.

Child Sketches from George Eliot

Selected from the works of the great novelist by JULIA MAGRUDER Illustrated by R. B. Birch and Amy Brooks 4to Cloth $1.25

THIS is a unique and delightful book for children, and for older readers as well. It introduces them to the children who appear in "Romola," "Middlemarch," "Mill on the Floss," "Silas Marner," etc., and is the best possible introduction, by a skilled and popular story-teller, to the leading romance-writer of the century.

Dollikins and the Miser

By FRANCES EATON Illustrated 4to Cloth $1.25

QUAINT, original, impetuous and full of noble impulses, Dollikins is one of the most charming creations of child fiction. Her generous nature not only changes the old miser, but influences all as well. The other characters are also strongly drawn.

A Queer Little Princess

By FRANCES EATON Illustrated 4to Cloth $1.25

HENRIETTA MINERVA LONGSTREET NELSON is her full name. She is not a royal-blood princess, but the "queerest, dearest, best little girl in the world," nicknamed "Little Princess," because — as the nurse expresses it — she is so "fine and pretty." A fair-haired, prattling, whimsical, self-sacrificing little peacemaker is her "Royal Highness," by her artless ways bending everybody to her own sweet will.

Little He and She

By GRACE DENIO LITCHFIELD Illustrated 4to Cloth $1.25

A CHARMING story of two intensely natural children, who by their love of one another, and their unconsciousness of the meaning of the word "hate," bring together two older persons who have been long estranged. A thoroughly healthy, unconventional, amusing, and helpful story for both young and old.

A Little Millionaire

By MARTHA LIVINGSTON MOODY Illustrated 4to Cloth $1.25

A CHARMING story of child life in New York, in which the contrasts between plenty and poverty are sharply drawn, but in which the gentle influence of the little millionaire makes sweet the waste places of life.

The Children's History Book

Tales of the history of our native land, by the best writers of historical stories Illustrated 4to Cloth $1.00

THIS artistic volume is devoted especially to the romance of American history. The stories are all bright, attractive, dramatic, absorbing, instructive, and inspiring; and this beautiful book should make the boys and girls who read it better Americans and real patriots.

The Children's Nonsense Book

Tales and rhymes of fun, nonsense, and absurdity, by favorite fun-makers Illustrated 4to Cloth $1.00

"LEAR'S NONSENSE BOOK" has been read and re-read to tatters by countless children. This new Nonsense Book is in the same line of healthful absurdities in verse and story, and is sure to be welcomed and read by every fun-loving boy and girl. It is the work of the best-known writers of fun for children.

The Children's Wonder Book

Tales of marvel, mystery, and merriment, by popular story-tellers Illustrated 4to Cloth $1.00

A COLLECTION of delightful stories of the "Alice in Wonderland" order, full of fun and fancy, surprises and sentiment, told in the most delicious way by some of the best and most famous writers of children's stories. A novel and attractive volume in the most popular department of story-telling.

THOUSANDS will instantly recognize the quaint black pictures of this famous little book of which it has been for years almost impossible to secure a copy at any price. All appear here just as they delighted children two generations ago, and Dr. Hale's enthusiastic words give a great additional value to the book.

PHILLIPS EXETER SERIES

In the Line

Third volume of the "Phillips Exeter Series"

By A. T. DUDLEY Illustrated by CHARLES COPELAND $1.25

IT is no wonder that Mr. Dudley has such a hold upon the active boys and young men who in great and constantly increasing numbers read his books. The life they represent is a genuine picture of a great American preparatory school; the athletic interest, which is so strong as fitly to give name to his volumes, is most accurately introduced, as is to be expected from a former Harvard 'Varsity quarter-back, who has since kept actively in touch with all forms of athletics; and the inherent manliness of the books crowns them as the best of their kind. As his first book, "Following the Ball," gives the fortunes of a player in the back field in connection with his general school life, so "In the Line" tells how a stalwart young student won his position at guard and at the same time made equally marked progress in the building of character. Plenty of jolly companions contribute a strong, humorous element, and the book has every essential of a favorite.

Making the Nine

Second volume of the "Phillips Exeter Series"

By A. T. DUDLEY Illustrated by CHARLES COPELAND, and by Exeter views $1.25

THIS story is lively and worth telling, and the life presented is that of a real school, interesting, diversified, and full of striking incidents, while the characters are true and consistent types of American boyhood and youth. The athletics are technically correct, abounding in helpful suggestions, soundly and wisely given, and the moral tone is high and set by action rather than preaching. The author's style is so good that no less an authority than Professor Wentworth, of Exeter, said of "Following the Ball," that it might serve well for a text-book in English.

Following the Ball

First volume of the "Phillips Exeter Series"

By A. T. DUDLEY Illustrated by CHARLES COPELAND $1.25

HERE is an up-to-date story presenting American boarding-school life and modern athletics. Of course football is an important feature, and in tracing the development of the hero from a green player to an expert it might serve as a guide. Other branches of athletics are also finely dealt with. The portion devoted to training in kicking was prepared under the direction of one of Harvard's greatest players, and the account of the final game will thrill any one who has ever felt the inspiration of football. But it is far more than a football book. It is a story of character formation told in a most wholesome and manly way. In this development athletics play an important part, to be sure, but are only one feature in carrying the hero, "Dick Melvin," on to a worthy manhood.

The Boy Craftsman

Practical and Profitable Ideas for a Boy's Leisure Hours

By A. NEELY HALL Illustrated with many diagrams and working drawings 8vo $2.00

EVERY real boy wishes to design and make things, but the questions of materials and tools are often hard to get around. Nearly all books on the subject call for a greater outlay of money than is within the means of many boys, or their parents wish to expend in such ways. This book is the very best yet offered for its large number of practical and profitable ideas. A number of chapters give suggestions for carrying on a small business that will bring a boy in money with which to buy tools and materials necessary for making apparatus and articles described in other chapters, while the ideas are so practical that many an industrious boy can learn what he is best fitted for in his life work. No work of its class is so completely up-to-date or so worthy in point of thoroughness and avoidance of danger. This element alone places Mr. Hall's work beyond comparison, and as an example of the practical nature of the book it can be said that what many a boy wants is not an expensive workshop, which is out of the question, but directions for building a shanty with what material he can pick up, and in the chapter "A Back Yard Club House" just such treatment has been presented. The idea of economy is everywhere carried out, teaching a valuable lesson and commending the work to parents who will more willingly buy a book that does not suggest a constant future drain on the purse. The drawings are profuse and excellent, and every feature of the book is first-class.

The Boy Pathfinder

A Story of the Oregon Trail

Second volume of the "Making of Our Nation Series"

By WILLIAM C. SPRAGUE, Editor of "The American Boy" Illustrated by A. B. SHUTE $1.50

MR. SPRAGUE'S plan of bringing out important epochs in our country's history by means of a series of well-told stories for boys was most successfully begun last year. In his present book he has as hero an actual character, George Shannon, a Pennsylvania lad, who at seventeen left school to become one of the Lewis and Clark expedition. He had narrow escapes, but persevered, and the story of his wanderings, interwoven with excellent historical information, makes the highest type of general reading for the young.

The Boy Courier of Napoleon

A Story of the Louisiana Purchase

By WILLIAM C. SPRAGUE Illustrated by A. B. SHUTE Large 12mo 350 pages Price $1.50

WILLIAM C. SPRAGUE, the notably successful editor of "The American Boy," has given for the first time the history of the Louisiana Purchase in such entertaining story form that the reader forgets in his interest in the hero that he is reading history. The hero is introduced as a French drummer boy in the great battle of Hohenlinden. He serves as a valet to Napoleon and learns of the great events that are making history. Later he is sent with secret messages to the French in San Domingo and in Louisiana. After exciting adventures he accomplishes his mission and is present at the lowering of the Spanish flag, and later at that of the French and the raising of the Stars and Stripes.

EDWARD STRATEMEYER'S WORKS

SOLDIERS OF FORTUNE SERIES

By EDWARD STRATEMEYER Illustrated by A. B. SHUTE $1.25 each

At the Fall of Port Arthur

Or A Young American in the Japanese Navy

Third volume in the "Soldiers of Fortune Series"

"AT the Fall of Port Arthur" is another of Mr. Stratemeyer's spirited war stories. It relates, primarily, the adventures of Larry Russell, so well known to countless thousands of readers of the famous "Old Glory Series." Larry is on board his old ship, the Columbia, which is carrying a cargo for the Japanese government, and is made a prisoner. A chase ensues, followed by a thrilling sea fight, and the young American escapes to one of the Japanese cruisers. The young sailor joins the Japanese navy, and under Admiral Togo assists at the bombardment of Port Arthur. Life in the Japanese navy is described in detail, and also life in Port Arthur during a siege and bombardment, which has few parallels in history.

The Fort in the Wilderness

Or the Soldier Boys of the Indian Trails

Fifth volume of the "Colonial Series"

THIS story, announced last year as a companion volume to "On the Trail of Pontiac," is by far the best tale of colonial days yet penned by this favorite author for young people. A central figure is the noted Indian warrior, Pontiac, and the particulars are given of the rise and fall of that awful conspiracy against the whites, which will never be forgotten. A large portion of the action takes place at Detroit and around the Great Lakes.

FIRST VOLUME OF THE DAVE PORTER SERIES

Dave Porter at Oak Hall

Or The Schooldays of an American Boy

By EDWARD STRATEMEYER Illustrated by HAROLD M. BRETT $1.25

AMERICA'S most widely read writer of stories for boys, Mr. Stratemeyer, has entered upon a most promising series in his happy creation of a typical American school-boy. Never was there a brighter, more manly, thoroughly up-to-date boy than Dave Porter, and all boys who read about him, and girls too, for the matter of that, will be sure to love him from the start. How, as a green country boy, he went to Oak Hall, how he was hazed, and how he had to fight his way through until he was voted a jolly good fellow and was given a place on the school baseball team, and helped to win a great game, is told with a naturalness that is true to life.

American Boys' Life of Theodore Roosevelt

By EDWARD STRATEMEYER Fully illustrated $1.25

THE book covers the whole life of our honored executive, step by step. Many chapters have also been devoted to Mr. Roosevelt's numerous adventures as a hunter and as a ranchman (true stories, which are bound to be dear to the hearts of all boys who love the strenuous life), and full particulars are given of the daring battles for Cuban liberty in which our worthy President, as lieutenant-colonel of the Rough Riders, took such a conspicuous part.

American Boys' Life of William McKinley

By EDWARD STRATEMEYER Fully illustrated $1.25

HERE is told the whole story of William McKinley's boyhood days, his life at school and at college, his work as a school teacher, his glorious career in the army, his struggles to obtain a footing as a lawyer, his efforts as a Congressman, and lastly his prosperous career as our President.

Larry the Wanderer

Or The Rise of a Nobody

By EDWARD STRATEMEYER Illustrated by A. B. SHUTE $1.00

THIS is a plain tale of every-day life, written especially for boys and girls who do not care particularly for stories with a historical or geographical background. The unravelling of the curious mystery which surrounds Larry's identity makes reading that no young folks will care to miss. A story of good moral tone, and quite out of the ordinary.

Joe, the Surveyor

Or The Value of a Lost Claim

By EDWARD STRATEMEYER Illustrated by A. B. SHUTE 12mo Cloth $1.00

THIS story relates the trials and triumphs of a sturdy country youth who is compelled to go forth into the world and earn, not alone his own living, but also support for his twin sister and his invalid father.

THE ST. LAWRENCE SERIES

Cruising on the St. Lawrence

Or A Summer Vacation in Historic Waters

Third Volume of the "St. Lawrence Series" By E. T. TOMLINSON Illustrated by A. BURNHAM SHUTE 12mo Cloth $1.50

DR. TOMLINSON surely understood the fascination attending student companionships when he planned this most valuable and successful series. In the present volume our old friends, Bob, Ben, Jock, and Bert, have completed their sophomore year at college, and after two delightful experiences it is easy to understand that they wish nothing different for a summer vacation than further acquaintance with the noble "St. Lawrence." This they secure by means of a sloop yacht in which they visit places of historic interest and also seek out the Indian tribes encamped on the banks of the river and learn from them their customs, habits, and quaint legends.

Jack Tenfield's Star

A Story for Boys and Some Girls

By MARTHA JAMES Author of "My Friend Jim" and "Tom Winstone, 'Wide Awake'" Illustrated by CHARLES COPELAND Large 12mo 325 pages $1.25

JACK Tenfield is a bright Boston boy, who, while preparing for college, is brought to face the fact that his father, a benevolent physician, and supposed to be well-to-do, had really left no estate. Jack resolutely defends his father's memory, and makes the best of it. Circumstances bring much travel and many adventures, in all of which his generous, manly character rings true. Two men are one day discussing him, and one says that he will make his mark. To this the other assents, provided the boy's star is lucky. The other declares that to be nonsense, and that each is his own star. That Jack is capable of being his "own star" well expresses the excellent thought of the book, which is remarkable for variety of well-told incidents. Jack's sister Nannie is a very important character, and girls will also be attracted to the story.

Tom Winstone, "Wide Awake"

By MARTHA JAMES Large 12mo Illustrated by W. HERBERT DUNTON $1.00

WE have often wished that we could secure a book for boys like the undying ones written by J. T. Trowbridge, and in "Tom Winstone" we have a young hero whose story is told in a way well worthy to be compared with the work of the older writer referred to. The sterling quality shown in "My Friend Jim" is all here, and "Tom," an older boy, equally efficient in baseball, a foot-race, or a noble action, is well worth knowing.

My Friend Jim

A Story of Real Boys and For Them

By MARTHA JAMES Large 12mo Illustrated by FRANK T. MERRILL 200 pages $1.00

JUST the book to place in the hands of bright, active boys, and one that the most careful parents will be glad to use for that purpose. The loyal friendship springing up between Jim, the son of a mechanic, and a wealthy man's son who is at Sunnyside farm for his health, has made the basis for some of the cleanest, brightest, and most helpful descriptions of boy life that we have ever read. The fun is rich, and at the same time kindness to animals, manliness, and honor are taught in the truest way.

The Scarlet Patch

The Story of a Patriot Boy in the Mohawk Valley

By MARY E. Q. BRUSH Author of "Paul and Persis" Illustrated by GEORGE W. PICKNELL $1.25

THERE are no more popular tales for boys than those of Revolutionary times, and Mrs. Brush well knows the thrilling history of the Mohawk Valley, affording as it does scenes second to none in historical interest. "The Scarlet Patch" was the badge of a Tory organization, and a loyal patriot boy, Donald Bastien, is dismayed at learning that his uncle, with whom he is a "bound boy," is secretly connected with this treacherous band. Thrilling scenes follow in which a faithful Indian figures prominently, and there is a vivid presentation of the school and home life as well as the public affairs of those times.

Stories of Brave Old Times

Some Pen Pictures of Scenes Which Took Place Previous to, or Connected With, the American Revolution

By HELEN M. CLEVELAND Author of "Vivid Scenes in American History" Profusely illustrated from photographs and with pen drawings Large 12mo Cloth $1.25

A FEW unsigned articles in "Youth's Companion" first attracted attention to Miss Cleveland as a portrayer of the dramatic in history. The late Daniel Ford said of them, "Fresh, vigorous, dramatic, and picturesque." These words most aptly describe her riper work in this book. It is a book for every library, a book for adults, and a book for the young. Perhaps no other book yet written sets the great cost of freedom so clearly before the young, consequently is such a spur to patriotism.

Two Young Inventors

The Story of the Flying Boat

By ALVAH MILTON KERR Illustrated $1.25

HERE is a rattling good story; a tale of mystery, mechanism, and getting on in the world that will be a boy's favorite for years. Two youths, both born inventors, make each other's acquaintance as a result of misfortunes attending a Minnesota cyclone. Their efforts to perfect a flying-boat that shall not only skim the water, but rise into the air, result in the securing of a mechanical education. Mr. Kerr has solved the problem of a book that shall be intensely exciting and yet thoroughly wholesome.

Young Heroes of Wire and Rail

By ALVAH MILTON KERR Illustrated 12mo Cloth $1.25

THE place which the sea once held in supplying thrilling tales of heroism and peril is now being largely usurped by that powerful agent of progress, the railway service, and with no lessening of interest. It is also very attractive to know how those who bear the vast responsibilities of this service perform their work and meet the fearful emergencies that may arise at any time.

The Young Vigilantes

A Story of California Life in the Fifties

By SAMUEL ADAMS DRAKE Author of "Watch Fires of '76" Illustrated by L. J. BRIDGMAN Price $1.25

FEW men now remain who can describe the "Forty-Niners" from personal knowledge and experience, and the very best one of them is the noted historical writer, Col. Drake. One of two young chums in Boston yields to the excitement of the day and goes to California, partly at his friend's expense. Later, the hero of the story is driven by injustice to join the fevered throng of gold-seekers, and also makes his way thither via the route across Nicaragua, befriended by an old sailor. A reunion and exciting experiences in San Francisco follow.

Joe's Signal Code

By W. REIFF HESSER Illustrated by FRANK T. MERRILL $1.25

THIS book tells of the abandoning of a fine ship with its cargo in the Pacific Ocean. The leading characters, who are to leave in the last boat, had their escape cut off by its destruction, but succeed in saving the ship and lead a most interesting life for more than a year on a hitherto unknown island.

THE DEER LODGE SERIES

By W. GORDON PARKER 3 volumes Illustrated Price per volume $1.25

Six Young Hunters or The Adventures of the Greyhound Club
Grant Burton the Runaway or The Mishaps of a School-boy
Rival Boy Sportsmen or The Mink Lake Regatta

Aguinaldo's Hostage

Or Dick Carson's Captivity among the Filipinos

By H. IRVING HANCOCK, War Correspondent Illustrated $1.25

MR. HANCOCK has made use of his experiences in the Philippine Islands to write a most entertaining story of the war with the Filipinos, viewed mainly from their own lines, thus differing from any other book that has been written.

A Boy of Old Japan

By R. VAN BERGEN, A. M. Author of "The Story of Japan," "The Story of China," etc. Eight color pictures exactly reproduced from original Japanese work $1.25

MR. VAN BERGEN, the well-known authority on Chinese and Japanese matters, has told the story of the awakening of Japan by tracing the life of an actual boy, a friend of the present Prime Minister Ito, who also figures in the book.

The Little Dreamer's Adventure

A Story of Droll Days and Droll Doings

By FRANK SAMUEL CHILD Cloth Profusely illustrated by C. H. L. GEBFERT $1.25

The House with Sixty Closets

A Christmas Story for Young Folks and Old Children

By FRANK SAMUEL CHILD Cloth Profusely illustrated by J. RANDOLPH BROWN $1.25

The Gregory Guards

By EMMA LEE BENEDICT Illustrated by FRANK T. MERRILL Large 12mo $1.25

"THE Gregory Guards" were indeed a guard of honor. A young man of wealth is trustee for a fund to help boys and chooses six to pass the summer at his home on an island near New York. These lads of widely different temperaments, as well as earlier lives, are most interestingly developed by the young man and his wise tutor, and in true boy fashion form a "club," whose highest purpose it is to watch over the property and interests of their benefactor, and to which they give his name. The two leading members, one a former New York newsboy, whose progress is a leading feature of the story, are the means of restoring his home to the one who is responsible for their entrance upon the road to manly success, after rascality had taken it from him. A story of reaping good by doing good, bright and entertaining and full of life, incident, and good sense.

Cordelia's Pathway Out

By EDNA A. FOSTER, Editor of Children's Page in the "Youth's Companion" Illustrated by CLARA E. ATWOOD $1.00

IN "Cordelia's Pathway Out" the writer has carried along the brilliant little Hortense and many of the characters of that story, but has brought into prominence the quiet Cordelia, whose admiration and love for Hortense act as an incentive to study and cultivate a desire for growth. Early in the story she is transplanted from the village in which we first find her, and comes into larger living and the bestowal of modest "advantages." She is a shy country-bred child, but she observes, imitates, and applies the best to her own life and the exercise of loving and homely qualities brings her to a desirable plane. The writer convincingly shows that earnestness, will-power, and tenacity of purpose may be as potent as brilliancy with its manifold temptations.

Hortense

By EDNA A. FOSTER Illustrated by MARY AYER $1.00

MISS FOSTER has here a book of unusual excellence, whether viewed as a tale of entertainment for a child's reading or a valuable and suggestive study for the education of those who have to do with children. The impulsive little Hortense wins the reader's sympathy at once, and the experiences of the well-meaning young lady relative who attempts to train her up according to set rules for well-regulated children are very interesting.

Rover's Story

The Autobiography of a Dog

By HELENA HIGGINBOTHAM Illustrated by the author and from photographs Large 12mo Cloth with decorated cover $1.00

ROVER, a real dog, by the way, is made to tell his own story most entertainingly. The book has more than entertainment, however; it is one which should be read by every one having to do with dogs or cats, for the sake of the better understanding of these pets that will come from such reading.

My Little Lady in Waiting

By LOUISE E. CATLIN Author of "Marjory and Her Neighbors" Illustrated by E. POLLAK $1.25

EVERY element of a fascinating story for children is present in this book. A little girl, Nellie Ross, is left quite alone in the world in the tenement house district of New York. The first gleam of better things comes into her life in the form of a "Vacation School," where a kind lady very sensibly teaches practical housekeeping. Little Nellie's skill and general air of refinement win a home for her after the family who have been caring for her have gone from New York. Nellie has some trying times with the spoiled children of her benefactors, but a wonderful change comes during a trip abroad. On a public occasion Nellie saves from injury on the thronged streets of a German city another little girl who proves to be a princess. The noble family are so pleased with the little American girl that she is introduced into the splendor of court life and, greatly to the surprise of the family whose dependent she has been, is offered a new home, and, like Cinderella, springs from a patient drudge to high honors.

The Making of Meenie

By EDITH L. GILBERT Author of "The Frolicsome Four" Large 12mo Illustrated by MARGARET GODDARD $1.00

"THE Frolicsome Four" won immediate favor by its bright naturalness. The same entertaining family of two brothers and two sisters appear in this book, although the interest centres about "Meenie," a waif. A noble dog that figures prominently in the story, by tact and kindness works a transformation in Meenie. The humor is excellent, and the character-drawings show unusual knowledge of children and how to attract and entertain them.

The Frolicsome Four

By EDITH L. and ARIADNE GILBERT Illustrated by JOSEPHINE BRUCE Large 12mo $1.00

THE story of two brothers and two sisters who are as noble in character as they are enthusiastic in play. The authors have drawn wholesome child life with remarkable effect, and this book will win a conspicuous place for that reason. Every one will be interested in the fine scholarship of Larry, the jolly spirits of Gwen, and the tenderness of little Polly. And when finally Billy, well-meaning and awkward Billy, actually wins a prize in a most unexpected way, the charm of the story is complete.

The Taming of Betty

By CALLY RYLAND Illustrated by G. W. PICKNELL Large 12mo $1.00

BETTY is a high-spirited Virginian girl of twelve, as bright as can be, but a thorough romp, and, being thought old enough to leave the care of the governess and attend a regular school, so rebels at the idea as to make her autocratic father send her to a boarding-school far away from her home in Richmond. The change is very hard for Betty, and her ingenuity in devising mischief, in the hope that she may be sent home to her beloved "Grandmamma," is irresistibly amusing.

The Laurel Token

A Story of the Yamassee Uprising

By ANNIE M. BARNES Author of "Little Betty Blew," "A Lass of Dorchester" Illustrated by G. W. PICKNELL 12mo Cloth with gold and colors $1.25

THIS is a story for young people of either sex, for, although the leading character is a girl of eighteen, her cousins, two boys of sixteen and fourteen respectively, are prominent throughout the story. The story centres about a beautiful girl, left an orphan, as is supposed, in Barbadoes, who goes to live with her uncle, a leading man in the flourishing "Goose Creek" colony, in the year of the Indian uprising, 1714. The very real danger from the red men, who have been regarded as friendly, but have been the victims of selfishness, and thus made ready tools for the crafty Spanish having their headquarters at St. Augustine, forms the background to the story, and gives opportunity for the surprising developments which occur respecting the heroine and others.

A Lass of Dorchester

By ANNIE M. BARNES Author of "Little Betty Blew," "The Laurel Token" Illustrated by Frank T. Merrill Large 12mo Cloth $1.25

THE place and time of this excellent historical story are the Province of Carolina and the year 1702. The "Lass" is "Miss Elizabeth Blew" of a former book, now grown up and just returned from Boston, where she has been to finish her education. Her father is Indian agent for the government, and a man of thorough kindness and integrity. A mean rival tries desperately to supplant him in his position, stopping at nothing in the way of ruining business and alienating friends. Worst of all, the integrity of Betty's father is questioned. Stirring events, bringing in many quaint and peculiar customs, lead up to the climax, in which an attack is made upon the church by unfriendly Indians. Betty proves herself a heroine by her thrilling ride for timely help, and the unexpected finding of means whereby to prove her father's honor makes a dramatic and happy conclusion.

Little Betty Blew

Her Strange Experience and Adventures in Indian Land

By ANNIE M. BARNES Illustrated by FRANK T. MERRILL 12mo Cloth with gold and colors 300 pages Price $1.25

ONE of the very best books with which to satisfy a young reader's natural desire for an "Indian story" is this one of little Betty Blew, and what she saw and experienced when her family removed from Dorchester, Mass., two hundred years ago, to their home on the Ashley river, above Charleston, South Carolina. Although Betty is but a small maid, she is so wise and true that she charms all, and there are a number of characters who will interest boys as well as girls, and old as well as young.

How a Little Girl Went to Africa

Told by Herself

By LEONA MILDRED BICKNELL Fully illustrated from photographs $1.00

CHILDREN have hitherto had to be content with such books as grown-up people wrote for them, but now a bright little girl of unusual opportunities in the way of travel has, at the age of ten, written a book to tell other children of a journey of remarkable interest. She accompanied her father and mother, who went to do missionary work among the Zulus in South Africa, and the breaking out of the Boer War added not only excitement, but danger to her interesting experiences. In simple style the little author tells with remarkable descriptive power of the Atlantic voyage, the sights in London, the longer voyage to Cape Town, the residence and travels among strange and singular peoples, and the return. So well is the work done that a noted author of geographies has recommended the work for all school libraries. Old and young will delight in this book, the value of which is increased by the excellent illustrations.

An Honor Girl

By EVELYN RAYMOND Illustrated by Bertha G. Davidson 12mo Cloth $1.25

A BRIGHT helpful story of a girl who, as the valedictorian and "honor girl" of her class at high school, wins the scholarship which would take her through Wellesly College. Family reverses bring it home to her that duty demands that she devote herself to helping her parents and wayward brother to face the future better than they seem likely to. She heroically surrenders her prize, with its glowing prospects, to a jealous rival, and all her family become better, happier, and more to each other than had selfishness not been so well met and overcome by "An Honor Girl." The story has the merit of being as clever and lively as it is wholesome.

A Girl of This Century

By MARY G. DARLING Author of "We Four Girls" Illustrated by Lillian Crawford True $1.25

"WE FOUR GIRLS" at once took its place among the very best books for older girls, and has been in continual demand since its publication. The same characters are retained in this story, the interest centring around "Marjorie," the natural leader of the four. She has a brilliant course at Radcliffe, and then comes the world. A romance, long resisted, but worthy in nature and of happy termination, crowns this singularly well-drawn life of the noblest of all princesses — a true American girl.

We Four Girls

By MARY G. DARLING Illustrated by Bertha G. Davidson $1.25

A BRIGHT story of a summer vacation in the country, where these girls were sent for study and recreation. They thought it the most delightful summer they ever passed. Every girl reader will wish that she could have as beautiful a vacation, and any mother may be happy to place such a book in her daughter's hands.

How Barbara Kept Her Promise

Fifth of the "Nina Rhoades Books"

By NINA RHOADES Illustrated by BERTHA G. DAVIDSON $1.00

TWO orphan sisters, Barbara, aged twelve, and little Hazel, who is "only eight," are sent from their early home in London to their mother's family in New York. Faithful Barbara has promised her father that she will take care of pretty, petted, mischievous Hazel, and how she tries to do this, even in the face of great difficulties, forms the story which has the happy ending which Miss Rhoades wisely gives to all her stories. The introduction of Dollie Marston, the heroine of Miss Rhoades' first book, "Only Dollie," and her good big brother, Dick, is a pleasing feature, and connects this book with the others.

The Children on the Top Floor

By NINA RHOADES Author of "Only Dollie," "Little Girl Next Door," "Winifred's Neighbors" Illustrated by BERTHA G. DAVIDSON Large 12mo Cloth $1.00

IN this latest book, by Miss Nina Rhoades, little Winifred Hamilton, the child heroine of last year's story, "Winifred's Neighbors," reappears, living in the second of the four stories of a New York apartment-house. On the top floor are two very interesting children, Betty, a little older than Winifred, who is now ten, and Jack, a brave little cripple, who is a year younger. In the end comes a glad reunion, and also other good fortune for crippled Jack, and Winifred's kind little heart has once more indirectly caused great happiness to many others.

Winifred's Neighbors

By NINA RHOADES Author of "Only Dollie" and "The Little Girl Next Door" Illustrated by BERTHA G. DAVIDSON Large 12mo Cloth $1.00

LITTLE Winifred's efforts to find some children of whom she reads in a book lead to the acquaintance of a neighbor of the same name, and this acquaintance proves of the greatest importance to Winifred's own family. Through it all she is just such a little girl as other girls ought to know, and the story will hold the interest of all ages.

The Little Girl Next Door

By NINA RHOADES Author of "Only Dollie" Illustrated by BERTHA G. DAVIDSON Large 12mo Cloth $1.00

A DELIGHTFUL story of true and genuine friendship between an impulsive little girl in a fine New York home and a little blind girl in an apartment next door. The little girl's determination to cultivate the acquaintance, begun out of the window during a rainy day, triumphs over the barriers of caste, and the little blind girl proves to be in every way a worthy companion.

Only Dollie

By NINA RHOADES Large 12mo Cloth Illustrated by BERTHA DAVIDSON New cover design $1.00

THIS is a brightly written story of a girl of twelve, who, when the mystery of her birth is solved, like Cinderella passes from drudgery to better circumstances. There is nothing strained or unnatural at any point. All descriptions or portrayals of character are life-like, and the book has an indescribable appealing quality which wins sympathy and secures success.

THE RANDY BOOKS

Randy's Luck

Sixth volume of the "Randy Books" By AMY BROOKS Finely illustrated by the author $1.00

IN this book Randy is the same fine companion for the girls who meet her for the first time or have learned to know and love her in previous volumes. Her power for winning and holding friends is so marked that some envious companions in the country village where her home is say that it is simply Randy's "luck" that so many are fond of her. Other fairer-minded ones, who know her well, refuse to take this view, and the course of the story proves that what some call luck is nothing else than Randy's unselfish and lovable nature, with her tactful and ready service to others.

Randy's Good Times

Fifth volume of the "Randy Books" By AMY BROOKS Illustrated by the author $1.00

RANDY is the same loving and lovable girl that she was when first seen in "Randy's Summer." Now at eighteen she is ready to enjoy to the full all the pleasures which are offered, equally eager to give pleasure to others, and dearly loved in her native village.

Randy and Prue

Fourth volume of the "Randy Books" By AMY BROOKS Illustrated by the author $1.00

EACH new Randy book is eagerly looked forward to and called for months in advance. In the present one, Randy, after enjoying her school life at the city, devotedly assumes the care of housekeeping in order that her wearied mother may regain her health. Curly-headed little Prue is as cute as ever, and becomes a little heroine through her resolute loyalty.

Randy and Her Friends

Third volume of the "Randy Books" By AMY BROOKS Illustrated by the author Cloth $1.00

THIS tells of both Randy herself, now almost grown up, and little Prue, now aged six, and as ready as ever with most unexpected sayings and doings, and both the big and little girls will be equally interested. The rural residents, Timotheus Simpkins and all, are as amusing as ever.

Randy's Winter

Second volume of the "Randy Books" By AMY BROOKS Illustrated by the author $1.00

A THOROUGHLY good story for girls, in which neither bad children nor slang are considered necessary. One great element of success in the beautiful "Randy Books" is that they carry only refining influences.

Randy's Summer

First volume of the "Randy Books" By AMY BROOKS Illustrated by the author $1.00

"IT is refreshing to turn from juvenile war books and startling stories with sensational plots to a pleasing, wholesome tale of genuine girl life, especially if the book be an exceptionally pretty one, as 'Randy's Summer' certainly is." — Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

DOROTHY DAINTY SERIES

Dorothy Dainty at the Shore

Fourth volume of "Dorothy Dainty Series" By AMY BROOKS Finely illustrated by the author $1.00

THE last volume of this winsome series for younger girls closed with the news that Nancy Ferris, formerly a village waif, but now the friend of the charming little heroine, Dorothy, had been rescued from her uncle. The meeting with Nancy is most happy, and the great stone house with its spacious grounds is filled with joy. There are happy days at the beach and in September Dorothy and Nancy live over their summer pleasures while looking forward to all that the winter promises. This book will be a delight to all who read it.

Dorothy Dainty at School

Third volume of "Dorothy Dainty Series" By AMY BROOKS Finely illustrated by the author $1.00

DOROTHY and her playmates have reached an age when they should go to school, and as no public school is near, a private class is organized. The school life proves very entertaining, and mostly very pleasant.

Dorothy's Playmates

Second volume of the "Dorothy Dainty Series" By AMY BROOKS Finely illustrated by the author $1.00

DOROTHY and her little friends, Mollie and Flossie, belong to the best families in every sense of the word, and kindness and good breeding are so natural to them and bring so much happiness that opposite qualities seem odious by contrast.

Dorothy Dainty

First volume of the "Dorothy Dainty Series" By AMY BROOKS Large 12mo Finely illustrated by the author $1.00

HERE is a literary masterpiece for younger readers by one who knows them sympathetically. Its large, clear type, wide margins, fine pictures, and beautiful binding, all help to make it a gem of a book for little girls. More than that, the atmosphere of good breeding so evident throughout the book, without being obtrusive, makes it especially desirable.

A Jolly Cat Tale

By AMY BROOKS A new edition with large type Profusely illustrated by the author $1.00

THIS fanciful account of an enterprising cat family has been such a favorite that we present it in an entirely new and revised edition set in "great primer" type. In its present form it is without a peer as a book to please and interest little readers, and those who still need to have older ones read to them.

Helen Grant at Aldred House

Third volume of "Helen Grant Series." By AMANDA M. DOUGLAS Illustrated by AMY BROOKS $1.25

THE fortunes of Helen Grant are being eagerly followed by a great number of readers. The events of the previous volume permitted Helen's return to her much loved school, Aldred House, where her girlhood gradually unfolds to an enthusiastic young womanhood. She is not very romantic, fond of study, and has ambitious aims, yet is tender in her friendships, sincere and helpful. In her happy year at school she attracts Mrs. Aldred's regard, which has an influence in shaping her own character and in her effect upon friends. When she is ready for college she has to choose between the career that she has marked out and the proffered loves of more than one. All the girls will be interested to find out what her decision is.

Helen Grant's Friends

Second volume of the "Helen Grant Stories" By AMANDA M. DOUGLAS Illustrated by AMY BROOKS $1.25

Helen Grant's Schooldays

First volume of the "Helen Grant Stories" By AMANDA M. DOUGLAS 12mo Cloth Illustrated $1.25

Almost as Good as a Boy

By AMANDA M. DOUGLAS Author of the "Kathie Series" etc. Cloth Illustrated by BERTHA G. DAVIDSON $1.25

A BRIGHT girl accomplishes her various undertakings in a most successful way, and proves that her ability is at least equal to what might be reasonably expected of a boy, under similar circumstances. It is a charming and a helpful story that has proved a general favorite.

Heroes of the Crusades

By AMANDA M. DOUGLAS 12mo Cloth Fifty full-page illustrations $1.50

THE romantic interest in the days of chivalry, so fully exemplified by the "Heroes of the Crusades," is permanent and properly so. This book is fitted to keep it alive without descending to improbability or cheap sensationalism.

King for a Summer

By EDGAR PICKERING Illustrated by Warwick Goble $1.25

THE young hero, Camilla Negroni, driven from home, casts his lot with three banditti, sturdy, good-hearted fellows, who are forced to become outlaws only because of the tyrannical rule of the Genoese. After a number of thrilling adventures they join the patroits in what is known as the rebellion of 1735.

The Story of the Cid

For Young People

By CALVIN DILL WILSON Illustrated by J. W. Kennedy 300 pages $1.25

MR. WILSON, a well-known writer and reviewer, has prepared from Southey's translation, which was far too cumbrous to entertain the young, a book that will kindle the imagination of youth and entertain and inform those of advanced years.

The Tenth Commandment

By MARGUERITE LINTON GLENTWORTH Author of "A Twentieth Century Boy" Gilt top Photogravure portrait frontispiece of author Price $1.50

THE late Frank R. Stockton, after reading this story in manuscript, said of a single chapter that it alone was "destined to make the book a great American Novel."

A Twentieth Century Boy

By MARGUERITE LINTON GLENTWORTH ("Gladys Dudley Hamilton") Illustrated by Charles Copeland $1.25

THIS book more than fulfils the promise of earlier sketches, and has been pronounced by competent judges fully equal to the "Story of the Bad Boy," which it somewhat resembles. This is a book for all ages; its fun is irresistible and its literary quality superior.

Two Little Street Singers

By NORA A. M. ROE (Mrs. Alfred S. Roe) Cloth Illustrated by BERTHA G. DAVIDSON $1.00

WE have no sweeter or more attractive story than this, of two waifs, a mystery, and a happy conclusion. Mrs. Roe is equally happy in treating city and country life, her character sketches of the latter, which are woven into the story, being well worthy of a Rose Terry Cooke.

Joy Bells

A Story of Quinnebasset

By SOPHIE MAY Author of the "Quinnebasset Series," etc. Illustrated by FRANK T. MERRILL $1.25

HOW many readers of the famous "Quinnebasset Series," by "Sophie May," have wished that there were more of those matchless books for older girls! All the delightful wit of the author is here and at its best, and "Persis," the heroine, is very near to being the most charming of all her gifted creations.

Pauline Wyman

By SOPHIE MAY Illustrated $1.25

"SOPHIE MAY" writes with a remarkable insight into the thought and life of girls, and shows an unaffected sympathy in the perplexities, aspirations, and disappointments of their experience. In "Pauline Wyman" the author has drawn a typical New England girl.

The Girl Who Kept Up

By MARY MCCRAE CULTER Illustrated by C. LOUISE WILLIAMS $1.25

A STRONG and wholesome story of achievement. The end of a high school course divides the paths of two who, as boy and girl, have had a close friendship from childhood, as well as keen rivalry in school leadership, often to the advantage of the girl. Now the youth is to go to college, while the girl must remain at home. How she determines to and does keep up with her friend in securing an education, and the surprise which she causes by succeeding beyond expectation, forms the story.

Madge a Girl in Earnest

By S. JENNIE SMITH Illustrated by JAMES E. MCBURNEY $1.25

MADGE is indeed "a girl in earnest." She scorns the patronage of an aristocratic relative, and takes upon her strong young shoulders the problem of carrying along the family in an independent manner. Her bravely-won success, in spite of the lions in her path, not the least of which was the fear of social disfavor felt by some of her family, forms an inspiring tale.

The Surprising Adventures of the Man in the Moon

Showing how, in Company with Santa Claus, Robinson Crusoe, Cinderella and Her Prince, Jack the Giant Killer, Little Red Riding Hood, Old Mother Hubbard, Jack Sprat and His Wife, Tommy Tucker, and Some Others, He made a Remarkable Tour over Land and Sea and through the Air

By RAY M. STEWARD With 12 full-page illustrations in colors by L. J. Bridgman Quarto $1.25

A WELL-KNOWN American author, who withholds his real name, has, for his diversion and the enjoyment of his own children, grouped the best loved of the mythical heroes and favorites of childhood into a merry party organized by the Man in the Moon. The book is a continued entertainment, with its striking situations and droll and witty conversation. The illustrations are no less than the work of genius, and their reproduction shows the three-color process at its best.

BRAVE HEART SERIES

A Lassie of the Isles

Third Volume of the "Brave Heart Series" By ADELE E. THOMPSON Illustrated by J. W. KENNEDY 12mo Cloth $1.25

THE romantic story of Flora Macdonald, the lassie of Skye, who aided in the escape of Charles Stuart, otherwise known as the "Young Pretender," for which she suffered arrest, but which led to signal honor through her sincerity and attractive personality, affords a notable theme for an author. Miss Thompson, whose success in historical writings for the young has been so marked, has made the most of her material and gives a book of genuine historical value, as well as of great interest. Mr. Kennedy has effectively handled some striking scenes for illustration.

Brave Heart Elizabeth

A Story of the Ohio Frontier

Second Volume of the "Brave Heart Series" By ADELE E. THOMPSON 12mo Cloth Illustrated by LILLIAN CRAWFORD TRUE $1.25

THIS is a book for older girls, and in strength ranks with the best fiction of the year. It is a story of the making of the Ohio frontier, much of it taken from life, and the heroine one of the famous Zane family, after which Zanesville, O., takes its name.

Betty Seldon, Patriot

First Volume of the "Brave Heart Series"

By ADELE E. THOMPSON Illustrated by LILLIAN CRAWFORD TRUE 12mo Cloth 300 pages $1.25

IT is a great deal to say of a book that it is at the same time fascinating and noble. This is what "Betty Seldon, Patriot" is. Historical events are accurately traced leading up to the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown, with reunion and happiness for all who deserve it.

Beck's Fortune

A Story of School and Seminary Life

By ADELE E. THOMPSON Cloth Illustrated $1.25

THE characters in this book seem to live, their remarks are bright and natural, and the incidental humor delightful. The account of Beck's narrow and cheerless early life, her sprightly independence, and unexpected competency that aids her to progress through the medium of seminary life to noble womanhood, is one that mothers can commend to their daughters unreservedly.

Jason's Quest

By D. O. S. LOWELL, A.M., M.D., Master in Roxbury Latin School. Illustrated by C. W. Reed. $1.00

THE popularity of the way in which Professor Lowell has told this classical story for school use has led to the presentation of a handsome edition for general readers. Nothing can be better to arouse the imagination of boys and girls, and at the same time store in their minds knowledge indispensable to any one who would be known as cultured, or happier than Professor Lowell's way of telling a story, and the many excellent drawings have lent great spirit to the narrative.

Famous Children

By H. TWITCHELL. Illustrated from famous paintings. $1.25

WE have here a most valuable book, telling not of the childhood of those who have afterwards become famous, but those who as children are famous in history, song, and story. For convenience the subjects are grouped as "Royal Children," "Child Artists," "Learned Children," "Devoted Children," "Child Martyrs," and "Heroic Children," and the names of the "two little princes," Louis XVII., Mozart, St. Genevieve, David, and Joan of Arc are here, as well as those of many more, perhaps not less worthy, but less well known.

A Boy of a Thousand Years Ago

By HARRIET T. COMSTOCK. Large 12mo. Profusely illustrated with full-page drawings and chapter headings by George Varian. $1.00

IT will at once be understood that the "boy" of the story is Alfred the Great in his youth, but it cannot be understood how delightful a story this is until it is seen and read. The splendid pictures of George Varian make this book superior among juveniles.

The Story of Joan of Arc For Boys and Girls

Told by Aunt Kate

By KATE E. CARPENTER. Illustrated by AMY BROOKS, also from paintings, and with map. Large 12mo. Cloth. $1.00

NO books are more popular for children than those which make history attractive. The favorite story of Joan of Arc is here treated in a uniquely attractive way. "Aunt Kate" tells the story of Joan of Arc to Master Harold, aged 11, and to Misses Bessie and Marjorie, aged 10 and 8, respectively, to their intense delight. They look up places on the map, and have a fine time while hearing the thrilling story, told in such simple language that they can readily understand it all. Parents and teachers will also be greatly interested in this book from an educational point of view.

THE MAKERS OF ENGLAND SERIES

In the Days of Queen Victoria

Fourth volume of "Makers of England Series," by EVA MARCH TAPPAN, PH.D. Illustrated from famous paintings and portraits 12mo Cloth $1.00

IT is unnecessary to devote words of praise to the historical work of Dr. Tappan for the young, as her prominence in this line is too well established to need mention. The present book completes a series of four that will remain standard, and will undoubtedly be the most popular of all, owing to the fresh remembrance of its honored subject. The noble ruler, who will always be remembered for her "queenliness as a woman and her womanliness as a queen," is written of in a way that will bring satisfaction to all who love her memory.

In the Days of Queen Elizabeth

Third volume of "Makers of England Series," by EVA MARCH TAPPAN, PH.D. Illustrated from famous paintings 12mo Cloth $1.00

DR. TAPPAN'S historical works have already become classics for the young, and well do they deserve it, with their entertaining descriptions, perfect English, and historical value.

In the Days of William the Conqueror

Second volume of "Makers of England Series," by EVA MARCH TAPPAN, PH.D. 12mo Cloth With spirited illustrations by J. W. KENNEDY 300 pages $1.00

MISS TAPPAN came to the front with "In the Days of Alfred the Great," a book widely reviewed without a single derogatory word, and pronounced one of the few books for the young that have a right to be considered literature. This book has the same historical accuracy and fascination of style, applied to a no less interesting subject.

In the Days of Alfred the Great

First volume of "Makers of England Series," by EVA MARCH TAPPAN, PH.D. Cloth Emblematic cover Fully illustrated $1.00

WE have never issued a more generally excellent work for the young than this, with the old familiar stories, together with very much new material, translated from original sources by the author.

SOPHIE MAY'S STORIES FOR YOUNG READERS

"GENIUS comes in with 'Little Prudy.' Compared with her, all other book-children are cold creations of literature; she alone is the real thing. All the quaintness of childhood, its originality, its tenderness and its teasing, its infinite uncommon drollery, the serious earnestness of its fun, and the fun of its seriousness, the naturalness of its play, and the delicious oddity of its progress, all these united for dear Little Prudy to embody them." — COL. T. W. HIGGINSON, in North American Review.

Boy Donald and His Hero

BY "PENN SHIRLEY"

Third Volume of the "Boy Donald Series" Illustrated by BERTHA G. DAVIDSON Cloth 16mo
Price, 75 cents

THE scene of this is laid in California. Boy Donald and his supposed "twin," Julius Fay, go with several of their friends to the country seat, Cascade Roses, where they meet with both amusing and thrilling adventures. The story closes with a grand barbecue and a glowing tribute from the assembled guests to Donald's idolized brother Kirke, who has proved himself a hero indeed. A delightful little book, like all books by this author and her gifted sister "Sophie May."

The Children of Bedford Court

Third volume of "Janet Series" By GRACE LE BARON Illustrated by AMY BROOKS 75 cents

THE hero of this book is Master Roy Fitzpatrick, brother of Jerry, whose remarkable talent for singing is brought out in "Queer Janet," the first volume of this series, and also of Jessica, whose success as an artist is told in "Jessica's Triumph," the second volume. Master Roy's ambition is to be a soldier, and he is shown first as a little boy playing with his toy generals, then as a newsboy proudly wearing his little flag and causing it to be respected, and finally as a genuine defender of his country in the Spanish-American War. In all of this is no teaching of warlike spirit, but only honor and patriotism. The sweet home life of this fine Scotch-American family is touchingly portrayed, and the gifted pen of the author has never better deserved to be a favorite than here.

Told Under the Cherry Trees

A Book for the Young

By GRACE LE BARON Cloth 12mo Illustrated by AMY BROOKS $1.00

"TOLD UNDER THE CHERRY TREES" is a charming story of child life in a pretty village, tender in quality, fascinating in description, and rich in humor. Only an accomplished writer, thoroughly in love with entertaining and helping the young, could present a story so perfect in plot as to delight any reader, and yet so simply told as to be eagerly grasped and enjoyably remembered by a child.

Talitha Cumi

A Story of Freedom Through Christian Science

By ANNIE J. HOLLAND 417 pages Price, $1.50

THE story is of a fine family, in which are six sisters, of whom one is regarded as hopelessly deformed. Through a loving friend's gift of "Science and Health" and kindly instruction, a wonderful change occurs, which brings joy to the household. The title will be recognized as appropriately taken from the words of the Saviour in healing the daughter of Jairus.

Mark, v: 41, "And he took the damsel by the hand and said unto her, 'Talitha Cumi,' which is, being interpreted, 'Damsel, I say unto thee arise.'"

Laurel Leaves for Little Folk

Edited, illustrated, and decorated by MARY E. PHILLIPS, author of "Reminiscences of William Wetmore Story," etc. Edition De Luxe Octavo Sumptuously illustrated, decorated, printed, and bound Boxed, $3.00

THE most beautifully gotten up book ever attempted for children. Miss Phillips, whose artistic taste and execution has been amply proved before, has gathered choice gems from the most famous friends of childhood, Eugene Field, James Whitcomb Riley, Mary Mapes Dodge, Dr. Edward Everett Hale. A more valuable and refining gift for any child has never appeared.

Dont's for Mothers

By GABRIELLE E. JACKSON 16mo Superbly printed in brown ink, on high grade tinted linen paper, and bound in brown silk with brown edges and gold title 128 pages Price, 50 cents net Postpaid, 55 cents

IT is impossible to tell the amount of wisdom condensed into this truly elegant hand-book. There are 250 wise cautions arranged in series from the early months of first motherhood to the closing years of the aged grandmother, which years, as well as those which precede, attention to Mrs. Jackson's counsels would make serene and satisfied. These bright, sensible, and good-humored maxims deserve to be known throughout the country. The style of the book makes it especially suitable for a welcome and useful little gift.

Facts about Peat

PEAT FUEL and PEAT COKE How to Make it and How to use it, with Brief Notes Concerning its Use and Value for Numerous other Purposes

By T. H. LEAVITT Illustrated $1.00 net Postpaid, $1.10

THIS book, which is a substitute for a former work under the same title by the same author, brings to the front and invites attention to Peat, a substance overlying vast areas of the surface of this and other lands, which are generally regarded as waste places and well-nigh valueless. The means by which this can be utilized, the cost and value of the fuel produced, and the uses for which it is specially valuable, are plainly set forth. The illustrations, which are excellent, are helpful to a distinct understanding of the text.

Elijah Kellogg: The Man and His Work

Edited by WILMOT B. MITCHELL, Professor of Rhetoric and Oratory in Bowdoin College
Fully illustrated from photographs $1.20 net
Postpaid $1.35

UNDER the able direction of Professor Mitchell, prominent men like Gen. Joshua L. Chamberlain, Professor Chapman, of Bowdoin College, and others, have contributed recollections of such portions of Mr. Kellogg's life as were best known to each. His early life, student days, pastoral life, authorship, and famous work among the seamen in Boston are all treated capably and well. In addition, the editor has grouped fugitive selections like the immortal "Spartacus" and "Regulus," together with some of his excellent verse and one or two representative discourses.

With Psychic Experiences

By A. E. CARPENTER For Thirty Years a Demonstrator of Practical Psychology Illustrated 75 cents

HYPNOTISM is constantly attracting more and more attention, and no other man in this country is quite so well able to give a plain, popular, and yet scientifically accurate account of its nature and uses for the instruction and entertainment of the general reader as PROFESSOR CARPENTER, who has at last consented to issue a book in which he tells the public all he can, and in the clearest possible manner.

Hypnotism

How it is Done; Its Uses and Dangers

By JAMES R. COCKE, M.D. Seventh Thousand $1.50

IT is the author's purpose to divest hypnotism of the supernatural, to show how it is done, and to explain its rational basis. Its dangers are carefully described, and its usefulness outlined, both in the medical world and in society. In the first of the book the author quotes from his own experience and in the latter part gives the principal theories current about it. The work is standard authority on the subject.

The Hermit

A Story of the Wilderness

By CHARLES CLARK MUNN Author of "Uncle Terry," etc. Illustrated by A. B. Shute Laid paper Gilt top Price $1.50

IN this book Mr. Munn goes back to his own familiar ground, close to the heart of Nature. The joy of woods and waters is here; there is much of camp life and wood lore. The power of the forest is strong upon the reader, and the spell is increased to the greatest intensity by a thrilling double mystery in the depths of the Maine wilderness involving the character who gives the title to the book. It is, moreover, a genuine old-fashioned love story of the kind that the public never tires of reading. The description of village life will arouse the tender memories of many. The humor is rich, and the characters strong and well sustained. As a novel of heart interest, it will repeat the success of "Uncle Terry," while being stronger in construction and development of plot.

Rockhaven

The Best Character Novel of the Present

By CHARLES CLARK MUNN Author of "Pocket Island" and "Uncle Terry" Illustrated by FRANK T. MERRILL Fine laid paper Gilt top Decorated cover Price $1.50

THIS book was an immediate success. It has all the "heart interest" of "Uncle Terry" and all its poetic appreciation of nature, while being strong in plot and extended and powerful in its character drawing. In "Jess Hutton" a character is created that will attract and hold both old and young as few characters in American fiction have done.

Uncle Terry

A Story of the Maine Coast

By CHARLES CLARK MUNN 370 pages Gilt top Finely bound and illustrated $1.50

THE GREAT NEW ENGLAND NOVEL

IN "Uncle Terry" the reader will meet an original Yankee, full of native wit and humor, genial, honest, kind-hearted, a "jack-at-all-trades," respected by all, and full of the milk of human kindness. In addition, one of the heroines (for there are two of equal interest) is a genuine country "school-ma'am," bright, piquant, and winsome. There is a hero, also, born and reared amid the hills of Vermont, who by reason of his sturdy character and manly perseverence will win the hearts of all womankind.

My Candles and Other Poems

By ELIZA BOYLE O'REILLY. $1.00 Net. Postpaid $1.10

THERE is surely an inheritance of genius, and it is proved in the case of a gifted daughter of the late lamented John Boyle O'Reilly, who offers her first book. The magic of the great name of the man we so much admired would in any case have prepared a welcome for these poems, but their own merit is such that they are independent of any such support.

Self Building

Through Common Sense Methods

By CORRILLA BANISTER. Price $1.00, net. Postage, 10 cents

THIS is distinctly a book for all who would be better physically and mentally, and, as such, deserves the widest possible audience. No better testimonial of the soundness of Mrs. Banister's teachings need be sought than the fact that by the exercise of her own precepts she has raised herself from invalidism to a condition of perfect physical health, accompanied by an increase of mental and spiritual power that is enabling her to perform a remarkable work in showing others how to develop along all the lines of being.

For Love's Sweet Sake

Selected Poems of Love in all Moods

Edited by G. HEMBERT WESTLY
Cloth Illustrated $1.50

FOR every poem chosen in this splendid treasury of love poems the editor, himself a poet of no common power, has cast aside a hundred others as lacking the required elements of sincerity, seriousness, or sweetness. The result is such a collection as none but a trained litterateur could produce, and that after months of toil. Every poem is a gem, chosen for genuine feeling and appeal. The artistic merit of the book in every particular, with its lavish use of decorative designs, rich cover, and fine material, renders this such a gift as any one may be proud to receive.

Songs of War and Peace

By SAM WALTER FOSS Cloth Gilt Top Boxed $1.25

"THERE is an inspiration breathing through the lines of Mr. Foss' verse that appeals to all, and in his latest volume are included thoughts, comments, and satires on modern topics that are either strikingly humorous or strikingly pathetic. In every outward sense the work will appeal to those who love beauty in the clothing of books, for its cover is a specially dainty piece of artistic skill."

Previously Published

Dreams in Homespun

221 pages Cloth Artistic cover design Gilt top Boxed Price $1.50

"THE same characteristics that distinguished his previous volumes are generally observable throughout this one. The author's talent consists largely in treating common every-day themes poetically. He invests with a halo of homespun beauty the scenes and incidents in the lives of average men. The humorous element is seldom long lacking from Mr. Foss' verse, and there is usually a trace of philosophy behind the humor."

Whiffs from Wild Meadows

This book comprises 272 pages, is beautifully bound, with an elegantly designed cover, and artistically illustrated Cloth Gilt top Boxed $1.50

"MR. FOSS' work is marked by every-day common-sense, good-natured satire, genuine humor, a keen appreciation of the petty foibles and weaknesses of mankind, and, above all, genuine human sympathy. The three or four 'occasional' poems at the close of the volume in their unconventional swing and happy rhyming remind one irresistibly of Holmes, and there are lines that even Holmes would have been glad to own." —Boston Transcript.

Back Country Poems

This book contains 258 pages, has 12 full-page and many other illustrations, and many of the author's best-known poems Cloth $1.50

"OF all the poems published for a long time none deserve warmer praise and more careful reading than the delightful songs that make up this quaint and natural book. Now sad, now gay, everywhere pleasing, the verses charm and cause us to wish that the 258th page did not bring the end." —Public Opinion.

PRACTICAL ART HAND BOOKS

A Manual for China Painters

Being a Practical and Comprehensive Treatise on the Art of Painting China and Glass with Mineral Colors

By Mrs. N. di R. Monachesi
With colored plates showing 138 mineral colors Cloth $1.25

"ALL that can be told is given to the worker in the pages of this book; what remains depends upon the taste, diligence, and experience of the amateur. The arrangement of the matter is admirable in its simplicity, the two main divisions being devoted to Materials and Instruction. In each division every topic that is likely to come up in the practice of mineral painting is touched upon, and its difficulties explained. If its suggestions be followed, the practice of china painting will be lifted to the standard of a fine art. In addition to a good index, the book is provided with five plates showing the painting colors, which were prepared under the supervision of M. Lacroix, a congratulatory letter from whom follows the preface." — Art Interchange.

The Painter in Oil

A Complete Treatise on the Principles and Technique Necessary to the Painting of Pictures in Oil Colors

By Daniel Burleigh Parkhurst 12mo Cloth Fully illustrated and containing colored plates showing specimens of oil colors Price $1.25

A BOOK which, though primarily intended to be of practical use to the amateur painter, will be found to be also of value and interest to the student of pictures. The painter will find it a guide to the principles and processes of the craft of painting, written by one who has practised them; and in the spirit of a teacher, without being abstruse, it will give the reasons for things as well as the things themselves. It has many illustrations, including cuts of tools and copies of famous paintings. Upon two pages are mounted slips showing tints of modern oil colors.

Water Color Painting

By Grace Barton Allen With illustrations and cover design by the author Also containing colored plates showing washes of modern water colors Cloth $1.25

"AFTER an admirable introduction, in which the reader will find many hints that are worthy of consideration, the author takes up the subject in a practical way, dividing it into a number of chapters under the headings of colors, materials, flowers and still life, landscapes and marines, figures and animals, composition, decoration, color washes, etc., etc., covering the entire subject. At the end of the volume is added a group of color slips showing water-color washes, which will be found of value in connection with the lists of colors and their qualities given in a chapter in the first part of the book." — Art Interchange.

Every college and boarding-school girl will like this.

THE dean of all living American writers for the young is unquestionably J. T. Trowbridge, who also ranks among the first of our living novelists and poets. The following opinions from eminent authorities touch upon the secret of his wonderful success with young and old:

AS A WRITER FOR THE YOUNG

"If to make children's stories as true to nature as the stories which the masters of fiction write for children of a larger growth be an uncommon achievement, and one that is worthy of wide recognition, that recognition should be given to Mr. J. T. Trowbridge for his many achievements in this difficult walk of literary art. Mr. Trowbridge has a good perception of character, which he draws with skill; he has abundance of invention, which he never abuses; and he has, what so many American writers have not, an easy, graceful style, which can be humorous, or pathetic, or poetic." — R. H. Stoddard, in N. Y. Mail.

AS A NOVELIST

"One great merit of all Trowbridge's stories is their unfailing dramatic fusion and flow. Much more famous writers in this field could be named who cannot lay claim to genius so thoroughly plastic and sympathetic. His characters are all vitally conceived, and hence his page is essentially dramatic — full of action and the throb of real life, as distinguished from novels that are mainly narrative and descriptive. The interest of his stories is not at all in what he, the author, has to say, but in what his personages do and say. It is not his wit, but their wit, that makes us laugh." — John Burroughs, in Scribner's Monthly.

PILGRIM SERIES FOR BOYS

Each volume complete in itself Uniform cloth binding New and attractive dies Illustrated Price 75 cents each

THESE are genuinely good stories written by authors of established reputation, who appreciate the wants and tastes of young people, and selected for this purpose with great care. In all the books of this series the spirit is manly, sincere, and moral. There is enough of incident and adventure to make them lively and interesting, while the principles of truthfulness, integrity, and self-reliance are quietly inculcated. In a word, they are such books as parents would wish their children to read.

UNIVERSAL PHONOGRAPHY

Or, Short-hand by the "Allen Method." A self instructor, whereby more speed than long hand writing is gained at the first lesson, and additional speed at each subsequent lesson By G. G. ALLEN, Principal of the Allen Stenographic Institute, Boston. 50 cents.

There is scarcely any requirement so helpful to the student, scholar, scientist, or professional man, as short-hand writing. Heretofore, all methods have required so long a time before one could become so proficient as to make it of any advantage, that men in middle life, or busy men, have not been able to give the time to learn it; but, by the "Allen Method," one can almost in "the idle moments of a busy life," certainly in an hour a day for two or three months, become so expert as to report a lecture verbatim.

HANDBOOK OF LIGHT GYMNASTICS

By LUCY B. HUNT, Instructor in Gymnastics at Smith (Female) College, Northampton, Mass. 50 cents.

"Well-arranged series of exercises are given in free gymnastics, wand exercises, ring exercises, dumb-bells, procession, mutual help exercises, bean-bags, marching, and a practical chapter on dress suitable for gymnastic exercises to be taken in. All these exercises have been carefully selected and thoroughly tested, and can be safely practised by any person in ordinary health."—Journal of Education.

THE HUNTER'S HANDBOOK

Containing lists of provisions and camp paraphernalia, and hints on the fire, cooking utensils, etc.; with approved receipts for camp cookery. By "AN OLD HUNTER." 50 cents.

If you are going into camp during the summer or fall, this little work will give you many hints for comfort and convenience not to be found elsewhere.

PRACTICAL BOAT-SAILING

By DOUGLAS FRAZAR. $1.00. With numerous Diagrams and Illustrations.

"Its directions are so plain, that, with the aid of the accompanying pictorial illustrations and diagrams given in the book, it does seem as if 'anybody' after reading it could safely handle a sailboat in a squall."—Times, Hartford.

HANDBOOK OF WOOD ENGRAVING

By WILLIAM A. EMERSON, Wood Engraver. New edition. Illustrated. $1.00.

With practical instructions in the art for persons wishing to learn without an instructor. Containing a description of tools and apparatus used, and explaining the manner of engraving the various classes of work; also, a history of the art from its origin to the present time.

HANDBOOK OF PUNCTUATION

And other Typographical Matters For the Use of Printers, Authors, Teachers, and Scholars. By MARSHALL T. BIGELOW, Corrector at the University Press, Cambridge, Mass. 50 cents.

"There is no work that requires more careful training, or a greater number of rare qualifications, than proof-reading.

"Mr. Bigelow's book is a practical treatment of the subject, and enlarges the reading-public's obligations to him."—Atlantic Monthly.

NATURAL HISTORY PLAYS

Dialogues and Recitations for School Exhibitions By LOUISA P. HOPKINS, author of "Handbook of the Earth," etc. Boards, 30 cents net.

The contents of this book comprise dialogues and movement-plays among the bears, the beavers, the squirrels, and many other animals, which have been successfully used by pupils from seven to twelve years of age.

THE STARS AND THE EARTH

Or, Thoughts upon Space, Time, and Eternity. With an Introduction by THOMAS HILL, D. D., LL. D., late President of Harvard University. 50 cents.

"It is poetic in its suggestions, and leaves the impression that nature gives the cue to things hidden and mysterious. There is no dogmatic conclusion, and yet the dogmas of omnipresence and omniscience are elucidated by it. In less than one hundred pages is much and deep philosophy."—Boston Commonwealth.

HANDBOOK OF CONVERSATION

Its Faults and its Graces Compiled by ANDREW P. PEABODY, D. D., LL. D. Comprising: (1) Dr. PEABODY'S Address, (2) Mr. TRENCH'S Lecture, (3) Mr. PARRY GWYNNE'S "A Word to the Wise; or, Hints on the Current Improprieties of Expression in Reading and Writing," (4) Mistakes and Improprieties in Reading and Writing Corrected. 50 cents.

"A book which will be of incalculable value to the young man or woman who will carefully note and follow out its numerous and valuable suggestions. It is worth owning, and ought to be studied by many who heedlessly misuse their mother tongue." — Boston Beacon.

HANDBOOK OF THE EARTH

Natural Methods in Geography By LOUISA PARSONS HOPKINS, Teacher of Normal Methods in the Swain Free School, New Bedford. 50 cents.

An inductive treatise in geography, which is offered to the general student as an original and philosophical presentation of the subject; also designed for the use of teachers and normal-school classes, as a review and generalization of geographical facts, a guide to right methods of study, and an application of the principles of psychology to the art of teaching, which shall educate, as well as improve, the pupil.

HANDBOOK OF ELOCUTION SIMPLIFIED

By WALTER K. FOBES, with an Introduction by GEORGE M. BAKER. 50 cents.

"This valuable little book occupies a place heretofore left vacant, as a digest of elocution that is both practical and methodical, and low in price." — N. Y. Tribune.

HANDBOOK OF ENGLISH SYNONYMS

With an Appendix showing the Correct Use of Prepositions, also a Collection of Foreign Phrases By L. J. CAMPBELL. 50 cents.

This compact little volume contains about 40,000 synonymous words, printed in clear, distinct type. — Boston Journal.

PRONOUNCING HANDBOOK

Of 3,000 Words often Mispronounced, and of Words as to which a Choice of Pronunciation is allowed By RICHARD SOULE and LOOMIS J. CAMPBELL. 50 cents.

"This book can be carried in a gentleman's vest pocket or tucked into a lady's belt, and we wish several hundred thousand copies might thus be disposed of with a view to daily consultation." — Congregationalist.

THE TELEPHONE

An Account of the Phenomena of Electricity, Magnetism, and Sound, as involved in its Action; with Directions for making a Speaking Telephone By Prof. A. E. DOLBEAR, of Tufts College. Illustrated. 50 cents.

"An interesting little book upon this most fascinating subject, which is treated in a very clear and methodical way. First we have a thorough review of the discoveries in electricity, then of magnetism, then of those in the study of sound, — pitch, velocity, timbre, tone, resonance, sympathetic vibrations, etc. From these the telephone is reached and by them in a measure explained." — Hartford Courant.

FORGOTTEN MEANINGS

Or, An Hour with a Dictionary By ALFRED WAITES, author of "The Historical Student's Manual." 50 cents.

"A valuable little book, embracing a collection of words whose etymology, when rightly understood, is full of instruction. The origin of words is an interesting study, and to those of an analytic turn of mind this little volume will prove a perfect treasure-house, and increase their interest in the subject." — Christian at Work.

WATER ANALYSIS

A Handbook for Water Drinkers By G. L. AUSTIN, M. D. 50 cents.

"The tests are for the most part simple, and are described in language devoid of technicalities. The work will be of service to all who wish to know what they are drinking." — Medical Bulletin, Philadelphia.

LESSONS ON MANNERS

By EDITH E. WIGGIN. 50 cents.

"A neat little manual, written on a very much neglected subject. It systemizes as well as simplifies the subject, and will prove suggestive to both parents and teachers, while its lessons will commend themselves to the learner. Nor is the book any the worse for its wholesome moral trend." — Herald and Presbyter.

BROKEN ENGLISH

A Frenchman's Struggle with the English Language. Interesting as a narrative, instructive as a handbook of French conversation By Professor E. C. DUBOIS. 50 cents.

"A decidedly amusing as well as instructive narrative, showing the trials and vexations a foreigner must endure in learning our language. — San Jose Mercury.

TAXIDERMY WITHOUT A TEACHER

Comprising a Complete Manual of Instruction for Preparing and Preserving Birds, Animals, and Fishes, with a Chapter on Hunting and Hygiene; together with Instructions for Preserving Eggs and Making Skeletons, and a number of Valuable Recipes By WALTER P. MANTON, author of "Field Botany" and "Insects; How to Catch and How to Prepare them for the Cabinet." Illustrated. 50 cents.

"We would be glad if all teachers would take this little book, study it faithfully, become interested themselves and interest their pupils in this wonderful art." — Practical Teacher.

INSECTS

How to Catch and How to Prepare Them for the Cabinet Comprising a Manual of Instruction for the Field-Naturalist By WALTER P. MANTON. Illustrated. 50 cents.

"An invaluable little manual for an active lad, or indeed for anybody with limber joints and a taste for out-of-door amusements is Manton's

'Insects.' It tells what outfit the amateur bug-hunter should supply himself with, how he should treat his specimens when he captures them, and what he must do with them when he gets them home in order to preserve them in his cabinet. It is so beautifully written and illustrated that it makes the reviewer crave to lay hands on a net once more and sally forth into the fields." — Syracuse Herald.

FIELD BOTANY

A Handbook for the Collector Containing Instructions for Gathering and Preserving Plants, and the Formation of a Herbarium. Also, complete instructions in Leaf Photography, Plant Printing and the Skeletonizing of Leaves By WALTER P. MANTON. Illustrated. 50 cents.

"It is entirely practical, and gives the collector just the knowledge required to render his work permanent and satisfactory. Its smallness fits it to be carried in the pocket, which is a consideration." — National Baptist, New York.

"Of inestimable value to young botanists." — Rural New Yorker.

BEGINNINGS WITH THE MICROSCOPE

A Working Handbook containing Simple Instructions in the Art and Method of Using the Microscope, and Preparing Articles for Examination By WALTER P. MANTON, M. D., author of "Taxidermy Without a Teacher," "Insects," and "Field Botany." Illustrated. 50 cents.

"This is a handy little volume for those who are starting on the examination of the wonderful life the microscope reveals. It instructs in the art of using the instrument, and shows how objects can be prepared for examination. Its simplicity is very valuable, and the young student will receive hints which will lead the way to the use of larger treatises. We commend it heartily to those who are beginning to study closely God's works in the world of nature." — Christian Intelligencer.

NUMBER WORK FOR YOUNG CHILDREN

Being a Series of Exercises exemplifying the Manner in which Arithmetic should be taught to young Children. By HORACE GRANT. American Edition. Edited by Willard Small. 50 cents.

"This is a nice little book for the little ones, and is as simple as it is comprehensive. The purpose of the book is to exemplify how arithmetic should be taught young children." — Boston Journal of Commerce.

TRAINING OF THE SENSES OF YOUNG CHILDREN

For Young Children. By HORACE GRANT. Edited by Willard Small. 50 cents.

"These exercises were prepared for the purpose of providing instruction and amusement for children who are too young to learn to read and write. They consist of questions on familiar objects, concerning the senses and the body. There is a list of games given for young people." — Literary News.

THE PARLOR GARDENER

A Treatise on the House Culture of Ornamental Plants. Translated from the French, and adapted to American Use, by CORNELIA J. RANDOLPH. With Eleven Illustrative Cuts. 50 cents.

"It explains the methods of conducting a garden in an apartment and in a window, of making a portable green-house, of propagating from slips, of managing an aquarium, of gardening upon balconies and raising fruits upon the terrace." — Cincinnati Gazette.

HINTS ON LANGUAGE

In connection with Sight Reading and Writing in Primary and Intermediate Schools By S. ARTHUR BENT, A. M., Superintendent of the Public Schools of Clinton, Mass. 50 cts.

"Mr. Bent takes up 'sight reading and writing in connection with primary and intermediate schools,' and discusses every feature of the subject in a plain and forcible way, giving more than a thousand valuable hints." — Nashua Telegraph.

FIVE-MINUTE DECLAMATIONS

For School and College Selected and adapted by WALTER K. FOBES, Teacher of Elocution and Public Reader, author of "Elocution Simplified," etc. 50 cents.

"Each comprises one hundred selections, not one of which requires over five minutes in declaiming. The selections are made from orations, speeches, and sermons with fine judgment, and with an eye to bringing out feeling, passion, fire, etc.— Home Journal.

FIVE-MINUTE DECLAMATIONS

Second Part. For School and College. By WALTER K. FOBES, author of "Five-Minute Recitations," "Five-Minute Readings," "Elocution Simplified," etc. Cloth, 50 cents.

"This is a little book gotten up for use in schools and colleges. Any of the selections can be recited in five minutes, and in this respect the book is unique."—Toledo Blade.

FIVE-MINUTE RECITATIONS

For School and College Selected and adapted by WALTER K. FOBES, Elocutionist and Public Reader. 50 cents.

"The title of this book explains itself. Mr. Fobes's experience has enabled him to make the book a valuable collection of prose and poetry, which every schoolboy would do well to purchase. — New Bedford Standard.

FIVE-MINUTE READINGS

For Young Ladies Edited by WALTER K. FOBES. Uniform with "Five-Minute Declamations" and "Five-Minute Recitations." 50 cents.

"This volume evinces general reading and good taste in the author. It differs from some of its class in that many of the selections are from modern authors. We do not see why readings that are suitable for girls should not, generally, be adapted to boys also."—Journal and Messenger.

EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

A Treatise for Parents and Educators. By LOUISA PARSONS HOPKINS, author of "Handbook of the Earth," "Natural History Plays," etc. 50 cents.

"'Educational Psychology,' by Mrs. Louisa Parsons Hopkins, is the digest of a course of lectures given to the normal class of the Swain Free School in New Bedford, and is the result of long and attentive observation of mental phenomena and development, careful reading, and original thought. It is a compact volume, giving in condensed form a great amount of valuable matter. There is increasing call for works of this kind; and one so sound, clear, and complete as 'Educational Psychology' will be cordially welcomed by parents and teachers."—Cambridge Tribune.

WARRINGTON'S MANUAL

Handbook of Legislative Practice for the Guidance of Public Meetings. By WM. S. ROBINSON ("Warrington"). 50 cents.

Mr. Robinson was for a long series of years the Clerk of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, and was an authority on parliamentary law and tactics during that time.

MISTAKES IN WRITING ENGLISH AND HOW TO AVOID THEM

For the Use of all who teach, write, or speak the Language. By MARSHALL T. BIGELOW, Author of "Punctuation and other Typographical Matters." 50 cents.

"This is one of the most practical and systematic books in its kind that has as yet appeared. It is particularly commendable in avoiding the chance arrangement of matter which has so confusingly characterized other guides devoted to the same subject. Here everything is set forth in proper order, and reference is aided by the admirable grouping of the various sources of error under appropriate headings. This little volume will be found a serviceable friend on the library table of every writer."—Sat. Evening Gazette.

WHIRLWINDS, CYCLONES, AND TORNADOES

By WILLIAM MORRIS DAVIS, Instructor in Harvard College. Illustrated. 50 cents.

"The best general view of the science in the English language."—Nation.

"The substance of this treatise formed the basis of a course of lectures at Lowell Institute last year. Cuts, diagrams, and charts illustrate the text; and the whole subject, which recent calamities have made so intensely interesting to us of the United States, is treated very lucidly on the basis of facts, and of the best and latest scientific speculation."—Buffalo Express.

BRIDGE DISASTERS IN AMERICA

The Cause and the Remedy. By PROF. GEORGE L. VOSE. Author of "Manual for Railroad Engineers and Engineering Students," etc., etc. 50 cents.

"This is a book that should be carefully read by all and especially by those who are in anyway responsible for the maintenance or construction of bridges. Prof. Vose demonstrates that bridges can be constructed in such manner as to prevent the disasters which are repeatedly occurring, and that ignorance, shortsightedness and criminal negligence are alone responsible for the large loss of life in recent years on account of faultily constructed bridges."—Springfield Union.

A FEW THOUGHTS FOR A YOUNG MAN

By HORACE MANN. A new edition. 25 cents.

"This volume is full of the wisest counsel, given in very attractive and winning language, which is embellished with sparkling wit and interesting anecdote. It is a rare little book, by an eminent author, and is worthy of a place in every household. The treatise has been so often sought after by the general public, that it is again republished in its original form. The late Mrs. Mann, who wrote the preface to her husband's book, says, 'Nothing the author ever wrote has been so universally popular.'"

HANDBOOK OF DEBATE

Including a debate upon the Character of Julius Caesar. Adapted from J. Sheridan Knowles. Arranged for practice in Speaking, for Debating Clubs, and Classes in Public and Private Schools. With Notes for the Forming and Guidance of Debating Societies, and a list of subjects for debate. 50 cents.

"This work may be considered a model worthy to be adopted for use in societies and clubs organized to cultivate powers of elocution and oratory, and to teach the art of skilful debate, the knowledge of which enables the possessor to wield great influence in public and deliberative assemblies. As a ready handbook for debating societies' use it is unequalled."

ENGLISH SYNONYMS DISCRIMINATED

By RICHARD WHATELY, D. D., Archbishop of Dublin. A new edition. 50 cents.

This book will be of interest to every one who may wish to gain more precision in the use of our language. In compiling this valuable work, the accomplished author has departed from the customary methods, and has not contented himself with giving merely the apparent synonyms in the language, but elaborates on the nice distinction in the meaning of common words, usually considered synonymous terms. In this feature consists the especial importance of Dr. Whately's volume.

PRIMARY LESSONS IN ZOÖLOGY TEACHING

For Teachers in Common Schools. By WALTER P. MANTON, M. D., F. R. M. S., F. Z. S. Author of "Field Botany," "Insects," "Taxidermy," "Beginnings with the Microscope." 50 cents.

This work is full of suggestions to teachers as to topics and methods in presenting this subject to beginners. It contains nine essays, full of valuable practical ideas for teachers. The subjects treated are: equipment; general characteristics of an animal; the bones; the muscles; the blood; respiration; digestion; the brain and nerves. The author has wisely disregarded the exact order of the scientist, realizing that he has to interest beginners and teach them to observe. His directions are clear and simple, and in the hands of a good teacher the plan he outlines would be eminently inspiring.

Fatherland Books. Translated from the German, and among the best Sunday School Library Books published.

The genuine religious sentiment, the touching pathos, the heartsomeness, as well as the dramatic interest of these stories of Hoffman, of Horn, and of kindred writers, are well known to the German reader; and we trust by these translations to make German thought better known to the youthful English reader, whom we hope to familiarize with scenes and incidents of the Fatherland.

A BEAUTIFUL and COMPLETE Series of 104 Large Colored

Bible Picture Charts

Lithographed in many colors, are now ready for such of our Sunday Schools as prefer to use this Two Years' Course in the Primary Department instead of the International Lessons.

Price, $6.00.

The cost of one year's set, comprised of 26 pictures from the New and 26 from the Old Testament, 52 in all, is $6.00. The complete series, containing two years' sets, consisting of 104 subjects, half from the Old and half from the New Testament, will cost $12.00. If preferable, the Charts may be ordered quarterly at $1.50 per quarter in advance.

Iron Frames or Stands on which to display the Picture Charts will be found very convenient. We supply them at $1.00 each. Every school should order one of these Frames or Stands.

THE PICTURELAND QUARTERLY

for the use of teachers using these Charts is very helpful, and is furnished at 10 cents a quarter, or 40 cents a year.

SUNRAYS,

Small Lesson Picture Cards, for every Sunday in the year, to correspond with Biblical Picture Charts. Beautiful half-tone pictures, printed in black, with a brief story, questions and answers. Price, per copy, per annum, 10c.

There are more than 1600 Sunday Schools in the General Synod, and we have only a limited number of sets of Charts to dispose of. This means that the Schools that hesitate or delay to send in orders may not be able to secure a supply.

These are the long-looked-for PICTURE CHARTS.

This is the joint work of the Lutheran Church in America, including the General Synod, the General Council, the Joint Synod of Ohio, and the United Synod South. The enterprise is a gigantic one, and our Sunday Schools are to be congratulated on the completion of the work.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER—A CHARACTER STUDY

BY IDA M. TARBELL

Author of "The History of the Standard Oil Company."

With portraits. Cloth, small 12mo. Postpaid, 82c; net, 75c

THE passion for money is the most universal and powerful passion in this country, and John D. Rockefeller is the most conspicuous type of the commercial man. Mr. Rockefeller is, therefore, important. He has become an inspirer of ideals, the maker of a national commercial code. Miss Tarbell tells the story of Mr. Rockefeller's life; and to tell of the real John D. Rockefeller she is better equipped, perhaps, than any person alive.

In gathering the material for her history of the Standard Oil Company she followed almost every turn and every action of his life. With the same judicious calmness as in her Standard Oil history, backed with documentary evidence, in this brilliant little volume she pictures the man. There is no personal acrimony, only a determination to show what kind of a man it was in character, impulses and instincts that built up that stupendous power, The Standard Oil Company. It is a book that deals fairly and justly with a man about whose name and character the most unbridled falsehoods, as well as the most slavish praise, have gathered.

THE HISTORY OF THE STANDARD OIL COMPANY

BY IDA M. TARBELL

With many illustrations and portraits and reproductions of important documents. Two volumes. Cloth, 8vo. Second edition Postpaid, $5.44; net, $5.00

A THOROUGH and complete history of the Standard Oil Company: the first consideration of the original, the largest and most powerful of all trusts. The book is not controversial; furthermore, every important statement is backed by documentary evidence. Miss Tarbell is, without doubt, America's greatest woman historian. She was helped in this work by the fact that she spent many years of her early life in the oil regions. She has given a thrilling narrative, as well as a detailed and accurate piece of historical writing. From the discovery of petroleum in the oil regions of Pennsylvania, through warring struggles of the period of independent production, down to the final phase of Mr. Rockefeller's complete domination of the industry, the story proceeds with an epic sweep and with dramatic episodes unsurpassed by anything in fiction. Much of the documentary evidence on which Miss Tarbell relies is now reprinted for the first time in valuable appendices, which help make the work as important to the scholar as it is already to the general reader.

"It is difficult to understand how any reader, whatever his attitude, can lay the volumes aside without an acknowledgment of their absorbing interest and great value." — Philadelphia Public Ledger.

"On the railroad-rate question the book is a very distinct and valuable contribution. . . . Miss Tarbell's service, and it is a great one, is making clear to the casual reader, as well as to the student, the menacing greatness of that problem, its ever growing importance, and in furnishing facts necessary for its comprehension, and, let us hope, ultimate solution."

—New York Independent.

"It ranks among the few great historical undertakings of American authors of this generation. Yet, it is a model of condensed graphic statement. The dramatic aspects of the story are not lost in the telling, while the arrangement of the materials is convenient for the purposes of the student and the legislator as well as for general reading." — Outlook.

LIFE OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN

BY IDA M. TARBELL

With 32 full-page illustrations. Cloth, 8vo. Two volumes, boxed. 14,000 sold. $5.00

DRAWN from original sources, and containing many speeches, letters, and telegrams hitherto unpublished.

"A portrait that helps us to understand better than ever before the manner of man that Abraham Lincoln was . . . Miss Tarbell's work presents a portrait that no student of history can afford to miss."

—Brooklyn Eagle.

MADAME ROLAND

BY IDA M. TARBELL $1.50

AN intimate biographical study of one of the most interesting women of the period of the French Revolution. Miss Tarbell makes a most life-like figure of this strong minded woman, who was, in a measure, the inspiration of the Girondins, and wielded such influence over Danton, Marat, Robespierre, etc. She has had access to much hitherto unpublished material-letters, etc., and has had the assistance of descendants of the famous citizeness, who have furnished her much personal anecdote. Her book is of great importance to any one interested in the study of France during the revolutionary period.

NAPOLEON: With a Sketch of Josephine

BY IDA M. TARBELL

Richly illustrated. Cloth, 8vo. Fourth Edition $2.50

TO her 'Short Life of Napoleon' Miss Tarbell now joins a sketch of Josephine. It aims to present Josephine frankly, yet sympathetically. One should be thankful for this volume by Miss Tarbell, which is the most readable and authentic of all Napoleon biographies." — Pittsburg Gazette.

FRANKLIN IN HISTORY

BY WILLIAM MACDONALD

With illustrations and portraits. About net, $2.50

THIS is the life story of Franklin — the illustrious Franklin of Europe and all the world. So varied were Franklin's activities, and so much is there to say of him, that his real greatness in volumes hitherto has been concealed in a multitude of details. Here we have left us as a major impression the world-famed patriot, the unique representative of a people, the wise statesman, the most successful diplomatist of his age whose crowning work was the winning of American independence — as expressed in the author's words "one of the real captains of his age." It is the author's aim to add this understanding of Franklin's character and accomplishments to the common conception of him as a maker of wise maxims, a humorist, a scientist, etc., now chiefly prevalent. The book has a special interest in view of the approaching bi-centenary of Franklin's birth in 1906.

"OLD GREEK"

BY S. N. D. NORTH

Illustrated. Postpaid, $3.71; net, $3.50

THE old-time professor at the old time college. An autobiographical memoir of Dr. North, of Hamilton College, with selections from his lectures and his miscellaneous writings. It gives an unique picture of the best type of college professor in the days when the intimate personal contact of student and instructor was the most vitalizing influence of a college course, and for this reason has a wider significance than the ordinary biography. It should carry a message of universal appeal, reaching far beyond the circle of "Old Greek's" immediate acquaintances. It has a special interest for teachers, embodying as it does the matured precepts of one of the most successful and versatile of American college instructors.

Dr. North served for fifty-eight years in the chair of Greek at Hamilton College; and was, perhaps, the most beloved of any American college professor. "Old Greek" was the name given him by his affectionate students.

THE LYCEUM AND HENRY IRVING

BY AUSTIN BRERETON

With many illustrations from rare relics. Portraits of Mr. Irving and Miss Terry in colors Large, 8vo. Limited to 500 copies in America. Postpaid, $6.23; net, $6.00

A DESCRIPTIVE and anecdotal history of England's most famous theater, which has recently been turned into a music hall.

"A delightful book, and a valuable compendium of London's dramatic history."— New York Sun.

Limited autograph edition, $30

CONTEMPORARY MEN OF LETTERS SERIES

THE purpose of this series is to provide brief critical biographies of living writers, and of men whose work is still a living influence on our times.

SWINBURNE

BY GEORGE EDWARD WOODBERRY. (NEW)

WITH the lately issued complete and revised edition of Swinburne's works at his hand, Mr. Woodberry has been able to produce what is the first well-grounded estimate of Swinburne's product. He has had exceptional advantages for gathering biographical and personal material.

THE COURTSHIPS OF QUEEN ELIZABETH

BY MARTIN HUME

Author of "The Love Affairs of Mary Queen of Scots." Portraits. Cloth, 8*vo.*

Postpaid, $3.66*; net,* $3.50

THE virgin queen's many love affairs are here considered in regard to their political significance. There are also two new chapters included for the first time in this edition, dealing with the personal side of Elizabeth's amours. Mr. Hume has had access to many important state documents never heretofore drawn upon, and from both the political and personal side throws new light upon the much-discussed love affairs of the virgin queen. His personal chapters are especially illuminating. The author has treated his subject more romantically than historically, and has made the interesting figure of Elizabeth more real than any other writer who has written of her.

THE LOVE AFFAIRS OF MARY QUEEN OF SCOTS

BY MARTIN HUME

Author of "The Courtships of Queen Elizabeth." Sixth Edition. With many portraits. Cloth, 8*vo.*

Postpaid, $3.66*; net,* $3.50

AN historical work as interesting as a romance. It tells the story of Mary Queen of Scots' love affairs, and traces their influence upon the political welfare of Scotland and other countries. The author's position as historian, and his former work on a similar subject, "The Courtships of Queen Elizabeth," give the book exceptional weight and authority.

"This is a volume which is more entertaining than even a good novel."

—New York Sun.

"The author has had at his command a wealth of material, and he has made good use of it. His work will be of large value for the information it gives upon an uncertain period of English history."

—Pittsburg Post.

THE WIVES OF HENRY VIII

BY MARTIN HUME

Author of "The Courtships of Queen Elizabeth," "The Love Affairs of Mary Queen of Scots." Portraits Postpaid, $3.67; net, $3.50

THE lives of the unfortunate consorts of Henry VIII have heretofore been treated merely in their relation to King Henry himself. From pathetic Catharine of Aragon to strong-willed Katherine Parr, they furnish a very wide romantic interest in themselves which has been too much overlooked. Major Hume's researches in English public documents enable him to give full accounts of Henry's wives, and to throw much new light upon their personalities and characters.

MAXIM GORKY—His Life and Writings

BY E. J. DILLON

Cloth, 12*mo.* Postpaid, $1.62; net, $1.50

A VOLUME of special interest in these days, when the literary men of Russia are doing so much to free their countrymen from the despotism of the Czar. It is a study of the wonderful Russian tramp-author, (leader in this movement) whose novels of criminal and slum life are recognized as among the most important contributions to modern literature.

BIBLE HISTORY

BY PROF. X. KOENIG

Postpaid, $1.07; net, $1.00

THIS book contains a series of fifty lessons on the Old Testament viewed in the new light of the indisputable historical facts that modern research and criticism have unearthed. The matter is so arranged that the book may be used for students of from ten or twelve years upward. The history is divided into Traditional (Abraham, Isaac, Jacob); Ethical, (Moses to David;) and History Proper, (David to Christ). Much space is given to a study of the prophets.

Professor Koenig does not suppose the final word in Bible criticism to have been spoken; and is no violent partisan of any school. His purpose is to make the Bible known as it is, or as it must be for us of this generation. He believes it wrong to teach it to young people from any other standpoint than that of sincerity. He hopes to make the Bible again known and loved by grown-up Protestant Christians, who are neglecting it altogether from loss of faith in the old conceptions of it. He believes the Bible the word of God quite as truly as though it were the product of miracle from cover to cover. To his mind, far from undermining the Christian faith, the conception of the Bible as a history made up of a series of advances manifesting the gradual redemptive works of God as he reveals himself little by little to man, puts that faith upon a surer foundation than ever.

RUSSIAN LITERATURE

BY PRINCE KROPOTKIN

Cloth. Octavo. Postpaid, $2.16; net, $2.00

A HISTORY of Russian literature from its very beginning in mythology and folklore down to the present day. In the last decade Russian literature has discovered itself to us in all its remarkable richness. No well-informed person can afford to be ignorant in regard to its achievements. Peter Kropotkin, the great Russian socialist, needs no introduction to American readers. His volume is designed to furnish the foreigner a comprehensive view of the history and character of Russian letters. Much that is best in the literary product of the country has never been translated; and through the many summaries of masterpieces and copious extracts it contains this book gives the English-speaking world an opportunity to become familiar with these great poems, plays, historical and political novels, romances, etc. The personal side — the lives of the writers, with many of whom Kropotkin was personally acquainted — is strongly dwelt on; and the accounts of these literary patriots' struggles to get a hearing against the suppression of the government give the book more the flavor of a romance than a history.

"Kropotkin's book is full of interesting material, which is most carefully assembled, while upon the whole substance is impressed the delightful manner of the man."
— St. Louis Republic.

"It would be hard to find any one who could write more by the card on this subject than Prince Kropotkin. Not only has he the knowledge, but he has the gift of writing." — Jeannette L. Gilder in The Chicago Tribune.

GREAT MASTERS

BY JOHN LA FARGE

With 63 fine engravings. Third Edition. Postpaid, $5.34; net, $5.00

BRIEF critical biographies of Michael-Angelo, Raphael, Rembrandt, Rubens, Velasquez, Durer and Hokusai. In these remarkable articles Mr. La Farge has expressed for all time the essential spirit and the essential facts in the lives and works of the great masters. The volume is an especially fine example of book-making, printed on fine paper, with broad margins.

"It is, undoubtedly, America's most brilliant contribution to the literature of art criticism. . . . We have had no better art criticism in our day, so far as painting is concerned, than this of La Farge's."
— Boston Transcript.

"The work is one of those rarities of which it may be said, in truth, that it is popular without the slightest sacrifice of scholarship." — Public Opinion.

REMINISCENCES OF 60 YEARS IN PUBLIC AFFAIRS

BY GEORGE S. BOUTWELL

With photogravure portrait. Cloth, 8vo. Two volumes, boxed.
Postpaid, $5.36; net, $5.00

GEORGE S. BOUTWELL, as Grant's Secretary of the Treasury, as Governor of Massachusetts, and as a member of Congress for many years, played a leading part in the great movements of the last half-century. Absolute candor, a permeating sense of humor, and a rich fund of personal anecdotes make his reminiscences not only easy to read, but hard to stop reading.

"It is a long time since any book has been published from which so much first-hand material for history may be gleaned."
— New York Sun.

THE one authoritative life of Pasteur possible is this one by his son-in-law.

"M. Vallery-Radot has written a good life of Pasteur; good in its presentation of the man and his work; good as an exciting story of adventures, as surprising as those of travelers in strange, unknown lands, of successes as stupendous as those of the conquerors of great nations."

— London Saturday Review.

ULYSSES S. GRANT: His Life and Character

BY HAMLIN GARLAND

With 33 illustrations. 8vo. $2.50

MR. GARLAND writes admirably. This life of Grant shows us not a mere figure draped with certain qualities, but it shows a living, moving man; it shows how a great man thought and felt and acted in things great and little; and that is an inspiring sight to any one. . . . The book has the qualities which make for permanent value." — New York Times.

INDIAN, 1866 to 1876.

Illustrations by Schreyvogel, Demming and others. Postpaid, $1.45; net, $1.30

STORIES, biographical and historical, of our Indian wars, laying particular stress upon the heroes that took part in them. Part I. deals with the winning of the Far West, and Part II. with the War with the Sioux. Among the chapter headings are: The Tragedy of Fort Phil Kearney, Forsythe's Rough Riders of '68, the Battle of the Washita, Rain-in-the-Face, Custer's Defeat on the Little Big Horn Creek, and The Battle of the Rose-Bud, Mackenzie and the Cheyennes. These stories have been prepared from official records, unprinted accounts and personal memorabilia furnished by officers and civilians.

"A great book for all good Americans, present and future. Those who already love their country, through the enlightenment of experience, will hold it still higher when they finish these pages; it will teach the rising generation, which accepts conditions unknowingly, the bravery and unshrinking loyalty of the American soldier."
— Cleveland Leader.

"The narratives are written with a vigor and absorbing style which make the reading a pure delight. . . . The work is a noble presentation of indomitable courage and the highest fighting qualities."
— Salt Lake Tribune.

"This is an admirable book from every point of view."
— Philadelphia Enquirer.

Fiction

THE ADVENTURES OF GERARD

BY A. CONAN DOYLE

Illustrated by W. B. Wollen. Third Edition. Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

STORIES of the remarkable adventures of a brigadier in Napoleon's army. In Etienne Gerard, with his great and genial fund of self-esteem, Conan Doyle has added to his already famous gallery of characters one worthy to stand beside the notable Sherlock Holmes.

"Gerard, the vain, garrulous, boastful dandy of Napoleon's army, is a literary triumph." — San Francisco Argonaut.

THE RETURN OF SHERLOCK HOLMES

BY A. CONAN DOYLE

Thirteen illustrations by Charles Raymond Macauley. Third Edition. Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

THIS book contains thirteen new exploits of the remarkable Sherlock. These, as they are positively the last, so they are surely the best stories of the adventures of the great detective ever chronicled by the faithful Watson.

"The tall, angular gentleman with the vigorous profile still remains the best detective of all times, and his adventures continue the most fascinating things of their kind in the English language."
—Philadelphia Telegraph.

"It is the best detective fiction obtainable at the present hour." —Kansas City Star.

"All of them are first-class, high-grade detective stories, by all odds the best that have been printed in the last decade."
— Colorado Springs Gazette.

THE GREEN FLAG. And Other Stories of War and Sport.

"GOOD stories all, and excellently told." — New York Sun.

"Tales that compel the attention on the first page and hold it to the last."
— Illustrated London News.

THE HOUND OF THE BASKERVILLES:

BY A. CONAN DOYLE

Illustrated by Sidney Paget. Cloth, 12mo. Fifth Edition. $1.25

"AT last," says the London Daily News, "Sherlock Holmes is confronted with an adversary worthy of his steel. . . . The narrative develops swiftly, but inevitably. . . . 'The Hound of the Baskervilles' is absorbing in its interest and power, and represents, we are inclined to think, the high-water mark of detective fiction."

"The same old Sherlock Holmes — only more so." — Chicago Inter-Ocean.

PLUNKITT OF TAMMANY HALL

BY W. L. RIORDON

Cloth, 12mo. Frontispiece. $1.00

"THE Creed of a Practical Politician" might be the sub-title of this unusual book. It gives a very frank disclosure of the operations of a typical politician's mind, and of the ideals and principles that rule his conduct. The discourses are genuine — in no degree fictional—and were delivered by one of the most interesting political characters of our day, George Washington Plunkitt, Tammany leader of the Fifteenth Assembly, District Chairman of the Elections Committee of Tammany Hall, who has held the offices of State Senator, Assemblyman, Police Magistrate, County Supervisor and Alderman, and can proudly boast of having held four of them at once and of having drawn salaries for three. Plunkitt says right out what other politicians are afraid to say. His opinions on honest graft, dishonest graft, the curse of civil service reform, the boss as a preserver of the state — are sincere and forceful though, perhaps, different from those which usually meet our approval. The practices of professional politicians have received a deal of denouncement; in this book the reader gets a view of the subject from the other, the inside, that will interest and perhaps amuse him.

MY FRIEND THE CHAUFFEUR

BY C. N. AND A. M. WILLIAMSON

Authors of "The Lightning Conductor," "The Princess Passes," etc.

With sixteen illustrations. Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

SUNNY romance is the keynote of this new automobile story by the authors of "The Lightning Conductor." The idea that serves as the germ for the plot is this: A young titled Englishman at Nice finds himself, by unhappy turns of fate and luck at Monte Carlo, reduced to an automobile and no funds with which to run it. A journalistic friend conceives the plan of advertising that "A young English nobleman, with a motor-car, will carry a selected party on a tour, etc." This advertisement starts them off on a trip through the Italian lakes, Venice, and into Dalmatia, with the skittish widow of an American millionaire, her precocious daughter, and her charming niece. An Italian count after the money of the latter furnishes a lightly tragic strain to the story, which ends with an attempted kidnapping in a lonely part of Dalmatia.

The romance of the beautiful countries through which the party travels pervades the book; and the historical and descriptive digressions are a delightful part of it, as delightful almost as the amusing scenes in which, despite a multitude of humorous misunderstandings, the love affairs between the various members of the party are worked out to happy conclusions.

THE FORTUNES OF THE LANDRAYS

BY VAUGHAN KESTER

Five illustrations by The Kinneys. Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

NEVER has so much of the life of our country been put between the covers of a novel. In telling the story of the fortunes of the Landray family through four generations, the author pictures what have been the most characteristic phases of our history and the most striking steps in our progress. Into his story come the frontier days of Ohio, the gold excitement of '49, the trail of the pioneers and their prairie schooners to the West across the plains and Mormon Utah, with its Indian massacres and white man's treacheries. On the big panoramic canvas the Civil War, the boom town period of the Middle West, and the beginning of the industrial period in the Ohio valley also take their place. The novel is a large and heroic painting, done in broad brush strokes. With vital incidents on every page, the author stirs the feelings and holds the interest. His people live and love. One strong romance gives unity to the narrative, and around it group a score of other love stories, coming and going as the men and women of the Landray family come and go.

The book is stirring and impressive—an original achievement that is sure to take high rank in the literature of our country.

WALL STREET STORIES

BY EDWIN LEFÈVRE

Cloth, 12mo. Fourth Edition. $1.25

"THE little volume is one of the most readable books that has been printed for many a day. We know of no other in which the letter and spirit of Wall Street have been more truthfully and interestingly portrayed." — New York Sun.

THE GOLDEN FLOOD

BY EDWIN LEFÈVRE

Author of "Wall Street Stories." 4 Illustrations. Cloth, 12*mo. Second Edition.* $1.00

WHERE does the gold come from? The richest man in the world, and the president of the greatest New York bank, are in desperation. Their financial lives hang by a thread. Every Thursday for weeks past a young man has deposited in the bank an Assay Office check representing gold bullion. The first check was for $100,000.00; the latest, for $10,000,000.00. He refuses to tell how he got the gold, how much more there is, what he means to do with it. Will he keep on depositing gold until it becomes as cheap as silver? If he does, the news will leak out. Then what will happen to their hoarded gold-bearing bonds? And — where does the gold come from?

"A novel of absorbing interest and fascination." — Philadelphia Record.

"The solution of the mystery is so thoroughly practical as to leave one chuckling with glee. It is a deftly-sustained, engrossing piece of fiction." — Brooklyn Times.

"It is to be commended as an amusing, well-conceived and well-told tale."
— New York Sun.

THE PANG-YANGER

BY ELMA A. TRAVIS

Cloth 12*mo.* $1.50

A DRAMATICALLY-DEVELOPED story of life in the Catskills centering in two strong and elemental characters. The plot is original in conception, and hinges upon the revenge sought by Abijah Bead upon a woman really his wife, who has taken advantage of the lack of witnesses to their union to desert Abijah and his son, and make what she supposes is a richer marriage. Abijah brings the son back to the little Catskill village, that his resemblance to her shall bring shame upon her.

The author has shown a positive tragic intensity in handling these elements, and in the portrayal of the two leading characters, Abijah, who is a wealthy young Catskill farmer as rugged as the rocks of his hill estate, and Barbara Hunt, a Southern girl of strong, moral courage and deeply passionate nature, with whom Abijah is in love. Abijah is the making of the tale — a powerful, grim, humorous man who is so masculine and alive that he dominates the reader like a presence. When one reads his talk it seems as if the talk of a male American man had never been caught in print before, so racy and personal and typical it is.

I. N. R. I. — A PRISONER'S STORY OF THE CROSS

BY PETER ROSEGGER

With 8 illustrations in colors, drawn by C. K. Linson in the Holy Land.
Cloth, 12*mo.* $1.50

THE conception of this book is original, almost daring. It is supposed to be written by a carpenter of socialistic tendencies sentenced to be hanged for a crime of which he is legally, but not morally, guilty. As he sits in his cell waiting for the day of his death, the desire for some sort of spiritual comfort grows within him. Tracts and platitudes are not the things for which he yearns, and presently he finds himself impelled to seek consolation in writing what seems to him the real story of Jesus Christ. His account of the events of the Saviour's life, as he remembers them, is homely and colloquial, but imbued with a wonderful earnestness, sincerity and beauty. In Germany the book has aroused enthusiastic interest and active discussion. The author, though taking this original point of view, approaches the sacred subject with all reverence, and makes an uplifting and inspiring story.

THE ANCIENT LANDMARK

BY ELIZABETH CHERRY WALTZ

Author of "Pa Gladden." Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

A KENTUCKY romance full of the fineness of sentiment and sensitiveness that has always characterized the Southern gentry. The central character of the narrative is a beautiful young woman whose husband has become a victim of drugs. Her friends, bigoted in the characteristic belief of the community that divorce would be a sin, smirching her name irretrievably, send her back time and again to endure the violence of her husband. Even her distant cousin, coming to the town and discovering her plight, her beauty, and his love for her at the same time, finds every difficulty put in his way when he seeks to protect her and free her from her bonds. The ancient landmark of tradition and prejudice stands stoutly in his path.

Mrs. Waltz has made this story rich in character. Not only has she created living people, she has also an extraordinary sense of the individuality of the community where they beat out their strange, or prosaic, or idyllic destiny.

THE WORK OF OUR HANDS

BY H. A. MITCHELL KEAYS

Author of "He that Eateth Bread With Me." Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

A YOUNG woman brought up in somewhat straightened circumstances and in a strictly orthodox and churchly atmosphere, marries the millionaire son of a great mill owner of her town. She has the disposition of a great fortune in her hands. Soon she finds that her husband, no more honest than he need be, values money for the power it gives him to dominate and crush other people. She, from training and from character, values money for the power it gives her to better the condition of other people. When she begins to practise her belief, with the aid of her husband's money, among his downtrodden, mill employes she invites his opposition and brings on the tragic struggle.

The play of character on character makes the events of this story; and there is something admirably strong in the way the author enjoys the salient humanity of Christie Bronsart, the corrupt and corrupting millionaire, and sees the unconscious narrowness and duplicity of her upright man, and points her story with the unwisdom of a charming and well-meaning heroine who has to learn her lesson like common mortals. Such genial clear-sightedness is something distinguished beyond the run of pleasant, accomplished story-telling.

HE THAT EATETH BREAD WITH ME

BY H. A. MITCHELL KEAYS

Cloth, 12mo. Sixth Edition. $1.50

A PROFOUNDLY emotional novel of to-day that involves one of the greatest questions of our American life — divorce. The book makes a dramatic presentation of the pathos of this problem, and contains an unusual love story between the heroine and her husband, whom she allows to divorce her though she still loves him.

"The author has touched depths in the heart of women such as fiction's pen does not probe in ordinary. The book remains a wonderful, even startling study of temperaments." — New York World.

"It is not enough to say that this is a remarkable work. It is a great one; a powerful argument in the guise of fiction against divorce, and a rarely felicitous delineation of human emotions."

— Nashville American.

"It may be to divorce what 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' was to slavery."

— Rev. J. G. Davenport.

BACK HOME

BY EUGENE WOOD

Illustrated by A. B. Frost Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

BACK HOME! Back to the good old country village where you passed your childhood. As the author says: "Here is your transportation all made out and in your hands." A man does not know quite how good a thing it is to be an American until he has read Mr. Wood's sketches. Not that Mr. Wood says a word on that point, but it is memories in common, above all, youthful memories in common, that really bind a people into a nation; and no one knows how many he has in common with his neighbors, from Maine to California, till these papers wake him up, shake him up with laughter, and now and again bring a touch of tears along with the merriment. The things you did — they come back to you as if by magic. And the people of the village! — "I know plenty that you know," declares the writer; "I may not always get their names right, but then it is a good while ago. You will recognize them though; you will know them in a minute."

Mr. Wood writes in humorous, reminiscent vein of the "Little Old Red Schoolhouse," the boys and girls who went there, the various sports, and studies that occupied them, "The Sabbath School," "The Swimming Hole," "The Firemen's Tournament," "Circus Day, "The County Fair," "Christmas Back Home," etc.

THE BEAUTIFUL LADY

BY BOOTH TARKINGTON

Illustrations in color by Blendon Campbell. Decorations by William Jordan. $1.25

Second Edition.

IT was in "Monsieur Beaucaire" that Mr. Tarkington showed how beautifully he could spin a gossamer romance full of daintiness, whimsy and love. It is just in that form, which many will consider his happiest, that he has cast this new novelette. "The Beautiful Lady" is a heroine quite delightful enough in appearance and character to deserve both her lovers — one, a young American, the other a young Italian. It is the latter, a sweet-hearted gentle fellow, who tells the story of the trail of the "grey skirt" through European capitals — Paris, Venice and Rome. Mr. Tarkington has achieved a bright-colored, fragrant little romance, which one is tempted to describe as a nosegay in prose.

"Mr. Tarkington's latest novelette displays his art as a story-teller at his very best." — Philadelphia Record.

"As perfect in conception and as dainty and, at the same time, as thorough in execution as was 'Monsieur Beaucaire.'"
— New York Evening Post.

MONSIEUR BEAUCAIRE

BY BOOTH TARKINGTON

With decorations by C. E. Hooper, and with illustrations in two colors by C. E. Williams.
Cloth, 12mo. Thirteenth Edition. $1.25
Full flexible leather, boxed. $2.00

SINCE Stevenson laid aside his pen," says the St. Paul Dispatch, "there has not appeared in English speech anything so worthy of the word perfection as Booth Tarkington's 'Monsieur Beaucaire.' It is a piece of literature. It is a poem, an idyl, the very flower of romance."

IN THE ARENA

BY BOOTH TARKINGTON

Eight illustrations. Second Edition. Arthur I. Keller. $1.50

TALES of people and politics. It is the human and personal side of the great political drama that Mr. Tarkington pictures, but, incidentally, he throws much light upon political methods and the types that political life brings into prominence. The stories are set chiefly in the capital of a Hoosier state. Their vividness, their reality and their dramatic intensity, result from the fact that they are the outcome of Mr. Tarkington's own personal experience and observation during a campaign and a term as a member of the Indiana state legislature.

"Not one of these stories but is well worth a careful reading for its literary charm, and its essential truth to national conditions. 'In the Arena' is a delightful book, and one upon which Mr. Tarkington is to be congratulated."
— Philadelphia Public Ledger.

"Good masculine stories, done with clear perception and vigor. They are real without being cynical, satirical without being bitter." — Collier's Weekly.

THE GENTLEMAN FROM INDIANA

BY BOOTH TARKINGTON

Frontispiece in colors by Henry Hutt. Cloth, 12mo. Fourteenth Edition. $1.50

BOOTH TARKINGTON'S first success. A striking, clean, and wholesome story of love and politics in the Middle West.

"A book which is a happy mixture of adventure, of sentiment, and of humor, and which is animated with a spirit of youthfulness." — Indianapolis Sentinel.

THE TWO VANREVELS

BY BOOTH TARKINGTON

Illustrated in colors by Henry Hutt. Cloth, 12mo. Fourth Edition. $1.50

A LOVE story of Indiana laid in the time of the Mexican War. No setting for a book of Mr. Tarkington's could be more auspicious. It is a story of Indiana by the author of "The Gentleman from Indiana," and a romance of our forefathers' times by the author of "Monsieur Beaucaire."

THE ADMIRABLE TINKER

BY EDGAR JEPSON

With 13 illustrations in colors by Margaret Eckerson. Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. $1.50

TINKER, the boy hero of this book, has already possessed himself of a place among classic children, beside Emmy Lou, Fauntleroy, and Alice of Wonderland. He is the youthful son of an English baronet in reduced circumstances. If you are hunting for fun or adventure he will supply it to you in plenty.

"One cannot do justice to The Admirable Tinker by talking about him. He comes pretty near to being a joy forever."
—New York Globe.

"If any one can read the book without enjoying it we will be sincerely grieved over his plight." — New York Press.

"One of the most entertaining books of of the season." — Newark Advertiser.

LADY NOGGS — PEERESS

BY EDGAR JEPSON

Illustrated. Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.50

ALL kinds of readers will find Mr. Jepson's new heroine as entrancing as his young Tinker was resourceful. In energy and ability to invent unexpected and amusing escapades she is a chip off the same block. Her adventures are as highly entertaining as they are original in conception; and she never lets the fact that she is the ward of the Prime Minister of England keep her from developing any scheme that happens to please her fancy.

"Altogether she is a remarkable character, a real enfant terrible, but with plenty of good points. You should make her acquaintance." — Chicago Tribune.

"It is simply captivating. . . . A jolly, spirited, invigorating story that for real enjoyment is worth its weight in silver coin." — Albany Times-Union.

PARDNERS

BY REX E. BEACH

Eight illustrations. Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

VIGOROUS and original stories of Western and Alaskan life showing it in all its dramatic and incongruous variety. Humor is the keynote of the volume, but there is always evident an underlying appreciation of the pathos and the privation that is part of the existence of a lonely western cattle man, or frost-bound Alaskan miner.

Mr. Beach's original, fresh, elemental, hearty-laughing characters are men good to live with; and their original and spicy language, with its queer turns of phrase and homely metaphors, is a continual delight.

"A book that is full of light and shade, of grim humor, of heroic bravery, of joy and sorrow, of success and failure, of life and of death." — Chicago Journal.

"Ten rattling stories."
—New York Evening Sun.

"The stories are vigorously and happily told, and some of them are delightfully dramatic and thrilling."
— St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

THE TROLL GARDEN

BY WILLA SIBERT CATHER

Author of "April Twilights." $1.25

A SHEAF of unusual stories dealing with life among the artists and high bohemians in New York and vicinity. They are exceptionally masculine, virile and full-blooded, yet are handled with somewhat the same psychological sensitiveness and keen understanding of the springs of human passion that give the characteristic flavor to Henry James' work. Each story is concerned with an emotional crisis and its effect on some type of human character.

"It has a sureness of touch, a grace of construction, and a subtle sense of grim humor pervading all the stories that stamp them as coming from an artist's hand."
—Nashville American.

"No description can adequately image the felicity of their style. . . . Miss Cather's characters are human like those of Daudet. . . . The most noteworthy volume of the kind since Mrs. Wharton's first book." — Pittsburg Gazette.

THE GIRL FROM HOME

BY ISOBEL STRONG

Cloth, 12*mo.* $1.50

A NOVEL of Hawaii when Kalakaua was king, centering around the picturesque court life of that unique little island kingdom. Mrs. Strong lived many years in Hawaii, and many of the incidents in her story are from real life.

"Her book is well worth reading, if for no other reason than to gain a clear idea of the fascinating life in that far-off land."

—"Buffalo Courier.

"A story that swings itself along in a delightfully rollicking way—of joyous mirth surrounded by an atmosphere of interesting people and enviable environment."

— Chicago Journal.

LITTLE CITIZENS

BY MYRA KELLY

Cloth, 12*mo. Fourth Edition.* 17 illustrations by W. D. Stevens. $1.50

ONE of the genuine successes of this decade. Miss Kelly's stories give an entertaining glimpse of a strange little world. Life in any of the great schools set in the thickly populated polyglot districts east of the Bowery is wierdly quaint and many-sided. Miss Kelly, who was herself a teacher in such a public school, did not overlook much that was humorous in her experience. Her book is one long laugh, with just here and there a pathetic touch for relief's sake. The stories are concerned chiefly with the children, but when their elders appear it is invariably to add spice and clever character-drawing to the book.

"Myra Kelly's tales of school life in New York's Ghetto are unique. They are marked by positive genius."

— Des Moines Register-Leader.

"No more lifelike, laughable, touching and thoroughly human writing has appeared among our admirable short stories of late years." — Outlook.

"A book which can be read over and over again. One cannot laugh too long and too often at Miss Kelly's scholars."

— Cleveland Leader.

"A more humorous, more piquant, more delicious set of small folk is not to be found in modern fiction." —Louisville Post.

CABBAGES AND KINGS

BY O. HENRY

Cloth, 12*mo. Second Edition.* $1.50

THIS is a book to laugh over heartily. In sparkling originality and all-around amusing cleverness this tale of a vest-pocket Central American republic and a young American who takes part in one of its revolutions has few equals. O. Henry's humor is as original as Mark Twain's or Bill Nye's. "General De Vega was a man inhabited by an engorgement of words and sentences," he remarks of a garrulous hero. A phonograph in action is described as "giving a correct imitation of Sousa's band excavating a march from a tin mine."

"O. Henry has the true American brand of fun — extravagant in spirit, rollicking in manner." —Nashville American.

"There are many of these stories which are as good as much that Kipling has done, and better than some of his recent efforts."

— St. Paul Globe.

"Stevenson's shoes have been standing around a good while, but it seems that O. Henry has got his foot into one of them at least." — Pittsburg Gazette.

"The O. Henry humor is of such a peerless brand that one cannot get too much of it." — Denver Republican.

LITTLE STORIES OF COURTSHIP

BY MARY STEWART CUTTING

Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.25

A GROUP of bright little romances of suburban life, with commuters in their infinite variety of aspect, humorous, romantic and pathetic, as heroes and heroines. Mrs. Cutting's young men and maidens are delightfully human, and true to the best kind of simple, unpretentious American life. The book is full of sweetness and charm, abundant humor and an appreciation of human nature as keen as it is true.

"Readers who enjoyed the 'Little Stories of Married Life' by this author will not be disappointed in this new collection. . . .
—New York Evening Post.

"One of the brightest books of this season is 'Little Stories of Courtship'. . . . Mrs. Cutting's literary ability is of a very rare quality. Her stories run the entire gamut of the human emotions. They are at once artistic, brilliant and satisfying."
— New York World.

LITTLE STORIES OF MARRIED LIFE

BY MARY STEWART CUTTING

Frontispiece. Cloth, 12mo. Fifth Edition. $1.25

MRS. CUTTING begins where other story-tellers leave off. In the very heart of domesticity Mrs. Cutting finds moving crises and climaxes, perils and triumphs. Her book has a peculiarly American quality, for the American home is its field; at the same time its pages are especially rich in those touches of nature, humorous or pathetic — often humorous and pathetic — that make the whole world kin.

"Mrs. Cutting has written a book so typically American that it should appeal to every American reader who respects the institution of marriage, and who is honest enough to admit that love is the only solution of the problem." — New York Globe.

THE WING OF LOVE

BY KATHERINE M. C. MEREDITH

Cloth, 12mo. $1.00

A DELIGHTFUL little story, all comedy and pathos, of Bohemia, the fairyland of art, and of an attic child in a New York lodging-house who invades the sky-parlor of three impecunious young men and wins their hearts. The little girl, golden-haired Satin, her sweet mother, the "Duke of New York," who liked to laugh and to fight, and who had lost his heart in Heidelberg, the Genius who played in the Metropolitan Opera House orchestra, and worshipped a divinity from afar, and the fop who planned to marry the heiress, make a delightful garretful.

"This beautiful little tale is simply flooded with sunshine. . . . Its charm of word-painting has not been equaled in many a day. It will be a treasure in any library." — Albany Times-Union.

TRISTRAM OF BLENT

BY ANTHONY HOPE

Cloth, 12mo. Sixth Edition. $1.50

IT stands as a revelation of the fulness of Mr. Hope's resources, his grasp of plot and character and construction. . . . In workmanship it ranks with his best as an exposition of the maturity of his art."
— New York Mail and Express.

DOUBLE HARNESS. A Novel of Married Londoners

BY ANTHONY HOPE

Author of "The Dolly Dialogues," "The Prisoner of Zenda," "Tristram of Blent."
Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. $1.50

IT is a novel of modern life in London, and deals broadly with the question of how to be happy though married. The incidents amusing, and in some cases tragic, in the lives of several couples more or less happily mated, furnish Mr. Hope his material.

Mr. Hope's pen is quite as amusing and as epigrammatic as ever, but this book is of solider stuff; much nearer to the living and real human drama than anything that Mr. Hope has heretofore written.

"It seems certain that most of the readers of Hope's 'Double Harness' will open their eyes in surprise at the decided step forward on his part which it undoubtedly marks." —New York Times.

"A story of real life told in a moving way, and real life is always interesting. . . This book puts the author in a higher rank than anything he has yet written."
—New York Press.

"Anthony Hope reaches his highest achievement as a novelist in his new book, 'Double Harness'."
—Philadelphia Press.

FAR FROM THE MADDENING GIRLS

BY GUY WETMORE CARRYL

Illustrated. Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. $1.25

A SPRIGHTLY little tale which tells in a very amusing way the story of a man who made a religion of bachelorhood, and built a temple off in the woods, "Shingle Blessedness," in which to worship it. It further relates the interest a young lady took in the young man, and what effect that interest had on his celibacy. Mr. Carryl's side-trips into the philosophy of bachelorhood are very amusing; and his verbal quips are most diverting.

"For a joyous, laugh-inspiring and altogether delightful story commend us to this tale. By all means, read 'Far from the Maddening Girls'."
— Nashville American.

"This is the best thing of Mr. Carryl's that we have ever read. From cover to cover it is unfailingly clever; at times, astonishingly so; and here and there we find evidences of other and deeper gifts."
— Richmond Dispatch.

THE BRETHREN. A Romance of the Crusades

BY RIDER HAGGARD

Sixteen illustrations by H. R. Millar. Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.50

A TALE of the time of the crusades. Part of the action passes in England, and a fine romantic picture is given of the feudal life of the period. The scene then changes to Palestine and the court of Salah-ed-din, with all its Oriental magnificence. The chief characters are a beautiful girl, Rosamund, half English and half Mussulman, the niece of Salah-ed-din, but living with her Christian father in England and twin British knights, "The Brethren."

"Related with that splendid genius of sustained suspense, that admirable imagination, that panorama of dramatic scenes, which are characteristic of this writer."
— New York Times.

"Such high-merit fiction and good history that it may live long as English literature. . . . It has that quality of entertainment and instruction which, while it diverts, refreshens the mentality and makes the heart young." — New York Telegram.

THE HOUSE OF FULFILMENT

BY GEORGE MADDEN MARTIN

Author of "Emmy Lou." Illustrated by George Alfred Williams.

Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.50

IN "The House of Fulfilment" Mrs. George Madden Martin has written of the Southern life, which she knows in all its reality and romance, and of the Southern people, whom she understands more thoroughly than any other writer of our day. Readers who enjoyed her "Emmy Lou" will find the same delightful touch in the first chapters of this new book, which deals with the heroine as a child and her playmates.

"A remarkable book. So strong, so fine, so sweet and true that one closes it with a feeling of seriousness and tenderness not often evoked by a work of fiction."
— Kansas City Star.

"Mrs. Martin's first novel has the breath of real life. It scales the peaks, and sounds the deeps of love and death."
— Pittsburg Gazette.

EMMY LOU: Her Book and Heart

BY GEORGE MADDEN MARTIN

With 52 illustrations by Charles L. Hinton. Cloth, 12mo. Eleventh Edition. $1.50

EMMY LOU'S school days, from the "First Reader" up through the High School. In these stories Mrs. Martin has done two very notable things. First she has created the most winsomely lovely little girl in contemporary fiction, own sister, indeed, in all lovable qualities, to Alice of Wonderland. Secondly, she has drawn the first faithful and sympathetic picture of American public-school life.

In his illustrations Charles L. Hinton has shown the same ability and sympathy with children that Mrs. Martin displays in the narrative.

"A thing for both laughter and tears . . . a classic of child life which cannot soon be forgotten." — Louisville Post.

"Perhaps it is the big readers who will appreciate Mrs. Martin's delicious humor, but there is plenty of entertainment for the little readers as well." — The Interior.

IN THE CLOSED ROOM

BY FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT

Author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy."

Eight pictures in color by Jessie Willcox Smith. Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

A FAIRY story in real life; a glimpse into the depth of a child's heart and mind, such as the author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" always gives with such sympathy and understanding. It is a strange and fanciful tale of the little daughter of a New York janitor and of her experiences in a locked room in the empty house they were occupying, the door of which opened at her touch.

"It is a dainty and beautiful bit of fiction. The little touch of the supernatural which is woven into the story, and which carries it just beyond the standpoint of realism, is very cleverly managed. . . . It must be regarded as one of the best bits of artistry that has come from Mrs. Burnett's pen." — Brooklyn Eagle.

"As the study of the heart of a child it is doubtful if 'In the Closed Room' has ever been surpassed." — Chicago Journal.

"It touches the heart where, perhaps, it was never touched before."
—Washington Star.

SUSANNAH AND ONE OTHER

BY E. MARIA ALBANESI

Author of "Peter, a Parasite" and "Love and Louisa." Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.50

A NOVEL of modern English upper-class life. Susannah herself is a delightful person — straightforward and ingenuous, quite in contrast to the almost vicious life which surrounds her.

"A novel well worth the reading and the writing in this day of ephemeral novels." — Boston Transcript.

MY FRIEND PROSPERO

BY HENRY HARLAND

Autograph edition, with collotype portrait, frontispiece in colors, bound in Japanese vellum, numbered and limited to 500 copies. $3.00

Frontispiece by Louis Loeb. Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. $1.50

A STORY of the lover's Italy, with a beautiful Austrian princess for heroine, and a witty, charming Englishman for hero. The book ripples with laughter from beginning to end.

"Indeed, another fiction jewel of that sort to which Mr. Harland is able to impart a distinctive luster." — New York World.

"As continuously and unflaggingly witty as anything that has appeared for a long time." — Philadelphia Record.

DAUGHTERS OF DESPERATION

BY HILDEGARDE BROOKS

Fourteen illustrations. Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.25

A DAINTY tale of the adventures of three charming young lady art-students who have become converted to anarchism. The plot is cleverly constructed and moves quickly, with many an unexpected turn. The story has all the quality of a snappily acted little comedy, and in its lightly satirical tone suggests Stevenson's "Suicide Club."

"Not often does one come upon a fresher plot or a little story more bubbling with genuine satire and more pleasingly written. It has an unusual measure of vivacity."

ROMANCE

BY JOSEPH CONRAD

In collaboration with FORD MADDOX HUEFFER.

Illustrations by Charles R. Macauley. Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. $1.50

A BOOK of simon pure adventure, full of youth's lusty desire for experience and its reckless bravery in the service of love. It tells the story of an English boy caught in the plots of a Cuban pirate band and of his love for a beautiful Spanish girl, to whom chance makes him, though a stranger, the betrothed and protector. It is a book whose stirring interest is enhanced by exceptional literary quality.

"A connoisseur has pronounced 'Romance' equal to 'Treasure Island,' and the comparison will be found entirely justified."
— Brooklyn Eagle.

"Contains more adventure to the square page than any other story which I can remember." — New York Times.

LORD JIM

BY JOSEPH CONRAD

Cloth, 12mo. Fourth Edition. $1.50

AN intensely human story of a young seaman who has always dreamed of the day when he shall be called upon to meet some great emergency face to face. The effect upon him when this crucial moment does come is portrayed in a most unusual and striking fashion.

FALK

BY JOSEPH CONRAD

Author of "Youth," "Lord Jim," etc. Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.50

THERE are three stories here under one cover — "Falk" is the romance of a port-tyrant in the Far East, whose love for a young girl forces him to confess that he has once been driven to cannibalism. The others, "Amy Foster" and "To-morrow," are similarly unique in theme and subject.

"The reading of 'Falk' leaves one so enthusiastic over his genius as to be inclined to declare that the writing of that one story would be sufficient to place him among the immortals."

— New York Times Saturday Review.

YOUTH

BY JOSEPH CONRAD

Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.50

INCLUDING "Youth," "Heart of Darkness," "The End of the Tether." Three stories by the greatest English writer of descriptive fiction.

Mr. Conrad's surprising ability to realize scenes and atmosphere by a few incisive words has been termed "wizardry," but that is only a small part of his genius. His view of men and their souls is penetrating and unerring, and is nowhere better displayed than in his book.

"'Youth' is a splendid triptych — vivid, true, artistic."—Literary Digest.

THE PICAROONS

BY GELETT BURGESS AND WILL IRWIN

Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

A BOOK of the romance of roguery. Stories told by a group of outcasts and waifs of all professions gathered in an obscure little San Francisco coffee-house.

"All are highly diverting in every respect. No better book of pure fiction has appeared in a long time."—Literary World.

"The real thing." — New York Life.

THE REIGN OF QUEEN ISYL

BY GELETT BURGESS AND WILL IRWIN

Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.50

"THE authors furnish much wit and humor of a very genuine quality. 'The Reign of Queen Isyl' is both a novel and a volume of short love stories, in which the standard of amusement is so evenly maintained that it would be quite unjust to say that each story is better than its predecessor but only that all are equally good."

— Philadelphia Ledger.

SAID, THE FISHERMAN

BY MARMADUKE PICKTHALL

Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. $1.50

A STORY of adventure in Asiatic Turkey, vivid with Oriental color and bristling with incident. The book is a remarkable expression of the point of view of the Oriental. The author has lived many years cheek by jowl with all classes of natives in Turkish Palestine and, knowing their language thoroughly, knows the people to the bone.

"An original and brilliant production. Never has an alien environment and an alien life seemed more admirably caught."

— New York Telegram.

A LITTLE UNION SCOUT

BY JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS

Eight pictures in color by George Gibbs. Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. $1.25

THE heroine of this story is a young girl of Northern sympathies who undertakes, disguised as a man, to find out the secrets of the Confederate camp, and leaves her heart captive there. Mr. Harris has skilfully interwoven the threads of mystery and romance. The book gives a very striking character study of Forrest, the bluff, kindly Confederate leader.

"This is one of the most entertaining stories Mr. Harris has ever told, and that is saying a great deal for it."

— Baltimore Herald.

"A romance of war time and very unlike anything Mr. Harris has written hitherto. The various love affairs are delightful, and the reader is interested to the end."

— New York Sun.

GABRIEL TOLLIVER

BY JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS

Cloth, 12mo. Fourth Edition. $1.50

"'GABRIEL TOLLIVER' is a novel, an old-fashioned novel if you like, but one of the best, a novel in which one meets a heap of interesting people, and finds in their history humor, pathos, and healthy young love." — Brooklyn Eagle.

THE MAKING OF A STATESMAN. A Novelette, with Other Stories of Georgia Life

BY JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS

Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.25

"THIS volume is composed of four sketches in which the dominating note is a delicate sentimentality. There is tenderness and humor in the style, and also skill and originality in the plots."

— New York Commercial Advertiser.

THE GOD OF HIS FATHERS

BY JACK LONDON

Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. $1.50

"THE Kipling of the Klondike . . . The author is doing for the Yukon mining camps what Bret Harte did for the California camps, only he is doing it better."

— New York Times Saturday Review.

THE MOUNTAINS

BY STEWART EDWARD WHITE

Illustrated by Fernand Lungren. Cloth, Large 12mo. Third Edition.

Postpaid, $1.70. Net, $1.50

A BOOK for the nature-loving man and for the man who likes mountain travel and wants to know how "it is done."

What shall I carry? How about horses and feeding them? How about tents? Clothing and feeding myself? What is the best place to camp? How to build the fire? How to cook? The answers to these questions and a thousand others are woven into an interesting narrative of a trip that Mr. White, in company with several others, took through the Sierra Nevada mountains.

"There is a freshness and zest about the descriptions, a judicious admixture of character study, of adventure and a pleasant humor which will recommend this book to many people who do not care much for the modern nature literature."

— Chicago Dial.

"The book while in one aspect appreciative of nature in her grandest as well as in her softest moods, is equally a particularized guide to the whole science of camping out." —New York Tribune.

THE FOREST

BY STEWART EDWARD WHITE

Illustrations by Thomas Fogarty. Cloth, Large 12mo. Sixth Edition.

Postpaid, $1.70. Net, $1.50

THE man who starts out on a journey through the woodland for a vacation wants to know a thousand things that only an experienced man can tell him. Mr. White was born in the forest country, and roamed the woods all his youth and continues to wander them now in manhood. All the tricks of forest travel he knows, and in this book he makes them plain to the lay man. The whole is written in a sparkling, intimate vein, that breathes in every line the love of nature which has already made Mr. White famous in such woodland fiction as "The Blazed Trail," "The Silent Places," "Conjuror's House," etc.

"'The Forest' is not unlikely to become one of the classics of our growing outdoor literature, a book simple, sane, practical, vigorous, yet full of the pungent odors of the northern wilderness."

— New York American.

"'The Forest' is likely hereafter to rank all other volumes on the subject of what to take with you and what not to take with you into the woods, and how, with a fair share of common sense to be most comfortable and to experience the most that is worth experiencing while there." — The Bookman.

THE WESTERNERS

BY STEWART EDWARD WHITE

Cloth, 12mo. Sixth Edition. $1.50

A STORY of frontier life and the advance of civilization in the West. No author has so clearly embodied the American pioneer spirit of the present generation as has Mr. White in describing this life which he knows at first hand.

"'The Westerners' lays strong hold on the reader. The thing is vital. There is in it a force and sincerity distinctly Western — of the frontier; the grim naturalness of elemental things. Furthermore, Mr. White knows his West, his plains, his Indians, and his mining camps."

— Chicago Record-Herald.

THE CLAIM JUMPERS

BY STEWART EDWARD WHITE

Cloth, 12mo. Fourth Edition. $1.50

A ROMANCE of a Western mining camp and the making of a young Boston man, who is sent unexpectedly out to the Black Hills, in Dakota, to be manager of a mine. When he arrives he has great confidence in himself and his knowledge, but the "boys" give the "tenderfoot" a very hard time. The climax of his trouble comes when the desperate gang attempt to "jump" his claims. The hero in him appears, and he meets the situation like a man. Through his courage and resource he succeeds in more ways than one, and proves himself really worthy of his sweetheart and her love.

BLAZED TRAIL STORIES

BY STEWART EDWARD WHITE

Cloth, 12mo. Illustrated. Third Edition. $1.50

A BOOK of characteristic tales of the lumbering regions of the great Northwest. The reader will find in them, portrayed with great freshness and strength, a life, a people and an industry new to him and almost untouched in fiction.

Mr. White here tells stories of sturdy manhood; stories in which men are not only strong in muscle, but strong in the elemental virtues — courage, honesty, faithfulness, devotion to duty, and self-sacrifice.

"Are full of go and vim . . . picture convincingly the life of the great Northwest lumber tracts."

—Pittsburg Gazette.

THE BLAZED TRAIL

BY STEWART EDWARD WHITE

Illustrated by Thomas Fogarty. Cloth, 12mo. Twentieth Edition. $1.50

A POWERFUL story of the great Northwestern timberlands which has become a classic among out-of-door books.

The Chicago American Literary Review says of this book: "The topic is nothing short of an epic, and this epic reach gives the book of this young man qualities of positive greatness. In it the story of civilization is comprised and unified. . . . The book is American. It is of the West. It has little in common with the literature of other countries. It is interesting. It is exciting. It is righteous. It is sincere. Above all, it is true. No American can read it without both pleasure and profit."

CONJUROR'S HOUSE

BY STEWART WHITE

Six illustrations by Charles S. Chapman. Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.25

A STIRRING love story, the scene of which is laid in the territory of the despotic Hudson Bay Company. The plot turns on the love of Ned Trent, a free-trader, for Virginia, the daughter of the commander of the Conjuror's House Post.

"The tale is dramatic in its development, full of action, perpetually interesting, touched with the mystery of the wilderness and the coloring of the artist."

— Chicago Record-Herald.

"Short, terse, dramatic, powerful, it has every element of a splendid and impressive novel." — Louisville Times.

THE SILENT PLACES

BY STEWART EDWARD WHITE

Seven illustrations in four colors by Philip R. Goodwin. Cloth, 12mo. Seventh Edition. $1.50

A STIRRING narrative of the struggle of man against the forces of nature. Never has Mr. White so vividly portrayed the woods, and never has he written in a stronger vein. The story tells of the chase and capture of a defaulting Indian trapper by two Hudson Bay Company agents. The trial leads far to the north, into the frost-bound, trackless wilderness beyond the Arctic circle, and every mile of progress in it is won by strenuous battle with cold, snow, wind and starvation.

"It is essentially a story that sweeps the reader along with it breathlessly and anxiously, but nothing in it so grips the heart as does the love element."

— Baltimore Herald.

"Full of the poetry of the wilderness. The fiction of it is delightful. His descriptions of nature are impressive, while the art of it is not to be denied."

— New York Evening Sun.

THE MADNESS OF PHILIP, and Other Stories of Childhood

BY JOSEPHINE DASKAM

With illustrations by F. Y. Cory. Cloth, 12mo. Sixth Edition. $1.50

THE MADNESS OF PHILIP, a Study in Piracy, Bobbert's Merry Christmas, The Heart of a Child, Ardelia in Arcady, Edgar the Choir Boy Uncelestial, and The Little God and Dicky.

"Josephine Dodge Daskam has known the very hearts of the children of whom she writes. They are winning little people whose adventures Miss Daskam tells so quaintly and with so unfailing a fund of delicious humor that the reader feels himself more than content." — New York Times Saturday Review of Books.

THE COURT OF BOYVILLE

BY WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE

Illustrated. Cloth, 12mo. Fourth Edition. $1.50

THERE are few men in the world who have pictured that strange creation, the Boy, as he actually is. One of these men is Mr. White. His Kansas boys are a delight, and the recollections they will awaken in the mind of any man will cause him to congratulate himself for having read the book.

EMMY LOU (See p. 21.)
THE MADNESS OF PHILIP
THE COURT OF BOYVILLE

These three books, in a special uniform binding, gold lettering, gilt top, boxed, and sold in sets only, $6.00 the set.

THE REAL ISSUE

BY WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE

Cloth, 16mo. $1.00

THE title story has to do with politics (many readers will recall Mr. White's political character sketches that have appeared in McClure's Magazine), but many other sides of life in the Middle West are touched upon.

STRATAGEMS AND SPOILS

BY WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE

Illustrated by A. W. Kellar. Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

STORIES of love and politics, the scenes of which are laid chiefly in the Middle West, where politics is no devious and hidden current, but flows close to the surface and exerts a molding influence upon the lives of the people. As presentations of very characteristic features in American life they are incisive and absorbing.

THE RED-LEAGUERS

BY SHAN F. BULLOCK

Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

MR. BULLOCK has a novel basis for his story. He imagines that the power of England has waned and that the Irish spirit has risen to the point of open revolt against the domination of England. His tale concerns the war which the Irish patriots wage against the English.

"We unhesitatingly recommend the book to all who are fond of excitement and adventure, for they will here find it a-plenty."
—Newark Advertiser.

DEBONNAIRE

BY WILLIAM FARQUHAR PAYSON

Illustrated. Decorations. Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

LOUIS DE CADILLAC, of royal blood, devil-may-care, captain of Carignan-Salieres, beau and arbiter elegantiarum of the wild France in America — such is the hero of this romance; a man ready with laughter, ready with his sword, keen of wit, and yet keener in the pursuit of his love.

The account of his adventures, told with dash and grace, makes a dainty story full of the high heart-beats of courtly romance.

"A blithe, joyous, irresponsible little story that will be read with genuine pleasure." — New York Globe.

"Not since 'Monsieur Beaucaire' have we read a book which possesses such delicacy of fancy or piquancy of phrase."
— Baltimore Herald.

RED SAUNDERS: His Adventures West and East

BY HENRY WALLACE PHILLIPS

Frontispiece by Jay Hambidge. Cloth, 12mo. Sixth Edition. $1.25

"'RED SAUNDERS' or, as he is wont to introduce himself, 'Saunders — Red Saunders — Chanay Seeche Red,' is the big, fine Bret Hartean sort of cow-puncher it benefits one to meet even between the covers of a book. Gentleness, honesty, and unconscious courage are his, and Henry Wallace Phillips may congratulate himself upon his ponderous protégé."
—New York Evening Post.

"The wind blows through it and the meaning of it is health and joy."
—New York Sun.

"Good for what the Germans call 'Katzenjammer.'" — Detroit Free Press.

ANDREA

BY KARIN MICHAËLIS

Translated from the Danish by John Nilsen Laurvik. Cloth, 12mo. $1.00

THIS is a story of child-life by a famous Danish author that has taken Denmark and Germany by storm. It is praised by the German critics as the truest book of child-life ever written. The heroine is a little girl with a "warm, warm heart" and a disposition that sheds happiness even in the midst of childish troubles.

HEART OF MY HEART

BY ELLIS MEREDITH

Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. $1.25

THE story of this book is the story of the growth of a woman's soul during maternity. The spirit of the book is so womanly, so reverential, that it cannot fail to uplift the reader, be it man or woman.

"So deep and so sacred as to give the reader a sense of being in a holy place. It is all very simple, very human, and utterly unaffected. The book will make people think." — Philadelphia Telegraph.

"It is a new ideal exquisitely embodied. It is a new departure in literature."
—Lillian Whiting.

HELD FOR ORDERS. Tales of Railroad Life

BY FRANK H. SPEARMAN

Illustrated by Jay Hambidge. Cloth, 12mo. Fourth Edition. $1.50

"IF any one thinks that steam has killed romance he will do well to read this book and find out where the real thrill and daring of American life is. It is safe to say that Mr. Spearman will never do anything better than this. He will not because in this line nobody could." — Washington Times.

THE JOYOUS HEART

BY VIOLA ROSEBORO'

Author of "Old Ways and New." Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

A NOVEL of Southern life and character at the time of the outbreak of the rebellion. It is the story of the happiness that a joyous heart brought into the life of a woman to whose share many sad things fell.

"The creation of Vella Carruthers is something really worth while — something fine, genuine, and touching."
— Louisville Evening Post.

"This novel is masterfully written."
— George W. Cable.

THE REBELLION OF THE PRINCESS

BY M. IMLAY TAYLOR

Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.50

"VIVIDNESS of writing, a full understanding of the historical events of the time, combine to make the book a noteworthy one, and one that adds to Miss Taylor's reputation."— New York News.

THE TRIUMPH

BY ARTHUR STANWOOD PIER

Illustrations by W. D. Stevens. Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

"A STIRRING love story of the great oil-fields. It is pre-eminently a story, wholesome and human — well constructed, and with an intense interest developing from the first page to the last, the book holds the reader." — Louisville Courier-Journal.

THE LONG NIGHT

BY STANLEY J. WEYMAN

Sixteen illustrations by Solomon J. Solomon. Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. $1.50

A LIVELY, enthralling tale of love, war and witchcraft in Geneva, in the early days of the seventeenth century.

"This is a robust romance, full of action and presenting fine delineation of character. It must be accounted one of Mr. Weyman's best novels." — Brooklyn Eagle.

BARLASCH OF THE GUARD

BY HENRY SETON MERRIMAN

Eight illustrations by the Kinneys. Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. $1.50

A TALE set in those desperate days when the ebbing tide of Napoleon's fortunes swept Europe with desolation.—"Papa Barlasch of the Guard, Italy, Egypt, the Danube" — is the dominant figure of the story.

"Nothing Mr. Merriman has yet written shows so much skill, so much dramatic force, such easy handling of narrative." — Kansas City Star.

SALLY OF MISSOURI

BY R. E. YOUNG

Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. $1.50

A LOVE story set in the Missouri Ozark Mountains during the zinc-boom days. Sally, the heroine, with her ingenuousness, her wind-blown freshness, is an irresistible creation.

"This is a real story of the real Southwest. It is a book that is delightfully written and filled with characters lovable in every way." — Pittsburg Leader.

IN BABEL

BY GEORGE ADE

Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. $1.50

MR. ADE'S Babel is Chicago, and the stories deal with the upper, middle and under classes and show life in that rushing metropolis in both pathetic and humorous light.

"For originality, versatility, keenness of observation and a mastery of the art of writing clever dialogue, Mr. Ade's book should place him in the front rank of short story writers." — Chicago Journal.

MYRA OF THE PINES

BY HERMAN KNICKERBOCKER VIELÉ

Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. $1.50

"THE whole book is full of daintiness and a sprightly humor, while here and there a note of pathos creeps in, gently and softly as the 'violet shadows of the pines.'" — New York Times Saturday Review of Books.

CHILDREN OF MEN

BY BRUNO LESSING (RUDOLPH BLOCK)

Frontispiece by Sigismund de Ivanowski. Cloth. 12mo. Third Edition. $1.50

STORIES of the people who swarm into the tenements and slave in the sweat-shops of the New York Ghetto.

"The pathos is genuine, the tragedy real tragedy; both are handled delicately, firmly, with understanding sympathy and the artist's touch." — The Lamp.

THE MASTER-ROGUE: The Confessions of a Crœsus

BY DAVID GRAHAM PHILLIPS

Illustrated by Gordon H. Grant. Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. $1.50

A STUDY in the tyranny of wealth in the form of the autobiography of a captain of industry.

"It will appeal to the reader almost with the force of a human document."
— St. Louis Star.

GOLDEN FLEECE

BY DAVID GRAHAM PHILLIPS

Sixteen illustrations by Harrison Fisher. Cloth, 12mo. Fourth Edition. $1.50

A CLEVER story of the adventures of Earl Frothingham, who comes to America in search of a bride with millions. It throws an interesting light on the social life of New York, Boston, Washington and Chicago.

"It is so well constructed, so brisk and natural in its talk, so well defined and true in its delineation of character, that one finds it difficult to put it down unfinished."
— Brooklyn Eagle.

A LAD O' THE O'FRIELS

BY SEUMAS MAC MANUS

Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

THIS is a story of Donegal ways and customs; full of the spirit of Irish life.

"There are certain pictures in it that linger with you after you have finished. It is a real out-of-door story."
— Literary Digest.

SEA SCAMPS

BY HENRY C. ROWLAND

Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.50

A CAPITAL book of adventures on sea and land in and about the Philippines.

"One reads these stories with continual delight. They seize upon him and will not let him stop until he has finished, and they are fine enough to make him think over them." — Cleveland Leader.

FOLLOWING THE FRONTIER

BY ROGER POCOCK

Cloth, 12*mo.* $1.50

A DELIGHTFULLY written account of adventures on the outskirts of civilization. The writer has a keen sense of humor and lights up his many thrilling incidents with much fun.

"There is a mint of amusement in the volume." — New York Evening Post.

"As a story of thrilling adventures, told with humor, wit and skill, it is thoroughly entertaining." — Grand Rapids Herald.

DEEP SEA VAGABONDS

BY ALBERT SONNICHSEN

Cloth, 12*mo. Second Edition.* $1.50

A CRISPLY told chronicle of a sea rover's adventures. It is more a story of the men that sail the sea than of the sea itself.

"The story has refreshed and delighted us. We recommend it to all those who love to be freshly and vigorously entertained." — New York Sun.

THE WAY OF THE SEA

BY NORMAN DUNCAN

Frontispiece by Howard Pyle. Cloth, 12*mo. Second Edition.* $1.50

A BOOK of the comedies and tragedies that make up the life of the sturdy fisher folk of Newfoundland.

"Aside from the masterful study and treatment of the ocean, the author gives a realistic picture of the hard life of the coast dwellers." — Chicago Record-Herald.

F. T. Bullen writes a preface for the English edition of the book in which he says: "I am absolutely certain that, with the exception of Mr. Joseph Conrad and Mr. Rudyard Kipling, no writing about the sea has ever probed so deeply and faithfully into its mysteries as his."

THE SOUL OF THE STREET

BY NORMAN DUNCAN

Cloth, 12*mo.* $1.25

LEES AND LEAVEN

BY EDWARD W. TOWNSEND

Cloth, 12*mo. Second Edition.* $1.50

A NOVEL of New York of to-day in which are pictured the many activities of the great city.

"A bright, captivating, wholesome story is 'Lees and Leaven.' The story has plenty of life and color, and the plot is ingeniously unfolded." —New York Evening Sun.

LOVE, THE FIDDLER

BY LLOYD OSBOURNE

Cloth, 12*mo.* $1.25

"MR. LLOYD OSBOURNE has given to the world five charming love stories under the pleasing title of 'Love the Fiddler.' These stories more than win Mr. Osbourne his spurs as a short story writer." — Literary Digest.

THE ROSE OF JOY

BY MARY FINDLATER

Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

A VERY perceptively written story, giving an insight into the life of a small provincial town in North England.

"'The Rose of Joy' is a novel of exceptional accomplishment. It is a book which must impart the purest pleasure to the lover of good style, of thoughtful reflection, of naturalness, truth, and charm."

— Hartford Courant.

DARBY O'GILL AND THE GOOD PEOPLE

BY HERMINIE TEMPLETON

Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

THESE are quaint and humorous sketches woven about Irish fairy and folk lore. The stories recount the sprightly adventures of Darby O'Gill with the "good people" of Slieve Na Mon and their King.

"Good stories all of these, full of the unctuous sly humor of the race." — New York Sun.

"Undoubtedly this little book of fairy stories is one of the most delightful published in years. It is full of the wild charm and nimble wit of Ireland."

THE HOLE IN THE WALL

BY ARTHUR MORRISON

Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.50

"THE HOLE IN THE WALL" is the name of a public house in Wapping, frequented by sailors, longshoremen, and the loafers of Ratcliffe Highway. A stolen pocket-book, containing £800 in bank-notes, is entrusted by a thief of the locality to his pal to sell to the landlord of "The Hole in the Wall." This episode sets in motion one of the most powerful and dramatic stories of recent years.

THE CIRCULAR STUDY: A Mystery of New York

BY ANNA KATHARINE GREEN (ROHLFS)

Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.25

THOROUGHBREDS

BY W. A. FRASER

Illustrated by F. Lowenheim. Cloth, 12mo. Fourth Edition. $1.50

A STIRRING story of the turf.

"No flagging in its interest. A clever plot is worked out to a whipping finish, and there is a love story of more than ordinary merit." — Chicago Tribune.

THE FIREBRAND

BY S. R. CROCKETT

Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.50

A STIRRING story, moving in Spain at the time when the followers of Maria Christina and those of Don Carlos were contesting the right of succession to the throne.

"A story of dashing interest, action and color." — Louisville Times.

FLOWER O' THE CORN

BY S. R. CROCKETT

Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

A NOVEL of romance and intrigue, dealing with a group of Calvinists who have been driven from Belgium into southern France, and are besieged in the mountain fastnesses by the French troops.

"There is abundant action. 'Flower o' the Corn' will be warmly received by the admirers of Crockett." — Cleveland Leader.

THE BANNER OF BLUE

BY S. R. CROCKETT

Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. $1.50

IN "The Banner of Blue" Mr. Crockett offers a new version of that most wonderful of parables, the prodigal son. Against the somber background of the Disruption Period in Scotland he draws with a master hand two brilliantly colored love-stories, the one intense to its tragic end, the other delightful in its quaint Scotch humor.

JOHN FORSYTH'S AUNTS

BY ELIZA ORNE WHITE

Cloth, 12*mo*. Second Edition. $1.50

"'JOHN FORSYTH'S AUNTS' is as refreshing as a breath of pure country air in these days of meretricious stories of society life, and we only wish there were more like it." — Cambridge Tribune.

TRUE LOVE: A Comedy of the Affections

BY EDITH WYATT

Author of "Every One His Own Way." Cloth, 12*mo*. $1.50

"A STORY of acute realism, which is certain to become one of the most enjoyable and laugh-producing books of the day." — Boston Transcript.

EVERY ONE HIS OWN WAY

BY EDITH WYATT

Cloth. 12*mo*. Second Edition. $1.50

A COLLECTION of short stories of common people.

THE HOUSE WITH THE GREEN SHUTTERS

BY GEORGE DOUGLAS

Cloth, 12*mo*. Eleventh Edition. $1.50

A STRONG and impressive story of Scottish life.

The London Times says: "Worthy of the hand that drew 'Wier of Hermiston,'" and that "Balzac and Flaubert, had they been Scotch, would have written such a book."

WAR AND PEACE

BY COUNT LEO TOLSTOY

Translated from the Russian by Mrs. Garnett.
Three vols. Uniform with "Ivan Ilyitch" and "Anna Karenin."
Postpaid, $6.42; net, $6.00

THERE is no need at this late day to insist upon the genius of Tolstoy. He is accepted as one of the masters of literature of the nineteenth century in Europe. But there is need to insist upon an adequate translation of his works if his genius is to be fully appreciated by readers of other than the original text. Such justice is done Tolstoy by Mrs. Garnett, whose admirable work seems to naturalize Tolstoy in our literature completely.

As for the books themselves, Tolstoy's is seen at his best in these earlier novels, before he had allowed himself to wander somewhat from creative art into the field of sociology and ethics and the literature of propaganda. These novels are studies of Russian life and character, not, however, in any narrow sense, as purely Russian and local, but rather in the widest acceptation of the purpose of art, as revealing permanent and universal traits of human nature in relation to some particular environment.

ANNA KARENIN. Translated from the Russian by Mrs. Garnett.

With photogravure frontispiece. Cloth, 2 vols., boxed. Postpaid, $4.28; net, $4.00

IVAN ILYITCH. Translated from the Russian by Mrs. Garnett.

Cloth, 8vo. Postpaid, $2.14; net, $2.00

THE DARLINGTONS

BY ELMORE ELLIOTT PEAKE. Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.50

A NOVEL of American life in the Middle West which deals principally with the fortunes of a family whose members are the social and financial leaders of their section.

ANNA OF THE FIVE TOWNS

BY ARNOLD BENNETT. Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.50

"WORK of which any hand might well be proud. The characters are painted with the hand of a master." — W. L. Alden in the New York Times.

Juvenile

TOLD BY UNCLE REMUS

BY JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS

Illustrated by A. B. Frost and Frank Verbeck and J. M. Condé. $2.00

MORE Uncle Remus stories need no further introduction and no better guarantee than the first Uncle Remus stories that we all know and love so well. The little boy to whom the old colored man told the first tales has now grown up, and has a little boy of his own, to whom these new tales are recounted with just the same affectionate, loving geniality. "These stories, as you must know, are not inventions of mine," says Mr. Harris. "They are genuine folklore; and I would not touch one if I did not know of my own personal knowledge that it had fallen from the lips of a negro."

There are over a dozen tales in the volume. Young and old will be glad to discover the reason "Why Mr. Cricket has elbows on his legs," or "Why Mr. Dog is tame," and how old "Craneycrow lost his head," to mention only a few of the problems elucidated here by old Uncle Remus.

WALLY WANDEROON, and His Story-Telling Machine

BY JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS

Thirty-two illustrations by Karl Moseley. Uniform with "Aaron in the Wild Woods," etc. Square, 8vo. Fourth Edition. Postpaid, $1.72; net, $1.60

THESE are tales of fairies and folklore told in Mr. Harris's very best vein. Those who know Mr. Harris at all need no assurance that there is as much amusement in these stories for the grown-up as there is for the youngsters.

"It is distinctly a book for everybody that likes quaintness and humor and imaginative tales." — Hartford Globe.

"One of the most charming and wholly satisfactory of books. . . . A holiday book in a thousand."

—New Haven Journal-Courier.

SILVER LININGS
BY NINA RHOADES

Four illustrations by Margaret Eckerson. Cloth, 12mo. $1.25

A STORY of the sad and joyful experiences of a blind girl written by a blind girl.

We believe that very few men or women of any age could read this story of the blind without experiencing many sympathetic heart-beats.

THE BOY'S BOOK OF INVENTIONS
BY RAY STANNARD BAKER

Illustrated. Cloth, large 12mo. Fourth Edition. $2.00

IN this book Mr. Baker has given young readers an unusual opportunity to become familiar with the great scientific problems that are of immediate interest. The many illustrations make the author's treatment of the following subjects doubly interesting:

A Voyage on the Bottom of the Sea, Liquid Air, Telegraphing Without Wires, The Modern Motor Vehicle, X-Ray Photography, Tailless Kites, The Story of the Phonograph, The Modern Skyscraper, and Through the Air (the last chapter describing the different ways in which inventors are trying to solve the problem of aerial navigation).

BOY'S SECOND BOOK OF INVENTIONS
BY RAY STANNARD BAKER

One hundred and twenty-five illustrations. Uniform with "The Boy's Book of Inventions." Second Edition. Postpaid, $1.80; net, $1.60

AMONG the notable achievements treated of are Macroni's Wireless Telegraphy, Santos-Dumont's Flying Machine, Harnessing the Sun with the Solar Motor, How the Hottest Heat is Produced (the Electrical Furnace), Radium, etc., etc. With the first Boy's Book of Inventions this book brings the romance of invention as near up to date as any book on science could be in these days of marvels. "He has the rare gift of setting forth complex scientific facts with clearness. We can imagine no better book to put into the hands of the right sort of boy." — New York Evening Sun.

THE MERRYLINKS
BY ALICE BROWN

Author of "Meadow Grass."
Forty-eight illustrations by Louise Clarke. Postpaid, $1.15; net, $1.00

"OF all the unique and entirely original books for little tots, none will take the lead of 'The Merrylinks.'" — Washington Post.

"It is a jolly book of nonsense."
—Worcester Spy.

GRANNY'S WONDERFUL CHAIR

BY FRANCES BROWNE

With an introduction by Frances Hodgson Burnett.
Eight illustrations in color by Edith Truman. $1.50

ONLY Hans Anderson and Grimm have told fairy-stories comparable with the tales in this volume. Never were stories more simply, more imaginatively nor more beautifully told.

Mrs. Burnett, in her introduction, tells a fairy-story of how this, the first book she ever owned, came to her and how after she had read it, it disappeared mysteriously, to reappear again quite as mysteriously long years after.

"Of the year's fairy books this is probably the prettiest, and surely stands among those that promise unusual enjoyment."
— Book News.

"This is the real thing, the fairy tales that chime to one's desires. . . . A delightful book." — The Critic.

KINGS AND QUEENS

BY FLORENCE WILKINSON

Four illustrations and decorations by Ethel Franklin Betts. Cloth, 12mo.
Postpaid, $1.30; net, $1.20

AN original and fanciful little book of poems and essays, in which a number of children put down their thoughts about the people and the life around them. Not since Stevenson's "Child's Garden of Verses" has the child's point of view been so charmingly presented.

THE LITTLE GREY HOUSE

BY MARION AMES TAGGART

Frontispiece in color by Ethel Franklin Betts. $1.25

THIS is a charming story about young people — the inhabitants of "The Little Grey House," — who find themselves confronted with misfortune and privation, and manage to keep cheerful and sunshiny through it all. Rarely is such a wholesome and lovable crowd of youngsters found together in a book. The incidents in their lives are very simple, but real; the kind that young girls and boys will like to read about. The book has a touch of boy and girl romance that makes it all the more delightful.

DENSLOW'S MOTHER GOOSE

Illustrated in 4 colors with drawings by W. W. Denslow. Boards, 9 x 11½.
40th Thousand. $1.50
Containing 96 pages of illustrations and text, with illustrated lining papers and cover.

MR. DENSLOW has chosen only those merry jingles of Mother Goose that are best known and most worthy to be preserved, and has carefully avoided those senseless rhymes in ungrammatical English which other collections perpetuate to the injury of the children and the disgust of their parents.

"Mother Goose has never lived before. 'Den' has made her as though she had never been." — Rochester Herald.

McCLURE'S CHILDREN'S ANNUAL. Simple Stories and Amusing Pictures

EDITED BY T. W. H. CROSSLAND

Many full-page plates in colors. Decorated cloth binding. $1.50

THE third issue of this delightful annual for children — quaint colored pictures, amusing simple verses, interesting stories. Very attractive and durably bound. The plates are in four colors. The Annuals for 1903-4 are out of print.

GOLDEN NUMBERS

EDITED BY KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN AND NORA ARCHIBALD SMITH

With introduction and interleaves on the reading of poetry by Kate Douglas Wiggin.
Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. Postpaid, $2.17; net, $2.00

WITH the guarantee of Kate Douglas Wiggin's name, it is hardly necessary to say that this is the best anthology for children that has ever been compiled. "Golden Numbers" will serve well until the boy or girl begins to study literature in school and college.

"Of all the host of books for young people this season 'Golden Numbers' is beyond comparison the worthiest. . . . One is perforce moved to enthusiasm in the presence of a book so beautifully adapted to its intended use." — Boston Herald.

THE POSY RING: A Book of Verse for Children

BY KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN AND NORA ARCHIBALD SMITH

Cloth, 12mo. Uniform with "Golden Numbers." Third Edition.
Postpaid, $1.37; net, $1.25

THE POSY RING contains only short poems, easy in language, and simple in sentiment and imagery, such as the very youngest children will readily understand and appreciate.

"Surely the editors understand little folks, and know not only what they ought to like, but what they actually do like."
— Chicago Tribune.

"An admirable collection."
— Louisville Times.

"GOLDEN NUMBERS" AND "POSY RING," IN A BOX, POSTPAID, $3.50; NET, $3.25. BOUND IN HALF MOROCCO, NET, $6.50.

DONEGAL FAIRY STORIES

BY SEUMAS MAC MANUS

With 40 illustrations by Gustav Verbeck. Cloth, 12mo. $1.25

"THE quaint raciness and droll humor of the fun-loving Celt comes out delightfully in each wonderful adventure."
— Kansas City Star.

IN CHIMNEY CORNERS

BY SEUMAS MAC MANUS

Postpaid, $1.62; net, $1.50

MERRY tales of Irish folklore concerning those giants, witches, kings and invisible jacks which are so Celtic in character and in quick invention.

YANKEE ENCHANTMENTS

BY CHARLES BATTELL LOOMIS

With 39 illustrations by F. Y. Cory. Cloth, 12mo. $1.25

"AMONG all the books for children there is nothing better. Bubbling with humor, perfectly wholesome in tone, it is a thoroughly delightful book." — New York Times.

THE JUMPING KANGAROO AND THE APPLE-BUTTER CAT

BY JOHN W. HARRINGTON

With 48 illustrations and cover design in two colors. By J. M. Condé. Cloth, 8vo. $1.00

FANCIFUL stories dealing with animals of house and field.

"A very clever book for children, in which the text vies with the illustrations as to which shall be the most amusing."
— Troy Times.

THE KING AND QUEEN OF HEARTS

BY CHARLES LAMB

Introduction by E. V. Lucas. Quaintly illustrated. 16mo. Postpaid, 53c; net, 50c

PREVIOUS to Mr. Lucas's discovery, "Tales from Shakespeare" was thought to be the Lambs' first experiment in writing for children. "The King and Queen of Hearts" antedates the latter by two years. Facsimile of a private edition of 1805.

Travel and Description

A COMMERCIAL TRAVELLER IN SOUTH AMERICA

BY FRANK WIBORG

Eight illustrations. Postpaid, $1.07; net, $1.00

MR. WIBORG is a business man, and like almost every live American he has the reporter's faculty of seeing interesting things and writing of them crisply and entertainingly. Recently, he made a trip through South America, going from New York to Colon, across the Isthmus of Panama, down the west coast of South America to Valparaiso, thence across the Andes and the Pampas to Buenos Aires, and then back via Rio Janeiro. His book is like a long, long letter home, telling about the people, their customs, the churches, the climate, the buildings, the railroads; in fact, everything and anything he sees or hears.

Business men will find Mr. Wiborg's book suggestive. Great changes have taken place in South America in ten years; and most that has been written about the country is now out of date. Mr. Wiborg's book will make American manufacturers and traders realize how they are letting golden opportunity escape them in the South American markets, which, as he indicates, are every day being more and more firmly possessed by the French, English, and Germans.

THE YELLOW WAR

BY "O"

Eight illustrations. Postpaid, $1.32; net, $1.20

A BOOK of unusual and powerful sketches bringing out the personal side of the Russo-Japanese War. The author has given vividly the romance and drama of the conflict, and takes the reader right into the trenches with the men on the firing line. Nothing of the kind has been done so effectively since Stephen Crane's "The Red Badge of Courage." The authors personal and political importance gave him opportunities for being in the thick of things, enjoyed by no other correspondent or no other person who has written of the war.

"No more vivid pictures of the war in the Far East have been published than are contained in this book." — Buffalo Express.

"Of the numerous books which the conflict in the Far East has called forth none stirs the emotions so profoundly as this volume of sketches. The stories are overpowering in their vivid presentment of the methods of modern warfare."

— New York Globe.

ALASKA AND THE KLONDIKE

BY J. S. McLAIN

Many illustrations. Postpaid, $2.19; net, $2.00

THE first book to deal in any adequate way with our great Arctic possession. The author went all over Alaska as an unofficial member of the Senate Committee of 1903, visiting the American and British gold fields, the island districts, Nome, the coast fisheries, the Yukon country, and had exceptional opportunities for gathering facts and information. The story takes the form of a brisk running narrative of his trip, with picturesque and, at times, humorous descriptions of the things he saw. His account of the country, its history, its resources and its promises for the future has practically the accuracy and trustworthiness of a public document.

"This volume must rank with the most valuable of our literature on Alaska."

—Detroit Free Press.

"Not only exceedingly entertaining as a book of travel, but particularly valuable in its open-minded presentation of the conditions, possibilities and needs of the territory."—New York Tribune.

ASIATIC RUSSIA

BY GEORGE FREDERICK WRIGHT, LL.D., F.G.S.A.

Illustrated with photographs and maps. Cloth, 2 vols., boxed.

Postpaid, $7.95; net, $7.50

A BOOK so broad that it might have been called a complete description of Russia in Asia. A long-range view of the history of the people, that is not only sound and scholarly, but unconsciously dramatic and fine. Taken together with the exact studies of the topography, geology, flora and fauna, movements of the races, the later colonization and the drift of intelligence, Asiatic Russia is presented with a grasp, completeness, and detail that satisfy the intelligence as well as commercial and scientific curiosity.

"A noteworthy addition to the 'serious' books of the year. It conveys a large amount of valuable information, with much pertinent comment, and the book's influence is likely to be the greater because it is written, as a whole, in a semi-popular vein." — Newark News.

THE HEART OF JAPAN

BY CLARENCE LUDLOW BROWNELL

Sixteen illustrations. Cloth, 12mo. Fourth Edition. Postpaid, $1.62; net, $1.50

A BOOK of humor that really tells something about the "heart" of Japan and the heart of the Japanese people, and tells it in a most lively and interesting way. M. Brownell was for five years, teacher of English in the public schools of Japan in many parts of the country.

"The book is as interesting and full of color as a Japanese print. Nothing that has ever been written has shown more clearly how fascinating and clever the little Japs really are." — The Reader.

THE AWAKENING OF THE EAST. The Orient and Its Problems

BY PIERRE LEROY-BEAULIEU

Introduction by Henry Norman. Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

"THE book is a mine of information, conveyed with all the charm of an uncommonly attractive French writer; it is one of the standard works on its subject. Every page is of value. . . . One of the ablest and most thorough works on what promises to be the burning question and the danger-point of twentieth century 'world politics.'"

— New York Mail and Express.

AN AMERICAN ENGINEER IN CHINA

BY WILLIAM BARCLAY PARSONS

Illustrated. Cloth, 12mo. $1.50

AS Chief Engineer for the American Railway Syndicate in China, Mr. Parsons spent several months investigating the finances, commercial possibilities, and development of China as affected by Americans, American trade, and American enterprise.

"The most important work of all, and in many respects the most intelligent, far-seeing, studious, instructive, statesmanlike work on the Eastern situation yet published." — Literary World, Boston.

LETTERS FROM A CHINESE OFFICIAL

BY G. LOWES DICKINSON

Eighth Edition. Postpaid, 54*c; net,* 50*c*

A LITTLE book that has made a great stir among thinkers on this side of the water. It presents an estimate of the Anglo-Saxon from the point of view of a Chinaman, and is calculated to make the American reader wonder whether we have really reached the high social and political organization that we pride ourselves upon having attained.

"The cogent way in which he states his case is calculated to make the thoughtful man halt and question whether there may not be more truth than is palatable in his letters." — Public Opinion.

"This book ought to make all westerners stop and think a little."

— New York Evening Sun.

"A little book so filled with facts that it is a pity it cannot be brought to the attention of every thinking man in Christendom." — Chicago News.

LETTERS FROM EGYPT

BY LADY DUFF GORDON

With an introduction by GEORGE MEREDITH.
Photogravure frontispiece portrait and illustrations. Cloth, large 12mo. Third Edition.
Postpaid, $2.65; net, $2.50

THE reprint of a famous series of letters by one of the most brilliant Englishwomen of her time.

"Lady Duff Gordon's Letters are a literature by themselves — dashed off with a free hand, but with such life, such charm, and Lord, Lord, such pathos! and to my mind they reveal a character which explains and justifies the worship those grateful children of the desert so frankly paid her."
— Mark Twain.

INDIAN BOYHOOD

BY CHARLES A. EASTMAN

Illustrated by E. L. Blumenschein. Cloth, large 12mo. Fourth Edition.
Postpaid, $1.73; net, $1.60

THE story of his own youthful life in the wilds, his pastimes and his schooling, by a full-blooded Sioux.

"It is a delightful record of primitive childhood and the life of a vanished people. Young and old may enjoy it, for it brings the traditions and supersti ions, the customs and habits, of an aboriginal tribe into the cultured narrative of an eloquent writer." — Detroit Free Press.

"'Indian Boyhood' stands alone in our literature as a record of much that has passed beyond the range of human experience never to return." — Review of Reviews.

Sociology, Economics, etc.

THE COST OF COMPETITION

BY SIDNEY A. REEVE

Two volumes. Illustrated with photographs and diagrams. Postpaid, $2.17; net, $2.00

THROUGH a strikingly original line of argument involving many important conceptions new to sociology and political economy, the author of this volume demonstrates the great sacrifice that modern society makes to commercialism. Traders (i. e. pure "business men") he declares dominate the producers, and rob them of the return that should be both their reward and their stimulus toward larger and better production. Value, he insists, is not at all to be measured by money (the instrument of trade), but by the amount a commodity contributes towards the support of life. Therefore, he concludes, do away with trade, and rid our country of the ruinous "cost of competition" which it represents. These ideas are developed fully, pointedly and in a most interesting and convincing manner.

The author belongs to the progressive school of political economists, and his whole line of argument points in the direction of socialism. His book indicates, in fact, a step simple of accomplishment, which would take us part way towards the ideal socialistic state as set forth by Edward Bellamy and others of his school.

THE COLOR LINE

BY PROFESSOR WILLIAM BENJAMIN SMITH, OF TULANE UNIVERSITY

Author of "Tariff for Protection," "Infinitesimal Calculus." Postpaid, $1.62; net, $1.50

THE race problem has, unfortunately both North and South, been dealt with rather in a spirit of rancorous debate, than with the thoughtful consideration due to a phase of American life so tremendous in its import. Professor Smith is a thorough scientist, and he enforces the southern view of the character and capacity of the negro, with all the resource of a trained anthropologist.

"The book is apparently unanswerable, and presents facts and figures calculated to give pause to many negro enthusiasts in the North who speak without actual experience." — St. Paul Globe.

"There is no doubt of its sincerity and authenticity, and the possibility of its giving its readers many vital facts they have not hitherto known."

— San Francisco Call.

"This volume will, without the slightest doubt, serve to bring to the attention of many a Northerner the reasonableness of much that the South contends for."

— New York Public Opinion.

THE SHAME OF THE CITIES

BY LINCOLN STEFFENS

Third Edition. Postpaid, $1.32; net, $1.20

NOTHING more remarkable has appeared in recent years than these studies in municipal corruption. Mr. Steffens has a faculty for unearthing the vital fact and presenting it forcibly. The live events in the recent history of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Pittsburg, and Minneapolis have furnished him his material. His narrative of the extraordinary methods of corrupt politicians is dramatic and intensely interesting. He also records the hopeful facts of the rising movement against municipal misgovernment initiated by determined individuals and by groups of patriotic citizens struggling to get honest and efficient administration in city affairs.

"As pieces of story-writing these papers beat 99 per cent of our fiction; but they are more than this, they are a public service."

— Cleveland Plaindealer.

"A vivid portraiture of deep-rooted conditions in our civic life."

— New York Evening Post.

"It is a book exceedingly well worth reading. Mr. Steffens has ideas which command attention."

— New York Times Saturday Review.

TRUSTS OF TO-DAY

BY GILBERT HOLLAND MONTAGUE

Cloth, 12*mo.* Postpaid, $1.32; net, $1.20

MR. MONTAGUE has written a convenient and clear hand-book of all the facts concerning the trusts: their organization and their management. He tells the story of the rise of the trust principle, making clear each point by examples from the leading trusts of the United States, and thus really tells the history of about fifty enterprises, such as the Standard Oil Company, the American Tobacco Company, the Sugar Refining Company, the Kodak Company, etc.

"Written in a clear, readable and interesting way. A most helpful, popular, and timely contribution to the literature of this great question." — Toledo Times-Bee.

THE TRUST PROBLEM

BY JEREMIAH W. JENKS, PH.D.

With five charts in colors. Cloth, small 12mo. Fifth Edition. New and Revised. With added chapter on "Foreign Combinations" and a complete index. Postpaid, $1.10; net, $1.00

"THE most instructing contribution that has thus far been made to the discussion of the trust problem. It is singularly free from dogmatism and apriorism, and every page is informed with a strong economic philosophy." — Professor Miller in the Journal of Political Economy.

THE HOME: Its Work and Its Influence

BY CHARLOTTE PERKINS GILMAN

Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. Postpaid, $1.62; net, $1.50

THE book is a fearless and careful study of the home as an institution in society, and an investigation into its evolution and its tendencies. The conclusions, though startling, are hopeful, and indicate that we stand on the brink of greater and more beneficent changes than we have yet dreamed.

"It will be widely read and commented upon. It is bright, readable, vivacious, earnest, keen, and valuable.

— St. Paul Dispatch.

HUMAN WORK

BY CHARLOTTE PERKINS GILMAN

Cloth, 12mo. Postpaid, $1.63; net, $1.50

THIS book presents, in concrete form, the conclusion towards which the author's previous books pointed. She here puts forward the hypothesis that it is man's social instinct that leads him to work, not his self-interest and desire for individual advancement.

"The book is full of meat for the thoughtful, and of encouragement for the believers in the ultimate good of all."

AMERICAN INDUSTRIAL PROBLEMS

BY W. B. LAWSON

Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. Postpaid, $2.12; net, $2.00

THE book will be welcomed by all specialists and general readers who are interested in the political and economical outlook of this country, for it is full of plain facts, stated straightforwardly.

"The sanest book on this subject that we have seen from a foreign pen, and in many respects from any pen whatever. A very important contribution to contemporary world politics." — Philadelphia Inquirer.

THE PHILIPPINES — THE WAR AND THE PEOPLE
A Record of Personal Observations and Experiences

BY ALBERT G. ROBINSON

Cloth, 12mo. $2.00

MUTUAL AID, A FACTOR IN EVOLUTION

BY PRINCE KROPOTKIN

Cloth, 8vo. Third Edition. Postpaid, $2.12; net, $2.00

THE book puts forth a view of the natural world which will be extremely novel to a great many political theorists and extremely agreeable to very many who have been revolted by the apparent harshness of the Darwinian political theorists. It has been too much taken for granted that the evolution of the race takes place only by the weak going to the wall. Prince Kropotkin explains by many examples the large extent to which mutual aid among animals, savages and modern races, replaces competition.

SEEN IN GERMANY

BY RAY STANNARD BAKER

Illustrated by photographs and drawings by George Varian.
Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. Postpaid, $2.15; net, $2.00

"WE believe this book will become a modern classic, because it is written with simplicity and discernment. Every one of German descent ought to read it. Every man interested in German development ought to read it, and we fancy that no one, even if without any interest in the subject, can take up the book without being interested from start to finish."

— Philadelphia Inquirer.

THE CHILDREN OF THE NATIONS

BY POULTNEY BIGELOW

Cloth, 8vo. Second Edition. Postpaid, $2.16; net, $2.00

A STUDY of the influence which the mother country exerts upon the colonies and which the colonies exert upon the mother country.

"The breadth of view and virile patriotism make it both educative and effective."

— Philadelphia Public Ledger.

THE SCHOOL AND SOCIETY

BY DR. JOHN DEWEY

Illustrated. Fourth Edition. Cloth, 12mo. $1.00

PROFESSOR DEWEY'S aim is to show how the school is related to the larger society and to indicate that the value of its teaching comes from surrounding the pupil with responsibilities which are the exact counterpart of the duties of practical life.

The Drama

TWO PLAYS OF ISRAEL

BY FLORENCE WILKINSON

Cloth, 12mo. Postpaid, $1.63; net, $1.50

A VOLUME containing two plays, "David of Bethlehem," and "Mary Magdalen." These are not closet plays, but plays intended for production. They have been praised for their delicacy and charm and for their intrinsic dramatic worth by such actors as Sothern, Julia Marlowe, and Martin Harvey.

KING HENRY V

MR. RICHARD MANSFIELD'S ACTING VERSION

French folded cover. Narrow 8vo. Second Edition. Postpaid, 57c; net, 50c

THE book has an introduction by Mr. Mansfield, Notes on the Heraldy of King Henry V, by Albert J. Rodwaye, F.R.H.S., two photogravure illustrations, and various heraldic devices, a cover design in five colors, head-bands, tail-pieces, and initial letters.

THE TEMPLE MOLIERE

HAMLET

MR. EDWARD H. SOTHERN'S PROMPT-BOOK

Flexible board cover. Narrow 8vo. Second Edition. Postpaid, 60c; net, 50c

THE cover design is the most elaborate ever attempted on a book of this character, being a representation in six colors, on imitation Japan vellum, of the burial of Ophelia, and is the work of a distinguished English artist.

"Veritably Shakespeare would have marveled at the care taken with the typography of an acting version of one of his plays could he have seen such a tasteful piece of bookmaking as this."

—Philadelphia Press.

RELIGION; A CRITICISM AND A FORECAST

BY G. LOWES DICKINSON

Postpaid, 55c; net, 50c

THIS little book might be called "The Religion of a Modern Man." In the modern spirit of devotion to rational scientific inquiry, it examines the historical and psychological bases of faith, and the claims of revealed religion, authority and the church. It is a reverential, yet high-spirited, investigation into those matters which come close to every man's spiritual experience.

"The author's views are tolerant and broad, and the thought which they inspire cannot be other than ennobling even for those who will most indignantly differ with him in opinion."

— Indianapolis Sentinel.

"A book of reason and high ideals. . . . Contains much good meat."

— Los Angeles Times.

"The book cannot be but enjoyed by all who take pleasure in a thoughtful, well-presented argument."

—Grand Rapids Press.

WAYSIDE TALKS

BY CHARLES WAGNER

Author of "The Simple Life." Postpaid, $1.07; net, $1.00

CHARLES WAGNER has lived a broad and full life. All things human have interested him in a human way. This little volume is a chatty, informal record of his observations and meditations on all kinds of subjects. They are an interesting revelation of the man and his character, disclosing the warmth and depth of his nature, of his wisdom, and the keenness of his perception and understanding. His book is a little panorama of life as seen, good, bad and indifferent, joyous and sad, virtuous and evil, through the eyes of a kindly-hearted, nature-loving man.

A MODERN SYMPOSIUM

BY G. LOWES DICKINSON

Author of "Letters from a Chinese Official," and "Religion,—A Criticism and a Forecast." Postpaid, $1.07; net, $1.00

POINTS of view are vital things. They constitute character and life. The reading of this brilliant, thoughtful book will bring these ideas home with a rare novelty and force. The author has torn the veil from half a score of individualities — or rather he assists at an unbosoming of half a score of personages that is as illuminating as it is unreserved and frank. The men, typical of every distinct point of view of life and of every intellectual environment, are members of the Seekers Club. Failing a definite subject for this particular meeting, the members are asked by their leader to give each his reason for holding his particular view of life and its social, moral and political problems. From the artist, the poet, the connoisseur, the tory, the liberal, the socialist, the dilletante, the journalist, etc., come a set of ringing, inspiring speeches in explanation and defense of themselves and in controversion of the opinions expressed by other speakers. These various characters are put before us with the skill of an able novelist. In Mr. Dickinson, English literature gains a real brain, vivacious, human and sympathetic — not a pompous imitation intellect. His book is exciting mind entertainment, and genuinely illumines the biggest issues of modern life.

THE TORCH — Or Race Power In Literature

BY GEORGE EDWARD WOODBERRY

Author of "Heart of Men," "Makers of Literature," "Poe," and "Hawthorne" in the American Men of Letters Series. About net, $1.30

THIS book contains the eight lectures delivered by Professor Woodberry before the Lowell Institute of Boston, in 1903. The theme of the volume is race power in literature and the significance of the title lies in the idea underlying the book as a whole, that as each race reaches perfect development it normally dies and passes on to another race, with the results of its own culture, the mission of the humanization of mankind. Professor Woodberry is not interested in any particular race or races, but in the human race as a whole, and in literature as the possession not of a nation or of a people, but of the human spirit. The titles of the lectures are as follows:

I. Man and the Race
II. The Language of All the World
III. The Titan Myth (1)
IV. The Titan Myth (2)
V. Spenser
VI. Milton
VII. Wordsworth
VIII. Shelley

THE RELIGION OF DUTY

BY FELIX ADLER

Professor of Ethical Culture at Columbia University. Postpaid, $1.30; net, $1.20

DR. ADLER'S work, as the head of the Ethical Culture Society, and his previous book, "Life and Destiny," form the best introduction to this more extended work on the ethical life. It is the wholesomeness, the sanity, the practicality, and above all humanity of Dr. Adler's doctrine — and further his straightforward, unaffected way of expressing his ideas — that have been the foundations of his popularity. He is, in spirit, an American Charles Wagner, with a message peculiarly his own, and peculiarly adapted to the religious needs of America to-day.

This volume is made up of the most striking and telling extracts from his addresses, and is the fullest expression of the meaning and ideals of the Ethical Culture movement that has yet been made.

LIFE AND DESTINY

BY FELIX ADLER

Cloth, small 12mo. Third Edition. Postpaid, $1.07; net, $1.00

New Edition in Brown Boards. Postpaid, 55c; net, 50c

THE book is made up of selections from Dr. Adler's discourses under heads that indicate the range of the subjects treated: Immortality, Moral Ideals, Love and Marriage, Spiritual Progress.

"'Life and Destiny' is a trumpet-call to work and duty. Dr. Adler's thoughts are conveyed in a style singularly pure and sweet. Without cant or pretension, they are clear as crystal."

— New York Evening Sun.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE

BY FELIX ADLER

Second Edition. Postpaid, 55c; net, 50c

A MOST valuable tract for the times is Dr. Adler's noble discussion of Marriage and Divorce. Dr. Adler lifts at once the most sordid modern subject into a higher and purer atmosphere of moral elevation and spiritual integrity.

"Sound common sense and reasonableness are dominating qualities in these two lectures." — Brooklyn Times.

ON LIFE'S THRESHOLD

BY CHARLES WAGNER

Postpaid, $1.07; net, $1.00

TALKS on character and conduct and the meaning of life; addressed chiefly to young people. Mr. Wagner has here undertaken the congenial task of guiding, with sympathetic counsel, the steps of youth. He has, in effect, given expression in elementary form to his well-known principles of "The Simple Life."

"One of the best works that has been written for the young in many years. It should be placed in the reach of young hands everywhere."

—St. Paul Dispatch.

"Full of that sweetness and tenderness, that uprightness and steadfast purpose infused into everything this author writes."

— Milwaukee Free Press.

THE SPIRIT OF NATURE

BY CHARLES WAGNER

Postpaid, $1.07; net, $1.00

SCARCELY any philosopher of modern times has been so brimming full of the beauty of nature in all her manifestations as Mr. Wagner. This book is the expression of this nature-loving side of his character. It represents what nature has meant to his life, and what it should mean, and what its relations should be to every one's life; the lessons it should teach us all, the analogies between nature's beauties and the beauties that one can discover or develop in one's own soul.

MY APPEAL TO AMERICA

BY CHARLES WAGNER

Third Edition. Postpaid, 54c; net, 50c

THIS little volume is, in a measure, autobiographical. The author talks frankly of himself — tells of his life, his work, what inspired it, and how he came to write "The Simple Life." There is an introduction by Dr. Lyman Abbott; and the book closes with an appeal by Mr. Wagner's influential American friends for contributions to a fund to buy a site in Paris for a church where the gospel of the Simple Life shall be preached. The profits from the sale of this book are to be turned over to the fund.

"This little book is well worth careful reading. In fact, it seems more suggestive than any chapter in any of his works, and it, therefore, deserves a wide circulation."

— San Francisco Chronicle.

THE SIMPLE LIFE

BY CHARLES WAGNER

With an introduction and biographical sketch of the author by Grace King.

Cloth, small 12*mo.* $1.25

Popular Edition, cloth. Postpaid, 30c; net, 25c

OF these essays the Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke says:

"The book is good to read, pleasant to remember, blessed to put in practice. . . . Its message is the one that this perplexed age most needs."

The Philadelphia Telegraph considers "The Simple Life" "a work of deep thought, sound understanding, and universal applicability, remarkable for its sane insight and grasp of the eternal reality."

THE BETTER WAY

BY CHARLES WAGNER

Cloth, small 12*mo.* Postpaid, $1.07; net, $1.00

THIS new volume represents the application of the doctrines of "The Simple Life" to the realm of the spirit.

"MY DEAR MR. WAGNER:

"Permit me to thank you most cordially for sending me 'The Better Way.' I am glad to take this chance of telling you personally how much I appreciate and value your work. I preach your books to my countrymen.

— THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

"The author's philosophy is delightfully clear and concise." — Chicago Inter-Ocean.

BY THE FIRESIDE

BY CHARLES WAGNER

Cloth, small 12mo. Postpaid, $1.07; net, $1.00

CHARLES WAGNER seems to have a special message for the hurried, worried twentieth century American. The thousands who found help and comfort in "The Simple Life" will find even more to appeal to them in "By the Fireside." He speaks to the family gathered around the hearth with helpful thoughts and advice on household kindness, sweetness, and duty.

"There are just a few books of which it may unhesitatingly be said that the world is better off for their existence. The writings of Charles Wagner belong to this class. Here is a book which sums up with a simple, straightforward eloquence, not easy to resist, the sanctity of family ties and the charm of the home circle."

RELIGIONS OF AUTHORITY and the Religion of the Spirit

BY AUGUSTE SABATIER

Late Dean of the Protestant Faculty of Theology in the University of Paris. Translated by LOUISE SEYMOUR HOUGHTON. Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. Postpaid, $3.69; net, $3.50

IS religion an inner inspiration upspringing in the human consciousness, or is it an external supernatural institution devised and operated by a higher power to guide our minds? It is to this question, upon which religious thinkers of the day differ widely, that "Religions of Authority" devotes itself.

"This is, perhaps, the most important religious book of the new century."

— Literary Digest.

"It is indeed a great book — one of the greatest that I know. It lays unchangeable foundations. It is a great liberator and it justifies its beneficent work by unanswerable reasons. I rejoice with you in the coming of so strong and helpful an influence into the English-speaking world."

THE present volume is a careful and scholarly exposition of all that is now known about Genesis in the light of modern knowledge.

MAN'S PLACE IN THE UNIVERSE

BY ALFRED RUSSEL WALLACE

Author of "The Wonderful Century." Third Edition with an appendix presenting a new argument based on the law of natural selection. Postpaid, $1.67; net, $1.50

A MOST valuable contribution to the philosophy of man's relation to the world he lives in. Alfred Russel Wallace, the author, shared with Darwin the honor of discovering the law of natural selection which is the basis of the theory of evolution.

The hypothesis that Mr. Wallace has to present is almost an epoch-making one. He believes that the human reasoning animal exists on this earth alone, and all the power of the author's great learning and logic is enlisted to prove that the universe is ordered for earthly man.

"The book is one to be reckoned with as stating the conclusions of science at the present time and marks an advance in human understanding." — Chicago News.

"Of the books that have been issued in a decade, this is one of the most important." —Pittsburg Post.

THE AMERICANS

BY HUGO MÜNSTERBERG

Professor of Psychology at Harvard University. Author of "American Traits." Third Edition. Postpaid, $2.74; net, $2.50

A VIVISECTION of the American people so incisive, true and thought-compelling that every American will enjoy reading it. Dr. Münsterberg, professor of psychology at Harvard University, German by birth, but long time a resident in the United States, cuts to the quick, but quite as frequently to reveal an unsuspected virtue as to expose a vice. As a history of the American people and as a study of the influences that have made us what we are the book is unique. It was written to explain us to the Germans, but will serve more admirably to explain the American people to themselves.

"He treats what he has observed in a style that gives the book a value missing in Bryce himself." — Boston Transcript.

"A first-rate help to national self-knowledge. . . . Ought to go into the list that every intelligent American should read." — American Journal of Sociology.

"Will take a high place in the list at the top of which is Bryce's standard work. . . . A brilliant analysis and a masterly summing up, as distinguished for its clearness of view as for its easy impartiality." — New York Evening Sun.

Poetry

SONGS OF NATURE

EDITED BY JOHN BURROUGHS

With portrait frontispiece. Cloth, 12*mo. Fourth Edition.* $1.50

THE distinguishing superiority of this volume over all other anthologies of poetry is that not only have the poems been selected for their beauty of sentiment and grace of language, but not one has been admitted that in Mr. Burroughs's opinion is not absolutely true to nature.

"To the lovers of poetry, who are also lovers of the out-of-door world, this volume does a real and delightful service, gathering up and putting within hand's grasp some of the most nearly perfect things that have been said in praise and the portrayal of nature." — Louisville Post.

CHARLES DI TOCCA

BY CALE YOUNG RICE

Cloth, small 12*mo.* Postpaid, $1.34; net, $1.25

A DRAMA in verse, the scene of which is laid in the Adriatic on Leucadia, Sappho's favorite isle.

"It rises to a tragic height, that reminds one of the great Elizabethans. In the writing of poetic tragedy Mr. Rice has found his true place." — Louisville Post.

DAVID

BY CALE YOUNG RICE

Author of "Charles di Tocca." Large paper. Postpaid, $3.16; net, $3.00

MR. RICE, in this poetic drama on a biblical subject, shows even greater mastery of verse, and greater strength in delineation of character, than in his first volume.

PORTFOLIO OF BIRD PORTRAITS

BY BRUCE HORSFALL. TEXT BY W. E. D. SCOTT

Eight portraits in colors. Separate prints, 50c each. Net, $4.00

A PORTFOLIO of real portraits of birds, sketched in every case from the live model, not from stuffed specimens. The drawing has been done by Mr. Bruce Horsfall, under the supervision of the well-known ornithologist, W. E. D. Scott. Mr. Scott has carefully supervised the reproductions and adds short descriptive notes for each plate. The result is eight pictures of the birds with which we are most familiar, such as the robin, the meadow lark, the bluebird, wood thrush, etc., in their natural colors, more accurate in detail and more lifelike than any heretofore produced. To all lovers of our common feathered friends and to all students of ornithology especially this portfolio should be welcome.

THE HORSE IN AMERICA

BY JOHN GILMER SPEED

With 18 pictures of Famous Horses. Two in color. Postpaid, $2.50; net, $2.30

THE distinguished quality of this book is its completeness. It covers the whole subject of the horse in America where previously published volumes have dealt with only one part of the subject, or one particular breed of animal. The author tells the history of the horse in our country and then devotes a chapter to each important breed, including the mule. Mr. Speed is a man of wide experience in breeding, training and purchasing horses. His book is, therefore, a record of first-hand knowledge and experience. He was engaged by the Government of the United States to buy mares and stallions to send to the Philippines for improving the race of horses used by the natives. Every lover of horse-flesh will find this popularly-written volume of interest and value to him, for Mr. Speed shows that the history of the horse in our country, far from being commonplace, has been brimming with romance. List of Chapters: Prehistoric and Early Horses; Arab and Barb Horses; The Thoroughbred in America; The Morgan Horses; Messenger and the Early Trotters; Hambletonian, and the Standard-bred Horses; Clay and Clay-Arabian; The Denmark or Kentucky Saddle Horse; The Government as a Breeder; Foreign Horses of Various Kinds; The Breeding of Mules; How to Buy a Horse; The Stable and its Management; Riding and Driving; Training vs. Breaking; Conformation and Action.

BY E. P. POWELL

With many half-tone illustrations.
Cloth, 12*mo. Second Edition.* Postpaid, $1.69; net, $1.50

THIS is a practical book that no person seeking to make a home in the country can afford to be without. The book takes up the problem of establishing one's self in the country specifically under the following headings: Selecting the Homestead, Growing a House, Water Supply, Lawns, Orchard, Strawberries, Grapes, Flowers, Truck Garden, The Insects, The Animals, The Beautiful and the Useful, etc. The enthusiasm of the writer and his appreciation of all the beauties of the country make this book pleasant reading for every nature-lover.

"A piece of work which all lovers of real life will appreciate. . . . It is full of common sense, practical advice, and besides the good advice it is excellently good reading." — The Independent.

"Gives real definite information concerning those things which every one living in the country wants to know."
— Country Calendar.

"The very best thing of its kind that has been done." — Los Angeles Times.

"Informing, delightful, and entirely practical." — Chicago Tribune.

ORCHARD AND FRUIT GARDEN. Vol. II

BY E. P. POWELL

Illustrated. Postpaid, $1.68; net, $1.50

THIS second volume in the Country Home Library deals with the choice planting and cultivation of fruit, fruit-bearing trees and bushes. Every known variety of fruit that grows in America is considered. General advice as to the nature, excellencies and defects of each fruit is given, and a list of those likely to do best in various localities, with many valuable hints on cultivation.

"It is this dominant practical note that makes Mr. Powell's work especially valuable. 'Orchard and Fruit Garden' should find a wide circle of readers."

—Brooklyn Eagle.

"This thoroughly practical volume embodies all the latest developments, and sums up all available information on the selection of fruits." — New York World.

"Practically indispensable to the library of any one interested in the cultivation of fruits." — Newark Advertiser.

THE FLOWER GARDEN. Vol. III

BY IDA D. BENNETT

Forty-seven illustrations. Cloth, 12mo. Third Edition. Postpaid, $2.17; net, $2.00

NO branch of flower raising is overlooked in this book. It is a complete guide, treating of indoor gardens — window-boxes, household plants, water gardens, etc.— as well as of the usual outdoor plots. It is especially practical, clear, and simple, and is full of useful suggestions out of the author's own experience. The following are some of the chapter headings: The Location and Arrangement of the Garden; Seeds; Fertilizers; Purchasing of Seeds; Transplanting and Repotting; Outside Window-Boxes; Vines; Ornamental Foliage; Plants from Seed; Aquatics; The Care of the Summer Rose-Bed; the Hardy Lily-Bed; Hardy Shrubs and Plants for Fall Planting; Winter Protection; The Care of House Plants in Winter; Common English Names of Flowers; Blooming Season of Various Trees, Shrubs and Plants; A Chapter of Odds and Ends; A Chapter of "Don'ts."

"The most helpful and complete book on the home garden and gardening that we have ever seen." — St. Paul Dispatch.

"A clear and concise summary of every possible sort of information that might be desired by any one interested in gardens."

—Scientific American.

"Of the many similar books, Miss Bennett's is certainly the most practical and instructive." — American Gardening.

FOREST NEIGHBORS; Life Stories of Wild Animals

BY WILLIAM DAVENPORT HULBERT

Illustrated with drawings and photographs. Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition.
Postpaid, $1.66; net, $1.50

"A NATURE book that has no rival is 'Forest Neighbors.' The account of these wild folk was written by an intimate acquaintance. The author lived on the shore of a little lake in Northern Michigan, called the Glimmerglass, during his early life. Human neighbors were scarce, but the animals about became chums and friends. The life of the woods is therefore depicted with loving fidelity. The beaver, the king trout, the Canada lynx, the porcupine, the loon, and the great buck are given several chapters, no one more interesting than the other, for all are fascinating."

—Louisville Courier-Journal.

THE COMPLETE MOTORIST

BY A. B. FILSON YOUNG

Over 100 half-tones and 75 drawings. Second Edition. Postpaid, $3.67; net, $3.50

ALL about the motor-car — how to select it, how to run it, its mechanism and its history. The most thorough and reliable book on automobiling yet published. The author has the motorist's characteristic enthusiasm for his subject, and writes not only as a competent scientist and mechanic, but also as a man of letters with the imagination to understand the poetry of the sport.

After explaining in detail, without any technical words, the principle and construction of the gas engine as applied to automobiles, the author takes up every important type of engine and every build of car, and points out its characteristics. The chapter headings are as follows: The Evolution of the Motor-Car, The Difficulties of the Beginner, Petrol Motors, Types of Petrol Cars, Steam Cars, Electric Cars, The Selection of the Motor-Car, Light Cars, The Use and Running of a Motor-Car, Care of a Motor-Car, Concerning Tires, Accessories, Literature, Expenses.

A chapter of letters has one by Rudyard Kipling that is an especially clever exposition of the morals of automobiling.

"Certainly no book on automobiling at once so informing and so readable has yet been offered to the public. Novice and expert alike will find an abundance of charm between its covers."

"Written with enthusiasm and knowledge. . . . It combines scientific accuracy with literary dexterity. . . . It tells the ordinary motorist all he needs to know about motor-cars."

— New York Herald.

LOVERS OF THE WOODS

BY W. H. BOARDMAN

With special cover design and title-page in color. Cloth, 12*mo. Third Edition.* $1.50

ONE critic says of it:

"What the book is sure to do is to edify and entertain readers who know the woods a little already, and are glad to have their wood-lore increased and the memory of what they saw and felt revived and supplemented."— Brooklyn Eagle.

NEXT TO THE GROUND: Chronicles of the Countryside

BY MARTHA McCULLOCH-WILLIAMS

Cloth, 12*mo. Second Edition.* Postpaid, $1.30; net, $1.20

NO nature book of recent years has received such widespread and discriminating praise as has "Next to the Ground."

"Not since the days of Thoreau," says the Chicago American, "has there been such an exquisite bit of nature study."

The New York Sun concludes a two-column review in this way: "The book is admirable, and to commend it is but a slight return for the pleasure we have had in reading it."

"'Next to the Ground'—indeed, to all the sweet, wholesome sense of it does Mrs. Williams lead the reader of her fascinating book. Here is a picture indubitably true in all its details of the cheerful farm life in Tennessee during the century just passed." — New York Tribune.

"A companion whose friendliness grows with every leaf that you turn."

—Brooklyn Eagle.

"The book is the most delightful thing of its kind that has been published these many years." — Louisville Evening Post.

FOSTER'S COMPLETE BRIDGE

BY R. F. FOSTER

Author of "American Leads," "Duplicate Whist," etc. Illustrated in color, with many diagrams. About net, $2.00

MR. FOSTER is America's leading Bridge expert and a writer on Whist in all its forms. This book on Bridge, covering every phase of it, is, unquestionably, the most thorough volume on the game yet published. It is for the beginner and for the advanced player as well. The beginner will find the first principles of the game lucidly explained, and the proper leads under ordinary circumstances clearly shown by a very ingenious arrangement of diagrams, through which the playing of sample hands is indicated. The experienced player will find very valuable the later chapters, in which the author takes up very thoroughly the fine points of the game. Among other things, the author gives in as complete a form as possible all the rules of the game.

THE COMPLETE GOLFER

BY HARRY VARDON

With fifty pictures of Mr. Vardon, illustrating characteristic strokes of the game.
Postpaid, $3.75; net, $3.50

HARRY VARDON is, unquestionably, the greatest golf player that the world has ever seen; and has more knowledge of the art, science, and technique of the game than any man alive. He shows in this book that he has also a rare faculty for imparting his knowledge. It offers even the most experienced golfer a host of helpful hints, the ripe fruit of Mr. Vardon's own varied and long experience. The author takes up the selection of clubs, the proper handling and correct grips for each, and the most profitable methods of practice. He gives directions for the stances for every kind of stroke with every kind of club, and illustrates his suggestions with over fifty photographs of himself making the strokes — a selection from over two hundred taken especially for the book. The diagrams of foot placements, showing distances and relation to the ball and head of club, which accompany most of the pictures, will be of great help to the golf student.

The book contains, also, an account of Mr. Vardon's own golfing experiences, including his three winnings of the English open championship, and an interesting chapter on his American tour, during which he captured the open championship here. While valuable for the information it contains, the book is extremely good reading, for Mr. Vardon has a keen sense of humor, and has sprinkled his pages with many apt and illuminating anecdotes.

Miscellaneous

THE AMERICAN SALAD BOOK

BY MAXIMILIAN DE LOUP

Fourth Edition, with additional recipes. Cloth, 12*mo.* $1.00

THIS book gives practical hints regarding salads and their accompaniments, with three hundred useful recipes. A chapter is devoted to the serving of salads, in which skill and judgment are undoubtedly useful. America, says the author, more than any other country, is "the land of salads."

"If there is any salad known or dreamed of by cook or epicure not included in this work it would be hard to find it."

— St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

FRENCH AND ENGLISH FURNITURE. Distinctive Styles and Periods Illustrated and Described

BY ESTHER SINGLETON

Author of "Furniture of our Forefathers."
Seventy-two full-page half-tone engravings, including 12 full-page interiors and several hundred detail drawings. Frontispiece in colors, 6 x 9. Cloth. Postpaid, $6.38; net, $6.00

THIS superbly illustrated book is probably the most complete and inclusive volume of its kind ever issued.

It is indispensable as a book of reference for everyone who is interested in furniture, whether an amateur, a collector, or a person desiring a guide for decorating a house or room in any style of classic furnishing.

The illustrations of the book are especially notable. They represent the most exhaustive research among rare books — little known treatises on the making of furniture by the old master furniture makers themselves. There is a frontispiece in color.

The author is a recognized authority in the matter of furniture and decoration, already well-known by her book, "The Furniture of Our Forefathers."

The periods included in her books are as follows: Jacobean; Louis XIII; Queen Anne; Louis XIV; Louis XV; Early Georgian; Chippendale; Louis XVI; Sheraton; Heppelwhite; Adam; Empire.

THE SECRET OF POPULARITY

BY EMILY HOLT

Author of the "Encyclopædia of Etiquette." Cloth, 12*mo.* Postpaid, $1.32 ; net, $1.20

WHAT constitutes popularity, the various elements that go to make it, and how it can be attained, form the subject-matter of this book. What to do, what to be, what to say to be popular: these are the topics that the author treats in the most straightforward, rational manner possible.

"Emily Holt has never done anything better than to give this book of directions for social success to the public."
— Louisville Courier-Journal.

"Miss Holt has a fine grasp of the essentials of personal popularity."
— St. Paul Dispatch.

THE COMPLETE HOUSEKEEPER: (Formerly Encyclopædia of Household Economy)

BY EMILY HOLT

Author of "Encyclopædia of Etiquette."
Nine illustrations. Uniform with "Encyclopædia of Etiquette."
Cloth, 12*mo. Second Edition.* Postpaid, $1.76; net, $1.60

IT gives you in a nutshell the simplest and best solution of all housekeeping problems; an A-B-C of household management for everyday use, sure to prove infinitely useful to the woman at the head of the house, whether experienced or not. Kitchen Convenience; Repairs and Restoration; Concerning Closets; House-Cleaning; In the Laundry; Cleaning of China; Glass and Metal; Keeping Things; Four-footed Friends; Pets and Poultry; Lawn and Garden; Greenhouse, Window Gardens, and House Plants; Plumbing and Sanitation; The Water-Supply; Lighting and Heating; Sick-Room and Nursing; Bleaches, Disinfectants, and Insecticides; Healing Simples; The Family Sewing; Plain Sewing.

"It is without doubt the most useful volume that has ever been published for the housewife." — Los Angeles Times.

THE ENCYCLOPÆDIA OF ETIQUETTE. With added chapters on the etiquette of travel and etiquette in foreign countries

BY EMILY HOLT

Author of "Encyclopædia of Household Economy."
Illustrated. Cloth, 12mo. Eighth Edition. $2.00

WHAT to Do — What to Say — What to Write — What to Wear — A Book of Manners for Every-day Use.

"This book is of such excellent quality and comprehensive proportions that it may fairly be described as the last word on 'manners for every-day use.' There can be no good excuse to publish another 'Encyclopædia of Etiquette' in this country for the rest of the century."—Boston Journal.

THE MYSTERIOUS STRANGER AND OTHER CARTOONS

BY JOHN T. McCUTCHEON

Author of "Bird Center," etc. About net, $1.50

THIS new volume of cartoons by Mr. McCutcheon covers a wider field of interest than his "Bird Center" volume. Among cartoonists and humorists Mr. McCutcheon has taken a leading position, and his drawings appearing daily in the Chicago Tribune have a wider reputation than those of any newspaper artist to-day. Mr. McCutcheon shows in his work that vein of gentle satire and that delightful appreciation of the humorous features of homely life that in other fields have brought fame to George Ade and Finley Peter Dunne. This present volume contains about 100 drawings — the famous one of "The Mysterious Stranger," groups on the President, the presidential campaign, boy and girl life, holidays, the war, the St. Louis Fair, etc.

FRENCH HOME COOKING

BY BERTHE JULIENNE LOW

Illustrated with half-tones. Cloth, 12mo. Postpaid, $1.32; net, $1.20

THIS is a book which will enable the American housewife to obtain in her cooking the distinction and flavoring for which the French have heretofore been envied. It is a straightforward and clear guide to the way things should be done to obtain the results the French obtain.

"Of the good cook-books this is sure to rank among the best — so clean, so distinctive is it." — Louisville Courier-Journal

"Not only is it filled with excellent recipes, but there is a whole lot of wholesome advice in regard to methods of cooking and economies in food preparation."
—Milwaukee Sentinel.

THE GAVEL AND THE MACE

BY FRANK W. HACKETT

Cloth, 12mo. Second Edition. $1.25

THE object of the book is to furnish men and women with all the information on Parliamentary Law that is necessary to transact business in a public meeting. The information is presented with so much amusing incident, apt quotation, and kindly sarcasm, that the result can equally well be called a Book of Humor.

"Here are brought together apt quotations, fresh and lively anecdote, humorous comment, and valuable information which is not easily obtained elsewhere."
— New York Telegram.

THE MUSICAL GUIDE. A two volume Encyclopædia of Music

BY RUPERT HUGHES

Author of "American Composers."
Illustrated. With contributed articles by Finck, Krehbiel, Henderson, Sir Hubert Parry, and others. Cloth, 8vo, 6½ x 9. Postpaid, $6.44; net, $6.00

IT contains more biographies than any dictionary of musical biography.

It contains more definitions than any dictionary of musical terms.

It gives the pronunciation of every term, every name, and every title in music, and has a chart showing the principles of pronunciation in sixteen different languages.

It tells the stories of all the operas in a novel, clear, and useful way, giving the original casts.

IT is an encyclopædia in two volumes, written with a constant view to the needs of the layman, but containing in compact and accurate form all the information that a student, teacher, or critic would like to have at hand for ready reference.

"Its compactness, its wide range, its wealth of information, its relative cheapness, make 'The Musical Guide' indispensable to every well-regulated private library." — Cleveland Leader.

"These two volumes are wonderfully comprehensive and contain a remarkable amount of valuable information. The work is a decided addition to the literature of music." — Chicago Tribune.

MONSIEUR DUPIN

Being the Detective Tales of Edgar Allan Poe. With an introduction by William Aspenwall Bradley. Eight illustrations by Charles Raymond Macauley. Cloth. $1.25

AN especially fine illustrated reprint of selected mystery stories from Poe, including "Monsieur Dupin," "The Murders of the Rue Morgue," "Marie Roget," "The Purloined Letter," "The Gold Bug," and "Thou art the Man." The illustrations are of exceptional interest. Mr. Macauley's genius is especially for the weird and unusual, as exhibited in his very successful illustrations of Joseph Conrad's "Romance."

"An admirable piece of bookmaking, pictured with fine originality and a keen sense of the author's meaning."
— New York Times.

"It was a happy idea to assemble the detective stories of Poe in a single modern volume, together with a critical analysis of Poe as the founder of this class of fiction."
— Washington Star.

THE COMPLETE WORKS OF WILLIAM HAZLITT

EDITED BY A. R. WALLER AND ARNOLD GLOVER, WITH AN INTRODUCTION BY W. E. HENLEY

Twelve vols. Cloth, 8vo. Sold in sets only. Net, $36.00

THIS is the first complete edition of the works of the greatest literary critic that the English-speaking world has known. That the entire writings of such a master should never have been collected in a uniform edition similar to those of DeQuincey and Lamb has always been a matter of regret to lovers of English letters. The Dent edition supplies this deficiency in a manner that cannot but delight every admirer of Hazlitt. The set includes all of Hazlitt's literary, political, dramatic, and miscellaneous writings. The books are fine specimens of the bookmaker's art at its best.

A SPECIAL EDITION PRINTED FROM TYPE, NO PLATES HAVING BEEN MADE, AND LIMITED TO 350 SETS.

BULFINCH'S AGE OF FABLE OR BEAUTIES OF MYTHOLOGY. New Revised Edition by Rev. J. Loughran Scott. This new edition, while retaining all the features of previous revisions, has a number of new features which make it superior to those of any other works on Mythology yet published. 524 pages. Nearly 200 illustrations.
Crown octavo, ... $1 25

LEADING FEATURES, AND OPINIONS CONCERNING THEM.

PRONUNCIATION OF PROPER NAMES.—All proper names are printed in black type, syllabified and accentuated. The editor in his preface says: "To know one you must know his name, especially in Mythology, where names constitute being."

"After years of experience I appreciate the value of the pronunciation of proper names in the body of the text. The time for the study is limited; it is impossible to require incessant use of dictionary. . . . I believe you have done much to secure correct spelling. . . . The illustrations in your edition are a valuable feature.

"The recognition of the mythology of Babylon, Assyria, and Phœnicia I consider timely."—Mary L. Hanna, Teacher of English, Central High School, Cleveland, Ohio.

BULFINCH'S AGE OF CHIVALRY, or KING ARTHUR AND HIS KNIGHTS. New Revised Edition by Rev. J. Loughran Scott. This New Edition, uniform with "The Age of Fable," has been thoroughly revised and a number of new chapters added. The numerous illustrations have been prepared with great care and considerable expense. As "The Age of Fable" superseded all former editions of that book, so this edition of "The Age of Chivalry" is far superior to any other work on the subject yet published.
Crown octavo, ... 1 25

"No one can read this edition of 'The Age of Chivalry' without coming in contact with the best literature of the Arthurian Legends. While retaining the old, at the same time we have created a new work. The interest of these legends naturally centers about King Arthur and Queen Guinevere. In the case of Guinevere we have added a new section, and also enlarged the chapter that treats of Arthur and the passing of his kingdom. The names ranking next in interest are those of Launcelot and Elaine; here, too, we have written an additional section. At the close of the first part we have inserted a chapter on Mediæval Legends. St. George and Robin Hood attach to an importance scarcely surpassed by King Arthur himself. We have also drawn directly from Sir Thomas Mallory, especially in connection with the adventures of Sir Tor, Sir Pellenore, Sir Gawain, Sir Launcelot, and Sir Galahad."

"A Third Part with seven additional chapters has been added, consisting largely of the writings of Ossian. Whatever may have been the origin of those strange books, they certainly embody more of the ancient spirit of Britain than any other similar work."

DAVIE, OLIVER. Nests and Eggs of North American Birds. By Oliver Davie, Author of "Methods in the Art of Taxidermy." With a chapter on Ornithological and Oölogical Collecting (the Preparation of Skins, Nests, and Eggs for the Cabinet). The Fifth Edition, Revised and Enlarged, with Two Hundred and Seventy-four Illustrations.
One volume, octavo, cloth, colored edges, . . . 2 25

This book has now become the standard work on the subject, and is indispensable to those engaged in the study of Ornithology and Oölogy.

The geographical limits of the North American avifauna of the present time includes all the territory north of the Southern United States boundary, including Greenland and the peninsula of Lower California, with the islands naturally belonging thereto. The second A. O. U. Check-List, 1895, is the classification followed, including the new species and subspecies enumerated in the Eighth Supplement.

"I consider it a valuable contribution to ornithological literature. It should be in the hands of every collector."—Thomas G. Gentry, Author of "Nests and Eggs of Birds of the United States."

"It is indispensable to those who are not favored with an extensive library of ornithological literature."—Chas. R. Keyes, Des Moines, Iowa; Author of "Annotated Catalogue of the Birds of Iowa."

"You have done a splendid work for ornithology."—Dr. Edgar A. Mearns, Captain Medical Corps, U. S. A.

DAVIE, OLIVER. Methods in the Art of Taxidermy. By Oliver Davie, Author of "Nests and Eggs of North American Birds," etc. 90 Full-page Engravings, Chiefly Drawn by Theo. Jasper, A.M., M.D. The whole containing 500 figures clearly illustrating the modes of procedure in the art, together with examples of characteristic forms and attitudes of various species of the animal kingdom. In one quarto volume, cloth, colored edges, 7½ x 10½ inches. Formerly published at $10.00, . . . $2 50

Minutely illustrating the most practical methods practiced in the art. It teaches in detail, step by step, the Skinning and Stuffing of Birds, Mammals, Crustaceans, Fishes, and Reptiles, together with Illustrations of Forms and Attitudes of the Animal Kingdom. The text is by Oliver Davie, who has made Taxidermy his life study and profession. The originals of the illustrations were made in India ink from time to time, as the actual subjects could be obtained from which to make the various procedures.

"It is the best of its kind, and it is of a kind which I think should be in every school library."—James G. Needham, Johns Hopkins University, Author of "Elementary Lessons in Zoölogy."

"Never before has the Art of Taxidermy had its practical methods and beauties portrayed as we find them interpreted in this work. It is indeed a work of art from cover to cover."—Thomas M. Earl, Author of "Pets of the Household," Columbus, O.

"I have no hesitancy in reiterating in a more emphatic manner than ever what I have been telling the 'boys' all along that it is a GREAT WORK."—Frank H. Lattin, Publisher of "The Oologist," Albion, N. Y.

"An admirable work on the subject, the illustrations making every point so clear that a young taxidermist must be stupid indeed who cannot mount his specimens successfully after the models you have given him."—J. Rowley, Taxidermist, American Museum of Natural History, Central Park, N. Y.

"One might almost learn how to mount all manner of animals from the plates alone, and if any one cannot become a taxidermist from a careful study of your text with cross references to the plates he had better give it up as something he was not intended for."—Frederic A. Lucas, United States National Museum, Washington, D. C.

FRITH, HENRY, and ED. HERON-ALLEN. The Language of the Hand. Being a Concise Exposition of the Principles and Practice of the Art of Reading the Hand, by which the Past, the Present, and the Future may be explained and foretold. By Henry Frith, Author of "A Guide to Graphology," and Ed. Heron-Allen, the European Expert. Illustrated by Dora Noyes. 159 pages. 12mo, cloth, ... $0 50

This book, elegantly put up, is more than a mere work on Palmistry, for it gives the whole science of the hand, or the art of reading character, or of telling fortunes, by markings of the hand of men and women. It has illustrations and diagrams in plenty, and will be useful to lovers, old and young maids, boys and men, and a fortune-teller might start in business after reading it.

HOLLICK, DR. F. The Origin of Life and Process of Reproduction. With the Anatomy and Physiology of the Human Generative System, Male and Female. The Causes, Prevention, and Cure of the Special Diseases to which it is liable.

Over 900 pages. Royal octavo, ... 2 50

This complete work embraces all of the author's former books,—"The Marriage Guide," "The Male Generative Organs in Health and Disease," "The Female Generative Organs and Diseases of Women Familiarly Explained," "The Matron's Manual of Midwifery and Childbirth," etc., etc.

In the last few years there has been a constant and increasing demand for a practically useful, popular, and unobjectionable book on the Reproductive System and its derangements, suitable for private and family use. This demand comes from a most intelligent and worthy class, from a class fully capable of appreciating such a book and of profiting by it.

With a view to meeting this demand we requested Dr. Hollick to rewrite all his works and compile them in one volume, with new illustrations, and comprising all the newest information. This the Doctor has done in the present book, which we venture to assert will be found, in every respect, the very work that has long been required. No expense has been spared in getting it up, for we were determined it should be complete. The illustrations especially—both engravings and colored plates—are profuse and done in the very best syle.

Hamilton Wright Mabie says of Volume III, issued recently:

"I have been impressed by the range of topics upon which she touched, and by my own need of information concerning many of the things of which she has written."

"A great amount of curious and valuable information wanted almost every day by thoughtful people, yet which cannot be found because it is stowed away in some obscure volume in the library."—School Journal, New York.

"It easily ranks among the most notable American publications."—Rt. Hon. Wm. E. Gladstone.

"I commenced examining the 'Curious Questions' without any idea that it would be of service to a man of my age, opportunities, and experience. I find, however, that some of the questions are such as I could not have answered or have known where to look for their answers. Nor are there any questions in the book which it is undesirable to have answered. Such a work will be of inestimable value to any intelligent person, old or young. The plan of the book is original, its purpose that of supplying an actual need, its execution indicative of broad and generous culture, pure taste, and delicate discernment."—Rev. Andrew Preston Peabody, D.D., LL.D., of Harvard University.

"I am very much pleased with your work. It has an immense amount of useful knowledge packed into its pages. Your plan of separating the questions and answers is ingenious, for a glance at the question without the appended answer sets one on the search through his own brain for the facts called for. The evidence of personal ignorance makes one covet the information. With the coveting comes the excitement of curiosity, and when, after the process of awakening and stimulating the mind, comes the turning to the page where the answer is found, the student is more likely to read that answer with avidity, and retain it permanently."—Right Rev. John H. Vincent, D.D., Bishop of the M. E. Church, and Chancellor of Chautauqua University.

"I have examined 'Curious Questions,' and find it full of interesting and instructive matter. In its plan and contents I was reminded a little of D'Israeli's 'Curiosities of Literature.' Aside from its own intrinsic merit, it may be the cause of many volumes of like kind, though I fear not of equal excellence."—Rev. George Williamson Smith, D. D., President of Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.

MERTON, PROF. HOLMES W. Descriptive Mentality from the Head, Face, and Hand. With over 600 Original Drawings by the Author. The most accurate, comprehensive and clearest book on Physiognomy, Phrenology, and Palmistry ever published. Octavo, cloth, gilt top, ... $1 50

"The author of 'Descriptive Mentality' is a thorough physiognomist, and has been a practical delineator of character and mental capacity for many years."—Living Issues, Boston.

"An expert delineator of character. Few men understand fully their own nature, and nearly all are open to improvement. He has made a science of an art."—Tribune, Chicago.

"Professor Merton is an expert delineator of character and temperament by 'Descriptive Mentality.'"—Banner of Light, Boston.

"Prof. Holmes W. Merton, the well-known expert mentologist and physiognomist, has made a close study of reading (from the head, face, and hand) character, temperament, constitutional and natural aptitude for any particular avocation."—Hartford Daily Telegram.

"'Descriptive Mentality,' by Prof. Holmes W. Merton, is a concise and practical method of learning to read and delineate the character, habit, and capacities of the mental faculties from their definite signs in the head, face, and hand. . . . . Persons, by comparing their own hands with the drawings, can read their own nature and destiny as portrayed by those signs, lines, and meanings that are present in their hands. . . . The aim has been to widen the general view of life, to teach a valuable art, and to present a new and interesting source of amusement."—School Journal, New York.

". . . It is a strong book and one that should always demand respectful attention, not alone from the student, but from the great reading public, whose horizon of knowledge is broadened by all such worthy efforts. It is simple justice to state that a book stock is not complete without 'Descriptive Mentality.'"—Bookseller and Newsman, New York.

"The Robertsonian Method of learning the German, French, Spanish, Latin, and Italian languages, without the aid of a teacher, has for the last twenty years been successfully tested throughout the whole European continent; and is, without a single exception, used in teaching these languages in all the educational institutions of England, France, and Germany. In London, Mr. A. H. Monteith, the most celebrated teacher of languages in the world, has arranged and perfected this system; and his works on the Study of the French, German, Spanish, Latin, and Italian Languages Without a Master, immediately obtained a sudden and extraordinary popularity.

MURRAY, ALEXANDER S. (Keeper of the Greek and Roman Antiquities, British Museum.) Manual of Mythology. A new revised edition, with 100 Illustrations in the text, and ten fine, full-page plates. Beautifully printed on fine paper. Crown octavo, cloth extra, gold and bronze, ... 1 25

The English edition of Murray, based on the works of Preller, Welcker, and Petiscus, has been a most popular book. In this new edition (based on the latest revised edition of Petiscus) the old illustrations, many of which were imaginary, have been discarded, and fine copies from the latest discovered and best antique works of art have been added. The text has been thoroughly revised and illustrative passages from the poets inserted, making it the best manual for the use of schools, art students, and general readers.

"The fine paper, clear type, and excellent illustrations render it an attractive book. The comprehensive treatment of the subject encourages the average student to complete the book, and must whet his appetite for further research."—Bishop John H. Vincent.

"It is invaluable for the library of all thoughtful persons, owing to its concise and authoritative character. . . . It is difficult to understand how so elaborate and admirable a volume can be published at the extremely low price. It merits large sales."—The Arena, Boston.

NAPHEYS, GEORGE H., A.M., M.D. Physical Life of Woman. Advice to the Maiden, Wife, and Mother. A New Edition, Revised to the Latest Date, with a Life of the Author.

This is the only work on the delicate topic of Woman recommended for popular reading by the most distinguished physicians, eminent divines, prominent educators, leading medical journals, and the press generally. Its extraordinary value and popularity is shown by the fact that of this work and its companion volume, "The Transmission of Life," 280,000 copies have been sold.

12mo, cloth, gilt back and side, ... $2 00

"Dr. Napheys we do not know personally. But this book is at once brave and pure. It is written in such a spirit that she who really desires to learn the truths of which she can not with justice to herself and others be ignorant, may do so without being shocked, while he who hopes to stimulate a vicious imagination by its perusal will turn away from its pages disappointed."—The Independent, New York.

"I have read with much interest and satisfaction 'The Physical Life of Woman.' I am glad that the subject has been taken up by one who shows himself so thoroughly qualified for the task, and I trust the instruction and advice contained in the volume will reach every woman in the land."—William A. Hammond, M.D., Professor in the Bellevue Hospital Medical College, New York, etc.

"Though professedly written for popular instruction, this little book will not fail to instruct the professional reader as well. We cordially recommend Dr. Napheys' book to every woman seeking a fuller acquaintance with her physical organism."—New York Medical Gazette.

"This book is written in a style well calculated both to please and instruct. There is nothing of the sensational or imaginative character in it. On the contrary, its teachings are in strict accordance with scientific facts and good sense. Though designed specially for females, a careful perusal would be productive of much benefit to both sexes."—Chicago Medical Examiner.

The above is an exact reprint of Bicker's fine English edition, and undoubtedly the most desirable edition of this valuable work.

"This is a book to dip into at random, to rummage for things curious and entertaining, to ransack for the light it throws on contemporary men, manners, morals and society, and to consult for the valuable historical facts it discloses, and the interesting public and private events and occurrences it describes."—Harper's Magazine.

"A set for booklovers and book collectors."—Publishers' Weekly.

PLUMPTRE, THE VERY REV. EDWARD HAYES. The Tragedies of Æschylos. A New Translation, with a Biographical Essay, and an Appendix of Rhymed Choral Odes, by E. H. Plumptre, D.D., Professor of Divinity, King's College, London. 12mo, 446 pages, cloth, . 1 50

CONTENTS: Life of Æschylos—The Persians—The Seven who Fought against Thebes—Prometheus Bound—The Suppliants—Choëphori; or, The Libation-Pourers—Eumenides—Fragments—Appendix of Rhymed Choruses.

"Taken as a whole, it is impossible to weigh Mr. Plumptre's version beside these without rising from the task impressed with the uniform high level which he maintains, and with the care, skill, acuteness, and genius which save him from inferiority to any of the translators before named."—Contemporary Review.

——— The Tragedies of Sophocles. A New Translation, with a Biographical Essay, and an Appendix of Rhymed Choral Odes and Lyrical Dialogues. By E. H. Plumptre, D.D. 12mo, 434 pages. Cloth, . . . 1 50

CONTENTS: Table of Greek Proper Names Differing from those in Common Use—Chronological Table to Illustrate the Life of Sophocles—Life and Writings of Sophocles—Œdipus the King—Œdipus at Colonos—Antigone—Electra—The Maidens of Trachis—Aias—Philoctetes—Fragments—Appendix of Rhymed Choral Odes and Lyrical Dialogues.

"Let us say at once that Professor Plumptre has not only surpassed the previous translators of Sophocles, but has produced a work of singular merit, not less remarkable for its felicity than its fidelity; a really readable and enjoyable version of the old plays."—Pall Mall Gazette.

STAUFFER, FRANK H. The Queer, The Quaint, and The Quizzical. A Cabinet for the Curious. Crown octavo, cloth, gilt top, with full index, $1 25

"Never did a title to a book express its contents with more fidelity than the above, for the book itself contains a little of everything that is odd, queer, quaint, and curious. As a work of reference or a volume to be picked up at leisure moments, nothing could be better. How and where the author ever found these items and short bits of information is a puzzle to the uninitiated. A good index facilitates the finding of what one wants to know."—Chicago Evening Journal.

VEDRA, YARMO. Heliocentric Astrology; or, Essentials of Astronomy and Solar Mentality, with Tables of Ephemeris to 1910. With Sixty-four Illustrations, Thirty-five of which are Original Drawings by Holmes W. Merton, Author of "Descriptive Mentality."
Octavo, cloth, gilt top, ... 1 50

"It is not the work of a dreamer or a fanatic, but rather a presentation of truths that were more familiar to the ancients than to the scientists of our day. It is destined to become a classic among this sort of literature, for it merits the candid examination of every educated mind."—Faith and Hope Messenger.

"If the reader is curious to know the influences the stars are said by some to have had upon his life, he is recommended to read 'Heliocentric Astrology; or, Essentials of Astronomy and Solar Mentality, with Tables of Ephemeris to 1910.' By Yarmo Vedra."—Globe Democrat, St. Louis.

"A fascinating book is that written by Yarmo Vedra entitled 'Heliocentric Astrology.' However much the reading of destiny in the stars may be pooh-poohed by science, there is a subtle charm in the weird horoscopes figured out of planetary conjunctions, zodiacal birth signs, etc., and Mr. Vedra has made an entertaining contribution to the subject."—The Call, Philadelphia.

VIRGIL. The Complete Works of. Translated into English prose, with an essay on the English translators of Virgil by John Connington, late Corpus Professor of Latin in the University of Oxford. WHITMAN, WALT. Leaves of Grass. Variorum edition. Each poem has been compared with previous editions and all changes in the readings given in foot-notes. Together with a department of "Gathered Leaves," being a collection of poems discarded from the earlier editions. An autobiography in facsimile, and four portraits. 1 vol., crown 8vo, cloth, gilt top, uncut edges, ... 1 25

"It aims to give the growing as well as the grown Whitman. The accepted readings are given in the text. Each poem has been carefully compared with that appearing in all previous editions, and the changes have been inserted in foot-notes. The lines have been numbered, by which means the reader can readily compare the various readings and mark their transformations. Under the head of 'Gathered Leaves' I have collected such poems as have been dropped by the way, some of which appeared in only one, and others in several editions. I was frequently called upon to give information concerning poems whose headings had been changed. These have been noted, and in the alphabetical list at the end of the volume all such titles appear, with reference to the present title."—Preface.

"The book is finely gotten up and would have pleased Walt himself."—John Burroughs.

"The appearance of this book is not merely an incident, it is an event. It means that at last the study of the most striking and original contribution to American literature has been simplified. And here is the gray poet's best monument."—New York Sun.

"A volume to treasure is 'Leaves of Grass' as now issued by David McKay."—Book Lover, San Francisco.

"The edition at hand is definitive and must supersede all others, both in its completeness and in its historical data."—Public Ledger, Philadelphia.

"Lovers of Walt Whitman cannot fail to be delighted with this beautiful edition."—The Arena, New York.

"Not only all the admirers of Walt Whitman, but all lovers of good bookwork will thank Mr. McKay for his service to literature."—The World, New York.

"It has a special value to the student of Whitman in its complete registration of various readings."—Book News, Philadelphia.

"The steps which he took to get his final expression are made clear. All the readings that he struck forth are given. Mr. McKay has shown great industry in doing this work minutely."—Saturday Review, New York Times.

"The very best edition that has ever appeared."—Book World, New York.

"A very excellent edition."—Evening Post, Chicago.

"This is a workman-like variorum edition."—New York Tribune.

"The whole work is full of satisfaction for lovers of 'the good gray poet.'"—The American, Nashville, Tenn.

"An exceptionally fine edition."—The Pittsburg Times.

"Those who want a thoroughly correct edition of this remarkable production will find it here."—The Commercial, Buffalo, N. Y.

PART TENTH.—Internal Combustion Engines.—General principles, coal gas, natural gas, producer gas, blast furnace gas, gasoline, Stationary Gasoline Engines.

PART ELEVENTH.—How to run a Gas or Gasoline Engine.

PART TWELFTH.—Description of Gasoline Traction Engines.

PART THIRTEENTH.—The Threshing Machine.—Complete description of the machine and all its parts.

PART FOURTEENTH.—How to run a Threshing Rig.

"The book is full of practical points and suggestions, put in very simple language and very effective manner. It should be in the hands of every man who runs a traction engine."—National Stockman and Farmer, Pittsburg, Buffalo, and Chicago.

"Judging the number of casualties reported from this class of engines, and the notorious abuse which they receive at the hands of their owners and operators, the desirability of such a book of instructions need not be argued. . . . . The author has performed his task well."—The American Miller, Chicago.

"We believe that it is just such a book as ought to be in the hands of every farmer and creamery operator in the Northwest."—P. V. Collins, Manager of The Northwest Agriculturist, Minneapolis.

"It is fully illustrated and written in plain language, such as may be easily comprehended by the unscientific reader."—The New York Farmer.

ROPER'S PRACTICAL HANDY-BOOKS

for Engineers, Electricians, and Firemen.

NEW ENGINEER'S HANDY-BOOK.

For Steam Engineers and Electricians. Just Published. Containing Facts, Formulæ, Tables, and Questions on Power, its Generation, Transmission, and Measurement; Heat, Fuel, and Steam; The Steam-Boiler and Accessories; Steam-Engines and their Parts; The Steam-Engine Indicator; Gas and Gasoline Engines; Materials, their Properties and Strength; together with a Discussion of the Fundamental Experiments in Electricity, and an Explanation of Dynamos, Motors, Batteries, Switchboards, Telephones, Bells, Annunciators, Alarms, etc., and also Rules for Calculating Sizes of Wires. By Stephen Roper, Engineer. Fifteenth Edition, Revised and greatly Enlarged by Edwin R. Keller, M.E., and Clayton W. Pike, B.S., Ex-President of the Electrical Section of the Franklin Institute, ... $3 50

Full leather, gilt edges, pocket-book style. The most comprehensive and best illustrated book ever published. It contains nearly 900 pages, 325 Illustrations, over 700 Main Subjects, 222 Tables and 645 Questions most likely to be asked when under examination before being licensed as an engineer.

In the section on "Electricity" the fundamental experiments on which electrical apparatus depends have been described, and the methods of measuring the common electrical quantities given. The principles of the dynamo and battery, and the methods of electrical distribution, as well as the apparatus in which electrical energy is used, have all been treated in a manner particularly suited to the needs of the working stationary engineer.

——— New Catechism for Steam Engineers and Electricians. Upon the Construction and Management of Steam Engines, Steam Boilers, and Electrical Apparatus. By Stephen Roper, Engineer. Twenty-first edition, rewritten and greatly enlarged by Edwin R. Keller, M.E., and Clayton W. Pike, B.S., Ex-President of the Electrical Section of the Franklin Institute. While it is particularly intended to accompany "Roper's Engineer's Handy-Book," yet it contains considerable matter that is not found therein. The Catechism is particularly adapted to the needs of engineers preparing to pass examinations for license. Full leather, gilt edges, pocket-book style, fully illustrated. It contains nearly 400 pages, 500 Main Subjects, over 1100 Questions and Answers, and is carefully indexed, ... 2 00

GOOD, ARTHUR. Magical Experiments, or Science in Play. Illustrated and Explained. A Book for Young and Old. By Arthur Good. A Series of 200 Amusing, Popular, Scientific Experiments Meant for the Recreation of Old and Young. 165 Fine Illustrations.

Square 12mo, gilt back and side, ... 1 25

Many of these are simple pastimes, others possess a really scientific character, while the whole of these experiments may be performed without any special apparatus whatever. To give an idea of the endless variety of the work, we quote a few problems: A Rolling Body Goes Uphill, Foucault's Pendulum, The Egg in Salt Water, How to Make a Banana Peel Itself, Wine Changed to Water, The Plate on the Point of a Needle, How to Pierce a Nickel with a Needle, The Revolving Siphon, The Miniature Steamship, The Bottle Cannon, The Waltzing Egg, The Water Pendulum, In Water but not Wet, The Magic Ball, etc., etc. This entertaining book, written in language that every one can understand, gives the best answer to the so often repeated question, "What shall we do to-night?"

HOFFMANN, PROF. Modern Magic. A Practical Treatise on the Art of Conjuring. By Professor Hoffmann. With 318 Illustrations; 563 pages. With an Appendix containing explanations of many of the best known specialties of Maskelyne and Cooke. A handsome and substantial book, containing 300 tricks. Large 12mo, bound in cloth, . 1 50

Is a treatise, and a very practical one, on the art of conjuring, in its various and bewildering departments, some of which require special apparatus, most of which require that dexterity known as sleight-of-hand. There are, for example, card tricks which can be played with ordinary cards and without sleight-of-hand, and others again which demand special apparatus. There are coin tricks, tricks with watches, rings, handkerchiefs, dominos, dice, etc.

The tricks are clearly and comprehensively explained by diagrams and illustrations when necessary. This book will afford an inexhaustible fund of amusement in a family where the young people are fond of games and are quick in acquiring these things. The explanations are given most comprehensively, and cover an immense field; besides, the book is filled with illustrations demonstrating the easiest way to accomplish these feats of legerdemain, magic, etc.

There is a vast difference between telling how a trick is done and teaching how to do it. This is the only book that teaches how to do it.

——— More Magic. Uniform with "Modern Magic." 470 pages; 140 Illustrations. 12mo, cloth, ... $1 50

CONTENTS: The Magician's Wand—The Magician's Table and Dress—Principles of Sleight of Hand applicable to Card Tricks—Card Tricks with ordinary Cards, and not requiring Sleight of Hand—Tricks involving Sleight of Hand or the use of specially prepared Cards—The "Charlier" System of Card Marking, and tricks performed by its aid—Card Tricks requiring Special Apparatus—Methods of Sleight of Hand applicable to Coin Tricks—Coin Tricks with and without Apparatus—Tricks with Watches and Rings—Handkerchief—Feats of Divination—Ball Tricks—Tricks with Hats—Eggs—Miscellaneous Tricks—Stage Tricks.

MORE MAGIC is intended as a supplement to the Author's treatise on "MODERN MAGIC," bringing the art of conjuring up to a later date, improving old methods and devising new ones.

SMITH, HELEN AINSLIE. One Hundred Famous Americans. New Revised "Hall of Fame" Edition. By Helen Ainslie Smith, author of "Great Cities of the Modern World," "Great Cities of the Ancient World," "Animals Wild and Tame," etc., etc. Illustrated with portraits and other illustrations. 574 pages, size 6⅞ x 8⅞ inches, bound in cloth, with a very appropriate cover stamped in gold and colors, ... $1 75

It is a series of interesting biographical sketches of the lives and attainments of distinguished Americans. The portraits and other illustrations are authentic.

"'One Hundred Famous Americans' is a century of short biographies of as many noted men and women who have distinguished themselves and reflected honor upon their native land in the different arts of peace and war. It is a useful book for reference, and is largely illustrated."—N. Y. Mail and Express.

"May be regarded as a sort of condensed biographical dictionary for the use of juvenile readers, although the style less dry and formal than belongs to a work of that class. The author writes with intelligence and impartiality."—N. Y. Sun.

"As a collection of personal data the book is exceedingly useful. It is full of encouragement for the young, in showing them what great things can be done by hard, well-directed work."—N. Y. Evening Post.

"Is, in itself, a library of biography for young people. Its list of titles includes the names of many eminent Americans, both living and dead, who have gained fame, and whose lives are the best of lessons and examples. The compiler has written the brief sketches concisely, yet in a readable style."—New York Independent.

"Happy the boy into whose life this admirable array of great men and women, with all the illustrations, portraits, and designs enters. The selection of characters, and the characteristics of each, are as noticeable as the attractive way in which the facts are put."—Journal of Education, Boston.

WOOD, REV. J. G., M.A. New Illustrated Natural History. With many Hundred Illustrations from Designs by Wolf, Zwecker, Weir, Coleman, Harvey, and other Artists, engraved by the Brothers Dalziel. Stamped in Gold and Colors. Large 8vo, cloth, $2 50

Wood's "Natural History," with its charming descriptions and delightful anecdotes of all animals, both domestic and wild, is the greatest authority in the land. It gives minutely, and in the simplest language, the habits, haunts, diseases, and peculiarities of the entire animal kingdom. The descriptions of the animals are truthful and interesting. Their portraits, as shown in the hundreds of illustrations, are accurately drawn, and make us realize the variety and beauty of earth's creatures. The life and habits of animals, reptiles, birds, etc., are of equal interest to old and young. Rev. J. G. Wood is the recognized authority upon the subject, and possesses the rare faculty of making his descriptions and anecdotes of animal life more fascinating than a novel. No library is complete without it. It is impossible to give in this announcement more than a slight idea of the magnitude of this great history, with its accurate descriptions. It virtually goes into the haunts of all animals, and shows them as they live. It is the recognized authority all over the world.

WOOD, REV. J. G., M.A. Popular Natural History. With 600 Illustrations by Wolf, Harrison Weir, and others. Handsomely bound, stamped in gold and Colors. Crown 8vo, cloth, ... 1 50

No science exerts a greater influence in broadening and elevating the mind than that which treats of the nature, structure, and habits of the lower animals. This volume is made more interesting than most works on natural history for young readers because of its simple, graphic language, its accurate classification, and the number of anecdotes, nearly all of them new, which illustrate the ferocity or docility, the instinct and traits, of the humbler inhabitants of the earth. It is a condensation of his larger work, and has been prepared especially for the instruction and entertaining of the young.
